

OREGON SENTINEL.

JACKSONVILLE
SATURDAY, JULY 28, 1883.

SELLING OUT.—Those desiring any thing in the line of merchandise will do well by calling on Barruch Fisher before going elsewhere as he is closing out his stock at cost. A trial will convince you all.

RACE.—The 300 yard match race for $400 a side came off at Cardwell's track last Saturday as advertised. The entries were: "Jim Lick," by Harry Stover, and the Barron mare, by Crit Tolman. The race was won by the latter. Very little money changed hands on the result.

RELIGIOUS.—Rev. B. J. Sharp preaches at the Antioch school house tomorrow morning. Rev. M. A. Williams preaches at the Presbyterian church in this place next Sunday, morning and evening. There will be a basket meeting at the grove near Orange store on Applegate next Sunday. Elder M. Peterson and others will be in attendance.

FARMERS ATTENTION.—G. Karewski is now prepared to take contracts for cutting grain with his improved machinery in any parts of the county. He has already done some work for Wm. Bybee, Jas. A. Cardwell, Nick Ficks, W. Mitchell and Col. Maury and refers to them as to the manner in which it was done. He claims that he can cut grain lower than can be reached with any header and stands ready to prove it to all who doubt.

PICTURE OF JACKSONVILLE.—Fred A. Walpole, an artist now in town, has just completed a map of this place showing the streets as well as the different business houses and residences in the town. He proposes having the same lithographed and sell copies to those who wish to purchase at $5 each. We have seen the original draft and pronounce it fine and correct. Give him an order and ornament your parlor with one of the copies.

ANOTHER TRAGEDY.—By telegraph we learn of a shooting affray that took place on the Umpqua river on Thursday last between Bill Eddings and old man Thomas in which the latter was shot through the breast twice, which will probably result fatally as the latter was reported dying at last accounts. The trouble originated over some old feud that has existed between the parties for some time past. Eddings was arrested and is now in jail at Roseburg.

RETURNED.—The party that went to McAlester's soda springs for a mountain trip returned this week. They report having caught plenty of fish but got no game. The party was composed of the following: Mrs. J. A. Cardwell, Mrs. I. W. Berry, Mrs. C. D. Cardwell, Robert Kahler and wife, W. L. Bigler, J. P. Avery, Will Cardwell, and the Misses Sallie, Della, Ross and Lollie Cardwell. They report a fine time and were absent about 18 days.

GOOD HUNT.—Last week Carlos Goddard and Conrad Mings, while on their way to the ranch of the former at Florence Rock, took in a panther, a fine buck and a skunk all within two hours. The panther was treed by Goddard's dog and was shot three times before coming down. It was a male measuring ten feet from tip to tip which is an unusual size but was too badly hurt by the first shot to show much fight. The last named animal was not examined very closely but left with its pelt in the woods.

WHISKY PICKLES.—Granville Sears gives us the following recipe for making the best pickles and says it is infallible as it is simple. After washing the cucumbers in cold water take one and a half gallons of proof spirits to a ten gallon keg, mix with water sufficient to cover the cucumbers after having added about a half bottle of cayenne pepper. Cover closely and put in a moderately cool place. Watch the top layer and if there is any disposition to become slimy add a little more whisky. Mr. Sears says that in six weeks the pickles will be perfectly cured and will be hard and crisp.

SUDDEN DEATH.—This community was startled last Monday morning by the announcement of the death of Mrs. Colwell, as hardly any one knew that she was ill until the notices for her funeral were distributed throughout the town. Mrs. Colwell was the wife of Michael Colwell, having been married something over fourteen years ago. She was a native of Parish Drug, County Cavan, Ireland, and was about 47 years of age at the time of her death. Mrs. Colwell was a lady highly esteemed by all who knew her and we extend our sympathies to the bereaved husband who survives her.

THE SENATORIAL PARTY.—Senator Dolph who was accompanied by Representative George and Governor Moody made a hurried trip to Ashland with Mr. Beekman on Saturday, returning here in the evening. Mr. George had been here several times but this was the first visit of the Governor and Senator who both expressed surprise at the evident thrift and culture of this section and were greatly pleased with their hospitable treatment while here. On Saturday evening they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Beekman and early Sunday morning they took their departure for home not having time to visit Josephine county. Those who had the pleasure of meeting all these gentlemen found them as plain and unassuming as possible and could not help acknowledging that Oregon was well and worthily represented in them.

If you want a Sewing Machine call at E. C. Brooks' drug, watch, clock, and jewelry store. His machines are a little finer and his prices a little snugger, than any other bugger's.

The State school fund apportionment just made gives to Jackson county the sum of $2,314.23 and Josephine county gets $511.80. The former has 3,306 school children and the latter 874.

The Commercial travelers passing through here have found out that W. J. Plymale keeps first class turn outs and charges reasonable prices, and they are giving him a good support.

A fine lot of fat young cattle were received this week by John Orth. He has also got a new butcher and new butcher wagon and proposes being prepared for any orders that may come in.

A rusticiating party composed of Judge E. B. Watson and family, Mrs. K. Kubli and family and J. P. McDaniel started for Cinnabar this week expecting to be absent about one month.

A large force of Chinamen was expected at the Centennial Bridge on Rogue River yesterday to commence work getting things ready for the building of the bridge across that stream.

The cows about town seem to have much difficulty in procuring water and many have to be watered from wells. The drought and heat are getting irksome but it is only six months till winter.

Some young people look over serious as their wedding day approaches, evidently wondering if the golden collar of the benedict will always set lightly and—that's what's the matter with Hanna.

F. T. Merrill, of Portland, has tendered the striking telegraphers a share of the gate money at the sporting carnival in that city to end this evening at the Pavilion. That is substantial sympathy.

"Penguins Mike" a fine stallion, formerly owned by J. A. Cardwell of this place, died last week in Shasta valley from bursting of a blood vessel.

Miss Lee Toy was arrested this week charged with keeping a hawdy house and being found guilty was fined $25 and costs by Recorder Huffler. Failing to liquidate she now languishes in jail at the city's expense.

L. Mort Slocum, the live agent of Ainsley Scott's Jubilee Singers was in this week billing the town. This is a different troupe from the one that visited us some time since and is highly spoken of by the press.

Numerous cases of diphtheria are reported in Josephine county, some of the patients being quite low. Jacksonville has escaped this dreaded disease so far but we should be prepared as it will likely reach us yet.

Ed. Caton is taking a short vacation from his duties as hostler at the O. & C. Stage Co's, stable and his place is temporarily filled by Wm. Worlow, who has given up the project of opening a saloon at Eagle Point for a time.

Notwithstanding the dry season there appears to be an ample supply of wheat in this valley. Millers decline to offer more than eighty five cents per bushel, feeling confident that they can buy all they want at that figure.

L. Samuel and J. F. Whiting, of the "West Shore," started northward yesterday after a week's stay in the valley. They made sketches of some of our prominent buildings while here, that will appear in some future issue of that journal.

A rumor is afloat that the striking telegraph operators on this coast propose building a line from San Francisco to Portland. That would indicate that they had become blotted bondholders while in the employ of the Western Union.

The "Tidings" is unhappy because the "Times" has its grammar mixed and makes a skunk "go off and set fire to Chris Ulrich's curtains."

If the "Tidings" man had been behind the curtains he would have felt as if he was included in the conflagration.

W. J. Plymale's clothes line was robbed of about $75 worth of linen and underclothing one night this week and no trace of the thief or goods have yet been found. Certain parties are suspected, however, and it will be wise on their part if they keep the property hid for a while.

A number of the substantial farmers in the centre of the valley will fight the railroad company for the right of way asked, and the company has entered suit against them, to be tried at the special term of court next month. Some of them have already got more railroad than they want.

Harry Stover, the owner of the race horse, "Jim Lick," left for more congenial climes last Saturday immediately after the race. Several of his creditors here sent the Sheriff after him, and after settling the bills and costs with the Deputy Sheriff at Ashland he was allowed to go on his way rejoicing.

Some irresponsible party in Ashland is trying to pry Mr. Hammond out of his position in the Postoffice in that town, so far, without success. Charges of some nature have been sent to Washington but they will not be endorsed by a large majority of the Ashland people who find Mr. Hammond a very attentive and acceptable officer. This is what constitutes the spice of American politics; whenever a man gets in there are always a few who would like to get him out and in this case we hope they won't succeed.

The Yreka "Journal" urges better quarters for the sick and destitute of that county. The same idea has been a hobby of the SENTINEL in the hope that the authorities would provide a suitable building with a piece of land attached for the unfortunate people thrown on the charity of this county.

It is said that a party of men are to be put to work on the pits for the R. R. bridge to be built across Rogue river and also on the heavy rock work round Gold Hill. That point in the valley will, doubtless, soon be a scene of activity as it is the intention to have the iron laid on this side of the river before Fall.

New goods at reduced prices at the cash store of S. S. Aiken & Co. They keep everything usually to be found in a general merchandise store, and their method of giving the best goods at low prices, and making exact change seems to have become popular here at last. Their new advertisement will be found in another column.

We don't want any more races—at least none like those that have been held here of late. Those engaged in the business ought to be far sighted enough to know that they will not last always at this game, and, in our opinion, the winnings they make are so small that they don't justify the course pursued by the parties interested.

Hon. Frank A. Stewart's oldest son, Frank, aged 9 years, was accidentally killed at his father's place at Gregg's Creek, Curry county, on the 10th inst. Some Chinamen were digging a ditch for Stewart and had partially undermined a large log. The boy was in the ditch, throwing out sand, when the log rolled in, caught and instantly crushed him to death.—"Coast Mail."

The Rev. F. X. Blanchet Catholic Priest of this parish is certainly an industrious missionary. He has just returned from a long trip through the sage brush of Klamath and Lake counties having traveled seventeen hundred miles since the sixth day of June. He looks travel worn but is as joyous and pleasant as ever and his flock are always glad to see him back again.

The bricklayers are now working on the second story of the Court House and it will not be long before that part of the work is finished. A single roof is provided for in the contract but an effort is being made to change it to tin. It looks to us that a tin roof should be put on a building costing as much as this does, which would make it much safer in case of fire. The extra expense is only about $500 more.

Our old-time friend J. C. McCully, wagonmaster on the southern extension of the O. & C. R. R., returned home this week after an absence of over eighteen months, having been summoned here by telegraph to visit his mother, who has been quite sick, but is now improving. Jim looks as if his work agreed with him and says he proposes staying with it till he brings the railroad with him through this valley.

Andrew Kyle, of the U. S. Signal Service, will be placed in charge of the Ashland military telegraph office, and is now on the way hither from Montana, we understand. This is the main office of the military line terminating here, and is to be a signal service station. Just how soon the taking of the weather observations for the office will be commenced we do not know, but it will be within a short time.—"Tidings."

The telegraph strike still continues and there is yet no sign of weakening on either side. The places of the strikers have been filled by other men and the work goes on as usual, with good prospects of the boys getting left out in the cold. The new men are not as experienced as the old operators and cannot handle near as much business as the latter, and there is no telling what may happen yet should the strikers hold out as a body.

G. W. Price, father-in-law of our fellow-townsmen, J. M. Payne, arrived here last week from Illinois on a visit to his daughter. Mr. Price is one of the substantial farmers of his native State and loves to tell of his resources in that line, but after examination he concluded that we had the next best valley in the world. He started for Puget Sound this week to visit other relatives but will return here before going back East.

The following rule for estimating the amount of hay in a stack will be found approximately correct: In stack timothy, after ten days or two weeks' cutting 600 cubic feet to the ton; clover, 700, and prairie hay 550 feet. After thorough setting about 500 cubic feet of timothy, 550 of clover, and 450 of prairie hay. To get the cubic dimensions of a stack, multiply the average length, breadth and height together.

The fish in Rogue river are very irregular in their habits. Gen. Reames and his son Evan tried their hand on Sunday and returned with a nice lot of beautiful trout, some of them weighing five pounds. Later in the week a party composed of Mr. Mason of Indiana, Messrs. Merritt, McCully and Reames tried it again with poor success. Perhaps Sunday is the regular feeding day but—don't stay away from church because we make the suggestion.

Every time we pass down the street, we cannot help noticing certain business men standing before their doors. They are always there, and one day we came to the conclusion that they certainly could not be men, but merely stands to advertise clothing, and so we started to turn one of them around to look at the price mark. We want to simply say that those men who advertise never stand before their shops and gawk at the passer by. They are too busy.

STAGE ROBBED AND THE ROBBER CAUGHT.—The south bound stage from Jendrale was robbed two miles north of Wolf Creek last Wednesday morning about 1 o'clock, the robber securing Wells Fargo & Co's treasure box and the U. S. mail. From Mr. Walter Jackson, who was on board with five other passengers, we learn that the work was all done by one man who was stationed behind a tree and on the approach of the stage commanded the driver to halt. The command, backed by a double barreled shot gun that looked bigger than a howitzer, was obeyed and was followed by a summons to throw out mail and express box and a warning to passengers to mind their business on condition that they would not be interfered with. Jack Bartel the driver threw out the sacks and box, all the while covered by the robbers weapon and then drove rapidly to the next station to report. Mr. Jackson says the fellow's voice showed excitement and the greatest fear was that his gun might go off accidentally. It is certain that he was not an old hand as he did not molest the registered letter sack but cut nearly all the others to pieces. The express box was broken open and robbed but the mail was brought here next day in good condition. It is wondered why the passengers don't show fight but Mr. Jackson says it takes all the fight out of a man to have a shot gun stuck under his nose by a fellow with a gunny sack over his head so you can't tell whether its fun or earnest. After the robbery the fellow took the road to Jendrale and was easily tracked in the dusty road by Sheriff Hogan, of Douglas county, who succeeded in stopping and catching him near Riddleburg, on Thursday. About $1,700 was found on him and he can now bewail the sad fate that prevented him from being a capitalist longer than twenty four short hours.

THE JUBILEE MINSTRELS.—We clip the following from the Santa Cruz "Surf" of June 23rd, in regard to the minstrels who appear here next Monday and Tuesday evenings: It has been reserved to M. Ainsley Scott to inaugurate a "new departure" in minstrelsy, and to judge from the manner in which his company is received it is one destined to meet with the popular approval. Without reference to the composition or skill of the troupe the programme is a novelty in minstrelsy. The audience was drawn into an attitude of attention by the invisible chorus of melodious voices, to be greeted when the curtain arose by a company of singers in full dress. This was a marked contrast from the onslaught of "bones and tamborine" that usually strikes the ear at the opening of a minstrel entertainment. Through out the programme there was a general "toning down" of the vagaries and eccentricities of the ordinary minstrel, which results in a commendable "toning up" of the character of the entertainment. Mr. Scott has evidently aimed at preserving the hilarity of the minstrel and combining with it the popular features of the concert, and in this company supplementing these with the quaint features and pure melody of negro music. His success is certainly flattering. Part I. of the performance last evening could not well be excelled in the variety and perfection of its parts. There was nothing irresistibly funny, yet not a number which failed to be pleasing, and the witticisms excited merriment and not emotions of veneration for their antiquity.

COMING.—Mrs. Langtry outtraveled at last by Col. John L. Burns, the famous commercial traveler. "Freddy" can't hold a candle to him in style of dress or general appearance. In fact Col. Burns is about the most perfect type of manly beauty in the U. S. A. It is surmised that when Langtry comes to California, she will discard "Freddy" and that Col. Burns will capture the lady. The Col. has more than one advantage over "Freddy" in the fact that he is said to be worth $2,000,000 and has finer horses than "Freddy," and is also one of the smartest and best business men probably in the whole country. It is said that he is already engaged to an heiress, and his business ability with general fine and gentlemanly bearing wins for him the best wishes of everybody. The Col. is now representing the firm of Lachman & Jacobs, of San Francisco, the largest wine and liquor importing and exporting house in the U. S. of A. He will arrive in Jacksonville about Aug. 1st.

REAL ESTATE.—Transactions recorded since our last report:
B. C. Goddard, sr., to B. C. Goddard, jr., his share in property in Florence Rock precinct. Consideration, $550.
B. C. Goddard, jr., to J. B. Wrisley and C. Mings, whole of his property in Florence Rock precinct. Consideration, $1,500.

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.

Another of those terrible accidents; that are entirely too frequent, occurred last Sunday in the Dead Indian county and resulted in the instant death of a sheep herder employed by John Murphy. It seems that George Dunn, son of Patrick Dunn, who resides south of Ashland, was out hunting with another young man on the range where the Wells sheep were herded. At a long distance the boys perceived what they took to be a bear and cub lying in the grass, and creeping up to a distance of about seventy-five yards the objects still bore that resemblance and, knowing that those animals frequent sheep ranges, George took steady aim and fired too truly; for the mark was a human being with his faithful shepherd dog beside him and the bullet went straight to it. Instantly the horror stricken boys discovered the error and when they reached the poor fellow he was past all help. It seems needless to read lessons of carelessness for the frequency of similar occurrences ought to be a sufficient warning to everyone, but it is that; in the excitement of the chase they are forgotten. Young Mr. Dunn is one of the noble boys of this valley and is overwhelmed with grief at the fearful result of an error that he, at least, will never forget. There is something strange and almost unaccountable about such accidents—their almost certain fatality. A hunter may miss a deer in the undergrowth a half dozen times but; if a human being be mistaken for one the shot is always deadly. We regret to chronicle this sad event that must weigh heavily on those who were the innocent cause of the taking of life and hope never to have to do it again. The unfortunate victim was a single man aged about 50 and had been in Mr. Murphy's employ for several years. A coroner's jury completely exonerated George Dunn.

R. D. Hume owner of the steamer Mary D. Hume informs us that hereafter the price charged for passage either from Smith River or Crescent City to San Francisco will be $10 in the cabin and $6 in the steerage. This makes the expense of a trip to the city cheap in comparison with what it was a few years ago, when passage was from $15 to $20, and a little further back $20 and $25. J. G. Wall also informs us that when the new wharf is completed fare will be reduced on the Crescent City if not before—"Record."

RIGHT OF WAY.—The following parties have sold their right of way to the railroad company for the considerations mentioned:
John Watson, $50; G. S. Walton, $25; R. V. Beal, $250; D. Peninger, $250; W. S. Fitzgerald, $100; John Stout, $50; E. J. Jamison, $1; Thos. F. Beal, $250; E. E. Gore $1,100.

FOR SALE.—Contemplating removal from Jacksonville, L. Solomon offers his residence on California, St., an excellent piece of property, for sale cheap; also a good assortment of household and kitchen furniture. Give him an early call.

NOTICE.—A large assortment of the celebrated New Home sewing machines, the best and cheapest in the market, have just been received at E. C. Brooks' store. Call and examine them before purchasing elsewhere. *
