THIRTY YEARS AGO .- The Shasta "Courier" of last Saturday, publishes the following from its file of Decem ber, 1855:

G. C. S. Vail arrested in San Fran cleep for depositing two heavy boxes (which contained only nails and lead, but which he represented to contain gold dust) with a San Francisco pawnbroker, and obtained on them an ad vance of $1,200. When Vail was ar rested he had $1,150 of the money on his person. Vail was convicted of a similar offense previous to that, sentenced to the State Prison and pardoned on condition that he leave the State. He went as far as Jacksonville, said en had complied with terms of the d-d pardon, turned upon his heel, came back to Yreka, was elected Alcalde, and finally brought up in Shas ta where he resided until 1867. He died at the Union hotel in Sacramento a few years ago from the effects of an overdose of mcrphine. The San Franciscc "Herald," in speaking of Vail's arrest in that city, described him as "a tall, fine-looking? man, with kid gloves, shining beaver and decided. ly in the elegant order." Alas, poor Yorick, we knew thee well.

The Postmaster General informs the Yreks Postmaster that Yreka could have a semi-weekly mail from Shasta, the expense of which is to be defraved out of the net proceeds of postage collected at the Yreka office, but not to exceed $500 per annum. The Yrekans bucked at this and said somebody was a d-n fool.

Railroad meeting in Shasta and Weaverville resulted in resolutions in favor of building a railroad across the Rocky Mountains, "shaking hands with the enterprising citizens of Shasta," (Shades of the departed!) and resolving that a railroad must be built from the Missouri to the Columbia, in Oregon, and via "Noble's Pass."
