THE BAD BOY.

"Why don't you take an ice pick and clean the dirt out from under your finger nails, said the groceryman to the bad boy, as he came into the store and stroked the cat the wrong way, as she lay in the sun on the counter, on a quire of manilla paper. "Can't remove the dirt for thirty days. It is an emblem of mourning. Had a funeral at our house vesterday," and the boy took a pickle out of a tub and put it in the cat's mouth and shut her teeth together on it, and then went to the showcase, while the grocery man, whose back had been turned during the pickle exercise, thought by the way the cat jumped into the dried apple barrel and began to paw and him, and tell him he ought to be cratch with all fore feet, and youl that she was going to have a fit.

"I hadn't heard about it," said the grocery man as he took the cat and tossed her out into the back yard into an old oyster box full of shavings, with a parting injunction that if she was going to have a fit, she had better go where there is plenty of fresh air. "Death is always a sail thing to con emplate. SEED FOR LIBEL.

Papers were served yesterday on the defendants in the damage suit of C. A. F. Morris, against W. R. Struble, C. B. Carlisle, J. F. McIntosh and Sol Abraham, in which he claims $25,000 damages for an alleged libel published in the "Polaris" April 22, 1883. Morris in the chief engineer of the construction of the Oregon and Caliextension construction, and the article complained of intimated that there had been swindling going on, to which Morris was a party. The article created a great stir in railroad circles. because of Morris' connections, it being asserted that he was placed in the position by the influence of bond holders of the road and kept there. That when the publication was made. Morris was directed by Manager Koehler of the road to have the matter cleared up. Morris then went himself or sent to "the "Polaris" office, to have the article retraced but no retraction was made. On the contrary the charges were substantially reasserted. The matter was referred to the grand jury, but that body refused to find an indictment for criminal libel. The next step was taken last Thursday, when Morris filed a suit for damages and the papers were served on some of the parties yesterday. Mr. Morris evilently made a mistake making C. B. Carlisle a defendant, as that gentelman was only a writer on the paper at that time on a salary, and had no interest

GIVE THE BABY A DRINK OF WA-TER -A New York physician attributes a large part of the excessive mortality of children in hot weather to he failure of nurses and mothers to give them water. Indeed, more chil-Iren are said to die (directly and inlirectly) from privation of water than from any other cause. Infants, he says are always too much wrapped up, and in many cases would perspire very freely. The water lost by perspiration must be supplied. As Dr. Murdoch stated in his paper on cholera infantum. The child is thirsty, not hungry; but not getting the water, which it does want, it drinks the milk, which it does not want." The consequence is that the stomach is overloaded with food that it cannot digest, and which soon ferments and becomes a source of evere irritation. Then follow vomiting, purging and cholera infantum. To prevent this the principal sconge of infancy, the doctor says: "Have water, without ice, always accessible to the child, who will then refuse sour mile and will eat only when bunger. We ter is the greatest indispensable article for the preventive treatment of children in hot weather. It is important enough to nursing children, but it is

In a party in St. Joseph, Missouri, where a young man "noted for his brilliant conversational powers," and a beautiful girl "from one of the upper counties;" and in the course of a struggle for the possession of a trinket the girl sank her ivory teeth into the fleshy part of the young man's arm." He politely concealed his pain until he returned home, when, on removing his garments, blood was found trickling from the wound. Next morning the lacerated arm was swollen to twice its natural size, and he was laid up for several days.
