TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.

From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect

KNEW HIM BEST.

John William Blank belonged to the Ancient and Modern and Highly Honorable Sons of Guns of Detroit. If it wasn't that, it was some other fraternal order which meets every Monday night and pays so much to the heirs of every member who happens to die.

John William happened to die the other month, and a committee was appointed to draft resolutions and present them to his wife in person. The first part of their duties was fufilled to the entire satisfaction of the lodge, but the committee had some little trouble in finding Mrs. Blank. They traced her from one neighbor to another, and finally found her at her sister's hat and shawl on and ready to go out.

"Resolutions of sympathy, eh! Well, read 'em.

The chairman of the committee proceeded to read that John William was a good husband and a kind father and a citizen of unapproachable integrity, when the widow interrupted:

"Too much taffy! We used to have a fight every week, and as for his being a kind father, we never had any children. As for his integrity, he stole all the wood we burned last winter!"

The chairman gulped down something and continued to read that John William was an upright brother, a man with a heart full of sympathy for the misfortunes of others, and that charity and forgiveness were the beacon fires which guided his footsteps.

"Fudge!" sneered the widow. "I washed for the money to pay his dues to the lodge, and all the sympathy any one got out of him wouldn't buy a cent's worth of court plaster! Forgiveness! Well, some of you ought to have sat down on his hat some time! He'd have revenge if it cost him a year in state prison. Beacon fires is purty good, considerin' that we never had a decent stove in the house!"

"Madam, your husband has been called hence."

"Exactly: I was at the funeral and ought to know."

"He was cut down like a flower."

"Well, flowers ought to let whisky and saloons and tobacco and old sledge alone."

"And we trust that our loss is his gain."

"Well, if he's any better off I'm glad on't, but I guess the gain is on our side. Now that's all I want to hear. I can pick up a thousand better men than him with my eyes shut. I'm in a hurry to go down and see a woman who offers to sell a fur lined circular for $15, and if you have any more highfalutin Shakespeare to git off my sister will take it in and save it till I come back!"—Detroit Free Press.

The Bad Boy's Father.

George Peck, the father of the "bad boy," was here a few days ago. In the past few years Peck has become one of the most successful of professional humorists. His income is said to be nearly $25,000 a year. In 1871 he was reporter of the New York Herald, "several hundred dollars worse off than when he was dead broke." He left New York with a resolve "never to come back until he had accumulated $13." Peck originated and grew up in Wisconsin. With "Brick" Pomeroy he went to New York to start a Democratic paper. He was fortunate, losing but $2,000—all that he had however. After reporting on the Herald for a short time he returned to Wisconsin, and locating at La Crosse, started Peck's Sun, which has brought rays of brightness to many households on dark and gloomy days.

Five years ago he removed to Milwaukee, and there he has met with continuous success. A friend to him told me, the other day, that he owned the whole town. That's perfectly natural. It's a way we editors have. The Sun consists mostly of real and sparkless wit and humor. Peck does nearly all the editorial work himself. His expenses are light and his profits large. The humorist is about 40 years of age, heavy-set and wears an immense imperial. He has fitted up an elegant office and has a beutiful home. He is very popular, and especially so with the ragged newsboys. Not long ago he gave several of them a banquet, and they in turn, presented him with a pair of diamond cuff buttons.

HOUSEHOLD RECIPES.

Cabbage.—Beat 1 egg well; put into this a little salt, then one head finely cut cabbage; then add enough cream for broth and vinegar to suit taste with one small piece of butter. Put all in one milk pan and set in a kettle of boiling water to steam. Cook ten minutes.

Hash.—Chop together one onion, six cold potatoes and plenty cold boiled beef. Fry in plenty butter.

Rice.—Four tablespoons rice to one and one third quarts of new milk. To this add one tablespoon sugar, one small piece butter, a little salt and a small handful raisins. Set in the oven and bake until done.

Baking powder biscuit.—One quart flour and four tablespoons baking powder; mix well together then add a little salt and knead with sweet milk.

Green Tomato Pickles.—Wash slice and salt them (salt them slightly) and let them remain over night; then drain off the water. To three quarts apple vinegar add one pound sugar. Season with black peper, white mustard, cinnamon and cloves. Put tomatoes and spices in a kettle and let stand five minutes.

Tomata Catsup.—To one bushel peeled tomatoes add one quart good vinegar, one pound salt, one fourth pound black pepper, one ounce African cayenne pepper; one fourth pound allspice, one ounce cloves, three boxes mustard, twenty grains garlic, six onions, two pounds brown sugar and one handfull peach leaves. Boil this mass for three hours constantly stirring it to keep from burning. When cold strain through a fine sieve and bottle for future use.

Vinegar Pie.—One third cup vinegar filled full with water put into a pan until boiling then add one tablespoon butter and one half cup flour stirred to a paste with water, add one cup sugar.

Jelly Cake.—Two eggs, one and one half cups sugar, one half cup sour milk, two tablespoons melted butter, one teaspoon soda. Bake in layers.

Cookies.—Two eggs, two cups sugar, one cup butter or lard, one cup sour cream and one teaspoon soda.

Prunes from Germany.

For some years the subject of prune raising has been agitated in this state, and many orchards of prune trees have been planted. But it appears that not enough prunes are raised here yet to supply the demand, by several ingsful. An Oregonian reporter yesterday noticed a number of large casks in front of a wholesale grocer's and was informed that they contained about 1500 pounds each of dried prunes, all the way from High Germany. The dealer stated that a great many tons of this fruit came here, and after paying freight and duties were furnished to the farmers at from to twelve cents per pound. Talk about bringing cabbage from California and and hog products and butter from Illinois. What is that compared to Oregonians, who have one of the finest fruit countries in the world, eating prunes raised in Germany. By all means let's have more prune trees planted, till every Oregon farmer can sit under the shade of his own prune tree and gather the materials for his sauce from his own garden.

Corvallis is happy and well she may be. This time it is the best horse in the state. Read, as told by the leader. "Probably the finest piece of horse flesh that ever trod on Oregon soils expected to arrive in corvallis to-night (Thursday.) It is a fine black trotting stallion shipped direct from New York City by Col. T. F. Hogg and is valued at $15,000. The animal is seven years old and it is said he is a perfect beauty, and when four years old trotted in 2:30. Benton county can now boast of the finest horse in the state, and the thanks of our citizens are due Col. Hogg for this fine importation and for the interest he is manifesting in the improvement in the stock of Benton county in particular and the state in general.

Old Sig.

Mr. Villard has stabled "Old Sig," the horse which drew the first and last loads of rails on the Northern Pacific road, comfortably in New York, there to pass the remainder of his days in peaceful enjoyment of all the oats he can eat.
