SATURDAY, MARCH 22, 1884.

Postmaster-General Gresham has made arrangements by which the New York mails will arrive twenty-four hours earlier in San Francisco, which means that mails now received in six days will come through in five.

Among the replies which the late Wendell Phillips is said to have made to a committee that waited upon him to see about his delivering a lecture is fact of all. For a month not a day has the following: "I will come and lecture on a literary subject for $100 a night and my expenses; on 'Slavery' for nothing and pay my own expenses."

In answer to its own conundrum "Is this a foreign country," an Eastern paper says Russia leather is made in Connecticut, French claret is macufactured in California, English silk is woven in New Jersey, Italian marble is quarried in Vermont, Parisian nickmacks come from Massachusette, Spanish mackerel are caught on the Maryland coast, and Havana eigars are relled up in every State of the Union.

The Western Wool Growers' Convention, representing half a dozen States and Territories, has unanimous ly adopted a memorial asking Congress to restore the tarif of 1867 on wool and strongly protesting against the reduction proposed by Morrison's bill. If the Democratic majority in the House centinues to antagonize the business interests of the country by catering to the tree trade element of the party, there will be little doubt as to the result of the next Presidential election

"Uncle Sam" as a nickname for the United States arose during the war of 1812. Samuel Wilson, an inspector of army supplies, who was widely known as "Uncle Sam," having marked a number of casks with the government insignia, "U. S.," was asked by a workman if the letters meant "Uncle Sam." The joke traveled, and the phrase has nince become a current "American." The English nation was first personified as "John Bull" in a political satire by Dr. John Arbuthnet, published in 1913, and intended to ridleule the Dake of Marlborough.

Some "fresh" Democratic organs outside of New York, have been advising the party in that state to "ignere" Tammany this year. John strikes back with double leads. It says that "the time has arrived for blunt, frank talk." Without Tammany the Democrats cannot carry New York, and without New York ne Democratic president can be elected. Tammany the "Star" gives notice, will not be a supplient for admission to the state convention, us it feels fully as able to get along without the party as the party is to get along without it. And finally the Democrats are invited to put whatever construction they please upon this language.

The comment in political circles about Portland is that the Republican element of that section will unite and endeavor to nominate Mr. Caples for Congress with the view that when the next legislature meets that M. C. George will be elected for the United States Senate. This certainly is a strong Slate for Portland and perhaps us good a combination as Portland could turn out. If these gentlemen should be elected then there would be in Congress from Oregon Dolph, Caples and George, all from Portland. If results should finally terminate in this way Portland would certainly be well represented in the Legislative halls of Congress. Then if in the nominations for other positions there could be found a half a dozen more men in Portland who would accept other positions the make up for efficials would be almost turned over to Portland .-"Gazette."

convention in Chicago. For that purand foremost in defense of the union cause, should hunt up that platform and compare it with their professions of twenty years later. It is very interesting historical reading, but of a sort concerning which Northern Demo-state think the less said the bester. by John Beeson next Wednesday night.

Presidential Probabilities.

The Philadelphia Press publishes the following significant dispatch from its managing editor in Washington: The three most prominent objects on the Presidential horizon are Blaine and Arthur on one side and Samuel J. Tilden on the other. Blaine and Tilden are coming and Arthur going. Of this fact there is no question among changed as the time passes. The swell of the Blain boom is the most patent passed without adding volume to the manifestations of his popularity, and not of his popularity alone, but of the determination of the Republican masses to put him in the White House. The curious part of if is that the Blaine nothing to help this particular movement along. On the contrary, they are doing all they can to held it in. Their plan was to start the ball a month or so later, so that it might not have se far to roll before convention

As the Blaine column advance Arthur's gives way. The President began months ago to lay the wires for a renomination. The first steps were taken in the South, where they were most likely to escape attention and where the issue of civil-service reform has never been presented to the people, either by precept or practice.

To sum up the situation on the Re sublican side as it is to day, Blaine is well in the lead, with Edmunds and Logan contesting the second place and Arthur a bad fourth. Logan would be easily second but for the development of a popular demand for the nemination of Lincoln as Vice-President. That is one of the phenomena of this campaign. Such an arrange piately relieve Croup, Whooping cough ment, which seems to commend itself and Broachitis. Call at Brooks. o the mames without geographical or any other considerations, is a serious thing in Logan's way. It is possible to have Blaine and Lincoln. Edmunds and Lincoln, Arthur and Lincoln-almost anybody else and Lincoln sucept Logan and Lincoln. If the convention were held next week or next month, beyond a doubt it would be Blaine and Lincoln.

be pretty well understood that, if nomwith many thanks and a very large check to help the campaign.

It appears, upon further enquiry that our friend, Hon. J. C. Fullerton, will not consent to become a candidate for congressional honors, nor allow his name to go before the convention for this purpase. He feels the importance of all Southern Oregon uniting on one man, and that man he delieves is Hon Binger Herman, who has the ability to represent the interest of our section of the State with justice to himself and advantage to his constituents. There is no question, but that, the next Republican nominee for congress ought to be a man who lives in Southern Oregon and is extensively identified with its interests. This section of the State has never yet had a Republican candidate for this important office, and if the delegates from this section, to the next Republican convention will act in harmony, this nomination can be secured to them, and we know of no man better fitted and qualified than Hon Binger Herman, and we trust that his cause may be advecated to bring about the desired result .-"Reseburg Plaindealer."

So much is said in the news reports about the German reichstag that American readers may be interested in knowing that that body consists of 396 members. Of these Prussia elects 236, and the twenty five other states It is now twenty years since the elect 161.
