

To Measure the Height of Trees.

Woods and Forests, an English journal, says: "Any person, however ill-informed might easily get at the exact height of a tree when the sun shines, or during the bright moonlight by marking two lines on the ground, three feet apart, and then placing in the ground on the line nearest to the sun a stick that shall stand exactly touches the furthest line, then also the shadow of the tree will be exactly in length the same measurement of its height. Of course, in such a case, the sun will be at an exact angle of 45 deg. Measurements of this character could be best effected in the summer when the sun is powerful, has reached to a height in the heavens, and when the trees are clothed with living green, so as to cast a shadow. To many to whom this idea may not have occurred, it might be made annually a matter of interest thus on warm summer days to take the height of prominent trees, and so to compare growth from year to year."

Prof. C. N. Andrews, since his connection with the Riverside schools, has been laboring very industriously and successfully in trying to break up the habit of smoking among the large boys of his department. Yesterday, Dr. T. L. Magee spoke to the school on the effects of tobacco on the nervous system, etc., and at the conclusion of the address he asked how many of the boys present smoked. Not a hand went up. He then asked how many do not smoke, and every hand on the boys' side of the house went up. Some had smoked, but they have now quit. This is a good record, of which the boys, as well as Prof. Andrews, may well feel proud.

They boy at the foot knew.
"What are pauses?" asked the teacher of the primary class.
"Things that grow on cats," piped the small boy at the foot.

Republican Platform.

WHEREAS, The Republican party has for a quarter of a century had the political thought of the nation, and
WHEREAS, This great party has succeeded by being aggressive and fearless in support of right, we, the Republicans of Oregon in convention assembled, mindful of the glories which cluster around its past history, renew our pledges of fidelity to the doctrines which have repeatedly received the endorsement of the people, and do make and affirm the following declaration of our political principles:

1. That we favor honest, efficient and economic administration of every department of government.
2. That we favor equal protection of the rights of labor and capital.
3. That we regard the free school system of our state as the special care and pride of the Republican party.
4. To the important and rapidly increasing manufacturing and wool growing interests of Oregon, we favor the protection of the general government equal in extent to the importance of these industries.
5. That we reaffirm the past policy of the Republican party to foster and encourage railroad building in all parts of our state; and at the same time we hold all corporations to be strictly responsible for their liabilities under the law, and insist on the right and duty of the legislature, both state and national, to enact all reasonable limitations upon corporate powers.
6. That by the generous policy of the Republican party in congress, liberal appropriations have been made to various portions of our state, and we favor a continuation of that policy for the further development and relief of the country, and we demand prompt and liberal appropriations for the improvement of the bar of the Columbia river; also for the entrance to all harbors and bays of our coast; also for the improvement of all our navigable rivers, including the distribution of necessary locks, to the end that our rivers may be made public highways untrammelled by tolls and unnecessary delays.
7. That all unearned grants to railroads and wagon roads in this state should be forfeited and opened to settlement by those entitled to the benefit of the land laws of the United States.
8. That the laws of Oregon providing for assessment and collecting revenue, including the "mortgage tax law," should be amended so as to insure an equal and just distribution of taxation upon all the property real and personal in the state.
9. That we demand of the next session of the legislative assembly of the state the passage of a more just and efficient mechanics' lien law.
10. We renew our declarations in favor of restricting Chinese immigration to this country and demand such additional legislation by congress as is necessary to effectually prevent any evasion of the laws now in force on that subject.
11. That we favor the enactment of a good and sufficient registry law, to the end that illegal voting may be prevented.
12. That the Republicans of Oregon approve all legislation which tends to promote fidelity and efficiency in the civil service of the country, and we declare the Republican party pledged to civil service reform.
13. That the convention cordially indorses the administration of President Arthur, whose broad statesmanship and good judgment in the details of administrative duty have won for him the approval of the entire country.
