MAID OF ATHENS.

Maid of Athens, we must part,
I hear your father—I must start;
He's broken of his midnight rest;
Discretion on my part is best;
I'd better flit.

Maid of Athens, ere I go,
Kiss me once, for luck, you know;
Your father's foot is on the stair—
None but the brave deserves the fair—
The gas ain't lit.

Maid of Athens, just once more—
Little ships must hug the shore;
Hark! the dog has broken his chain,
Zounds! I am in hard luck again—
Great Scott! I'm bit.

"Chicago Tribune."

A Philadelphia Judge was recently obliged to pass judgment on a row that had grown out of a cheap dance. He made some sound and sensible remarks about this class of amusements that should sink into the hearts of parents. He said: "These so-called balls are a pest to society. They are fruitful of the most degrading vice, and their influence is all the more to be feared because of its insidiousness. Young girls who would shrink from an open and flagrant source of iniquity are induced to visit these dangerous gatherings by representations that they are for harmless pleasure. They are given first, perhaps, some mild and harmless beverage, and then cajoled into drinking intoxicants. After this their ruin is almost certain. It would be a good thing for society if such forms of amusement could be extirpated." No truer words were ever uttered.—"Denver Republican."

ABSCONDED.—Nate Clark, employed in the store of the late P. F. McManus, at Plevna, in Oregon, near the California line, on Klamath river, and who was appointed Administrator after the death of McManus, absconded lately with about $1,500, which his bondsmen will be obliged to pay over to Mrs. McManus. According to the law Mrs. McManus could not act as Administratrix in Oregon, not being a resident of that State, although she acted in that capacity in this State for the settlement of her late husband's business here. Mrs. McManus has been over at Linkville for some days past, to see what she could do in securing Clark or the money, and found that Clark was out of reach of the officers, and that her only resource was to make the bondsmen settle for Clark's defalcation as Administrator. "Yreka Journal."

"Talking about mean men," said a patrolman at Broadway and Franklin street "I went to arrest a Jew the other day and I found him cutting his own hair. You can say what you like, but he took the chromo for meanness." "Oh, no," replied a Hebrew merchant, winking at the bystanders. "I can discount your story. I went to a Baptist Church last Sunday out of curiosity. They passed a basket for collection. I put in ten cents. The man next to me had the nerve to open his coat and show his shield. He was a police officer in citizen's clothes. He'll get the chromo, never fear."—"N. Y. Sun."

The great New York and Brooklyn bridge does not promise to be a paying enterprise in the near future. The receipts for the first seven days after the opening were $10,000, but they have been declining ever since. The average for the 27 days after the opening is $850. The cost of operating and maintaining the structure and paying the interest on the bridge bonds is $800,000 a year, or over $2,000 a day. As a convenient highway between the two cities, it is of great value; but as an investment it is far from being a success.

A remarkable thief has been caught in Chicago. He is young, handsome, well educated, very gentlemanly, and wonderfully audacious. He lived several months at the larger hotels, dressed in such an extreme of the fashion as to attract attention, and paid his bills promptly; and all the money was obtained by sneak thieving in the rooms of fellow guests. In one instance he took a bag containing negotiable bonds worth $3,600. When caught at last by a watchman, he drew a pistol and attempted to escape by murder.

A man made a wager with a lady that he could thread a needle quicker than she could sharpen a lead pencil. The man won; time, 14 minutes and 40 seconds. It is thought the result would have been different if the woman had not run out of lead pencil inside of five minutes.

Chief Moses has agreed to quit his reservation and go to the Colville. The government gives him an annual pension of $1,000 and other considerations will be liberally provided for with farming implements and cattle.

Nothing so helps a newspaper as the imparting useful information. "How shall I keep ants out of the sugar bowl" asks a correspondent. Fill the sugar bowl with salt.

MIDDLE AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito urinary organs.
