Fraudulent Entries.

Washington, Sept. 27.—During the past summer the commissioner general of the land office, has had in the states and territories where there are large quantities of unsold public lands, a large force of special agents engaged in detection and investigation of fraudulent entries, under the pre-emption, homestead and timber culture acts. The reports of these agents reveal such a condition of facts, that in all probability the secretary of the interior, in his annual report, will recommend a repeal, not only of the pre-emption laws, but of the timber culture act, also. Among the considerations which it is believed will be urged in his report, are, first, that practically, the actual settler can get titles to his farm as soon under the homestead act as under the pre-emption law; and, that there is no need of two methods to attain the same object; that while the laws remain, the settler may take advantage of each and acquire a title to 480 acres of public land, by paying cash for 160 acres, and taking the remainder under the homestead and timber culture acts, a quantity, which it is suggested, is greater than a settler should be permitted to obtain on such easy terms. Under the present condition of affairs, it is claimed that both pre-emption and timber culture laws offer a premium to dishonesty, as is clearly shown by the great number of fraudulent entries which have been detected.

Information for the People.

In criminal actions in the justice's court, when the defendant is acquitted, the justice enters up the cost of the action and presents a bill for the same to the county court at its next term after trial of the case, and if the county court allows the claim, the county clerk draws a warrant in favor of each individual named in the said bill. The justice has no right to collect any part of the costs. If the accused is convicted and the costs are paid, the same are paid to the justice, whose duty it is to disburse the same to the parties interested. In civil actions no person is obliged to attend the trial unless he is paid one day's attendance and mileage in advance from his place of residence to the court room, at the rate of $1.50 per day and 10c per mile, going to and returning from said place where the court is held. A knowledge of these facts will save parties interested considerable trouble, and prevent them from believing that it is the duty of justices of the peace to pay the costs of all cases brought before them, in many of which they fail to receive their own fees.

On September 11th, Professor Gilbert Thompson of the United States Geological Survey, accompanied by Thomas Watson the packer of the expedition, made the ascent of Mount Shasta with two saddle mules named Dynamite and Croppie. It is noteworthy as the first successful attempt to take animals up the summit. The party ascended the spur of the mountain northeast of Mud Lake glacier, camping at the end of the timber line, 7,000 feet above the sea level. From this point they made the ascent and tied the animals to the signal post on the extreme summit. The ascent occupied seven hours and the descent two hours. Professor Thompson, in a letter, says: "On October 8th, Fred C. Boyce of my party ascended the peak on foot, by one of the ragged spurs to the east of the summit, returning to camp another way." "Chronicle."

In the Superior Court at Svanville the other day, W. T. Bacon got a divorce from his wife, on the ground of adultery. She did not contest the suit. At the trial J. B. Roberts appeared as a witness for the husband, and swore to the fact of committing adultery with the woman. A decree of divorce was immediately granted, and on the evening of the same day Roberts married the woman. A correspondent of the Reno "Gazette" says the ex-husband was present during the ceremony, and held his own and the bride's baby while the exercises were in progress.—"Journal."

If you stick a stamp partly on the wrapper, that makes it a sealed package, and it will be sent to the dead letter office. There isn't a department of the Government more given to absurd little rules for defeating its own supposed objects than the postoffice department.

There is a good deal of maudlin talk about the office seeking the man, but we have observed that whenever the office goes around hunting a man she invariably strikes the fellow with the bar!

RAILROAD NOTES.

About fifty men of the force lately employed laying track have been discharged; and of the remaining twenty or more, quite a number have left on account of a reduction of wages, leaving the force still at work very small. By Saturday night, however, the track will be laid to camp 10, when track laying will cease for the present on account of the unfinished condition of the trestle work in that vicinity. Switches and side tracks will be put in at camp 10, and railroad iron and other material for use further south will be stored at that point until track laying is again resumed, which will be, it is thought, in about six weeks from date. Jack Marshall, the irrefragable, was here last night on his way to his new quarters in your excellent burg. Jack by the way is a fine ballad singer, a most delightful story teller and an inimitable mimic, and kept a circle of admiring friends in a constant roar of laughter all night. Long may he wave.

And now daily there rideeth by, gazing silently and with wonder provoking interest at an unseen something apparently just above the horizon, ye man with the big irons strapped to his boots, divers warlike and incomprehensible implements in a eathern girdle at his waist, and a (perhaps) very useful, but conspicuously inconvenient, circle of wire about his shoulders; and to the little children we make answer. "That is the man who climbs the telegraph poles and fixes the wire."

Mr. Patton of the Engineer corps reports about 500 Chinamen at work at Gold Hill in his division. Camp 9 is also at Gold Hill, but the men have not yet got to work.

Mr. Hayes, forage master, camp 8, is wanting a lot of cart horses, scraper teams and teams for general work. The roosters are crowing at dusk, a bad sign, so the weather prophets say. E. W. H.

Piles! Piles! Piles!

A SURE CURE FOUND

AT LAST!

NO ONE NEED SUFFER!

A sure Cure for Blind, Bleeding, Itching and Ulcerated Piles has been discovered by Dr. William's (an Indian Remedy) called Dr. William's Indian Ointment. A single box has cured the worst chronic cases of 25 or 30 years standing. No one need suffer five minutes after applying this wonderful soothing medicine. Lotions, instruments and electrics do more harm than good. William's Ointment absorbs the tumors, allays the intense itching, (particularly at night after getting warm in bed) acts as a poultice, gives instant relief, and is prepared only for Piles, itching of the private parts, and for nothing else. Read what the Hon. J. M. Coffinberry of Cleveland says about Dr. William's Indian Pile Ointment: I have used scores of Pile Cures, and it affords me pleasure to say that I have never found anything which gave such immediate and permanent relief as Dr. William's Indian Ointment. For sale by all druggists or mailed on receipt of price, $1.00. HENRY & CO., Proprietors, CLEVELAND, O. HODGE, DAVIS & Co., Wholesale Agents, Portland, Oregon.
