LOCAL ITEMS.

Merry Christmas to all. Rebekah select officers next Monday night.

Dolls of all sizes and prices at Little & Chase's.

Miners are all idle and even the farmers need rain for plowing.

For fine works of art take a look at the photos now being taken by Peter Britt.

For a cold or cough, there is no remedy equal to Ammen's Cough Syrup.

The store on Wagner creek is now owned by A. P. Tallent and G. W. Wilshire.

Residents of Josephine county will remember the ball at Ryder's hotel on Christmas eve.

George S. Howard will be in charge of his father's store at the new town as a junior member of the firm.

A. D. Rockfellow & Co., Attorneys and Counselors at Law and Real Estate Agents, Ashland, Oregon.

Don't forget Newman Fisher's when hunting for Christmas presents.

Installation of officers for the different Masonic lodges will take place at their hall next Thursday—St. John's day.

Adam Schmidt came back from the new railroad town this week where he has been employed for a short time past.

Take a chance in the raffia for a fine gold watch at Caton & Garrett's season on Christmas eve.

Street Commissioner Brown is making some extensive improvements on Fifth street. Trenches are being dug near the sidewalks and the centre of the street raised.

John Miller says he has no idea of moving to the new town but will continue selling all kinds of hardware at the lowest prices.

Little and Chase and Cronmiller and Birdseye have invested in new fire-proof safes, indicating that the two firms are doing a good business and need a depository for their spare coin.

John Bolt and Jack Layton of Applegate paid us one of their semi-periodical visits yesterday and report good times in that section, outside of mining, which is at a stand still.

Hon. J. C. Cartwright, Collector of Internal Revenue for this district, was in town several days this week on official business.

Large numbers of Chinamen are leaving the railroad daily and going to Portland, their services being no longer required on account of the near completion of the end of the road.

If you want a Sewing Machine call at E. C. Brooks' drug, watch, clock, and jewelry store.

A China header from the railroad was arrested yesterday afternoon for riding horse over the sidewalks and fined $8 and costs by the City Recorder.

A ball will be given at Mart Hurst's place on Antelope on Christmas night and of course everybody living within twenty miles around will go.

Miss Cora Linn returned from Portland last Thursday after a protracted visit to that city.

The Board of Trustees will receive bids this evening for the laying of water pipes from Jackson creek to the cisterns in town and also for the construction of another cistern opposite Cronmiller & Birdseye's shop.

Work at the distillery has been delayed somewhat by the sickness of Wm. M. Turner, who, as storekeeper, must be on hand when the liquor is made.

This is a queer world. The minister who ties the connubial knot gets a fee ranging from $2 to $50; the lawyer who unties it charges from $100 to $500.

It is reported that the new town at Chavner's bridge is to be called "Gold Hill," instead of Bedford, as stated by the SENTINEL.

The victory was won, says the Boston Globe, but Gen. Wolfe lay dying on the heights of Abraham.

Wm. Kahler and James McDonough returned from the East this week well pleased with their trip as members of the pioneer excursion.

Ground was broken in railroad grading inside the limits of Ashland last Tuesday morning, a scraper being set at work in Melman's field.

When you see a medicine advertised, and neither know nor can hear anything in regard to its reliability, it is an easy matter, by putting yourself to a little trouble, to ascertain the reputation and standing of the manufacturer.

The finest thing in the line of show cases can be seen at Brook's drug and jewelry store.

It is understood now says the "Tidings" that the railroad company will locate a depot and side tracks at Central Point.

Walter Phillips and wife passed through town yesterday on their way to Ashland to spend the holidays.

Sergt. Mason says that while in the war he fought against four uncles and twenty two cousins.

WOODVILLE ITEMS.

December 19, 1883. Grading for the side track at this place was begun last Saturday.

The depot grounds are 300 by 1400 feet. A good and substantial depot is promised.

The gravel train came up to this place yesterday (Tuesday) afternoon for the first time.

Working about half a day behind these men last mentioned comes another gang of Chinamen who raise the track and "tramp points and centres."

Following this gang come two other gangs, working one opposite the other, who tramp the gravel under the end of the ties.

My old friend Captain Hyzer, whom I found in charge of these gangs, and who, after kindly alluding to my description of laying track, published in the last SENTINEL, very courteously gave me much information in regard to the method of ballasting the road.

RELICS OF THE INDIAN WARS.—When Mr. T. J. Matlock was in Southern Oregon, says the "Vindicator," a few weeks ago he made a trip to the ruins of old Fort Lane in quest of relics.

FARMING MACHINERY.—Miller & Co. of Ashland are agents for the celebrated D. M. Osborne & Co. farming implements, consisting of harvesters, mowers, reapers and self binders.

THE CHEAPEST.—Abraham, Wheeler & Co. have decided on closing out their store at Glendale and offer goods cheaper than ever before sold in Southern Oregon.

SETTLE UP.—Everybody knowing themselves indebted to the undersigned will find it advantageous to settle up by Jan. 1, 1884, as our books, notes and accounts must be balanced by that time.

IN MEMORY OF BERTHA YOUNG.

God has taken little Bertha From this earth and friends away. To the realms of the immortal, To the never ending day.

Nothing now can grieve or harm her. She is taken to her rest. And her little hands are folded On her cold and snowy breast.

She has crossed the misty waters For to live in heaven above, Where she'll meet her little sister, In that land of light and love.

Farewell Bertha, farewell loved one, Thou art resting on that shore, Singing with that little sister, Happy now forever more.
