NEGLECT SOMEWHERE. - Just two reeks ago to day the last mail reached Jacksonville from the north and not withstanding the fact that considerable railroad track has been washed out between Grants Pass and Glendale it does seem to us that some arrangements could be made for the carrying of the mail around the break by wagons. It has not been long since stages run to Glendale with the mails and the present contractors could do the same thing if they were only so inclined. To say that this order of things is getting monotonous to the residents of Southern Oregon don't half express it and whoever is to blame should suffer the damages. What are our postrl authorities doing?

THE KELLY-RUBLE CASE. - The case of Kelly vs. Ruble has again been decided in favor of the plaintiff by Judge Hanna and an order of the court was made out last Monday giving Kelly possession of the mines. J. G. Birdsey was appointed elisor and with several others went down this week to turn the property over to the owner. On Thursday word was received here that Birdsey could not get possession of the claim and that serious trouble was anticipated when six more men started from here to assist him in getting it since which time we have heard no further particulars. The last decision made by Judge Hanna is in opposition to the one made by the Supreme Court of the State, but is done on the ground that Judge Lord, one of the Supreme Judges, was disqualified from deciding the case as he was an attorney for Ruble before the form. Our readers will remember and at Sams valley $30-a benefit for hard working railroad hands, and it Judges Lord and Waldo were toagain and the end is not yet.
