Another fine lot of new goods for the ladies was received at Newman Fisher's this week. Call around and look at them.

The Jacksonville fire boys spoiled some of their good clothes at the fire last Sunday but they done some good, faithful work.

The Coleman residence opposite the Court House was purchased this week by Sheriff Jacobs for $900. Mr. Coleman reserves the corner lot.

Thomas Johnson is now assisting John Miller at the Hunter's Emporium, Fred Perry having quit and gone to work on his father's farm.

Frank M. Nickerson, clerk of Josephine county, proposes taking a trip to his old home in the East after the expiration of his term of office.

The present term of Circuit Court promises to last longer than any held here for several years past. The large number of criminal indictments is the cause.

J. Frankl. Lakeview and Mr. Baldwin of Linkville, both prominent merchants at their place of residence, spent several days in our city this week.

J. S. Howard says that it is all a mistake about him selling out at cost. He says he makes all the profit he wants and if his customers think he is robbing himself they are slightly mistaken if prices are low.

John A. Hurlburt of Ashland, H. W. Stevenson, Newt. Yocum, M. Van Winkle and Hank Grigsby of Grants Pass, and F. P. Hogan of Roseburg were here this week attending court as witnesses.

The front of Reames Bros' store has been greatly improved by the putting in of two glass show windows for the display of goods. Take a peep when you pass by and you may see something you want.

A Western editor lost his pocket book, containing valuables amounting to $2000. He immediately put a notice in the papers, offering a reward for its recovery, and the next day his wife found it in his "other pants." There is nothing like advertising.

The O. & C. R. Co.'s large freight warehouse, 40x100 feet in size, has been removed from Glendale to Ashland and is being put up at the latter place to be used as a storehouse and depot for their own freight.

Notwithstanding the fact that stages no longer run to Jacksonville W. Carl can't keep away and his visits are just about as often as ever. What the attractions are is more than we can tell but—well come again, Billy.

The first number of the "Northern Picket," published at Alturas, Modoc county, Cal., by Coffin & McClellan, has reached us, and presents a good appearance both in its make-up and news items. Success to them.

The condition of Mr. Colwell is about the same as when we reported last week. He is gradually growing weaker and time only can tell whether he can recover. His sister Mrs. Ober of Ashland is in constant attendance.

Chas. Hughes, County Clerk elect for Josephine county, was in town several days this week on a business trip. Having already served that county as Clerk for a term of twelve years a re-election at this time is something that he can justly feel proud of as an endorsement of his official work in that position.

The jury in the case of John Goldsby, charged with the crime of mayhem in gouging out the eye of Saml. Phillips in a fight, found the defendant guilty and Judge Webster sentenced him to a term of one year in the penitentiary. The case is a peculiar one and both parties are to be blamed and pitied.

A paper is being numerously signed in San Benito county, pledging the subscribers not to vote for any man for a county office who patronizes or frequents saloons, or who will use saloon influence to secure his election. The Free "Lance" thinks if the signers stand up to their pledge, there will be a light vote in the county this fall.

The Gem saloon at Medford, Kenney & Wolters proprietors, has opened out for business and is one of the neatest places in this end of the State. One of the latest style billiard tables can also be found there and all the fixtures and liquors are in keeping with the age of progress. Give Bill and Ham a call and we will guarantee that you are treated well.

Mr. J. B. Riggs, an old resident of Oregon, and well known in Salem, was killed by accident on his stock ranch in Wasco county last Sunday. He had lassoed a wild horse and tied the end of the lasso to his saddle horn when the wild animal made a plunge and pulled over the pony on which Mr. Riggs rode, throwing him and breaking his neck.

We had a friend say to us a few days ago: "I never do anything for a cold; just wear it off" That is exceedingly dangerous; one might do that 16 times and the 20th time cold would settle on the lungs and lead to consumption, and thus cut one's life short many years. Is it not better and more sensible, to go to your druggist and get a bottle of Ammen's Cough Syrup than run any risk at all.

Medford will celebrate the Fourth in fine style, Judge Webster is the orator and Rev. M. A. Williams chaplain. They will have an old fashioned barbecue and basket dinner. The Ashland brass band will furnish music for the occasion. On that day passenger trains will leave Ashland at 9 A. M. and return leaves Medford at 5 P. M. Trains from the north will arrive at Medford at 10 A. M. and leave at 3:30 P. M. Half fare rates.

The Oriental Lodge of Free Masons has decided to proceed against Senator Sharon, General Barnes and others connected with the exhumation of the body of Anson G. Oliver in the Masonic cemetery, in order to obtain testimony in the Sharon Hill divorce case. The lodge claims the act was unjustifiable, and that the health officer exceeded his duties in doing what was not subserving any public end toward the preservation of public health.

The Southern Oregon History was delivered Thursday and prominent citizens might have been seen collected together in excited mood discussing their portraits. Of course they expected to see fine looking handsome young gentlemen but the truthful hand of the photographer presented a rather meager looking lot of middle aged men and the ambitious pioneers turned sorrowfully and regretfully to chronological events of their life which consisted mainly in the names of their numerous progeny. The views of these same disappointed aspirants for historical honors that were "taxed without representation," are enjoying the joke immensely.

The Jacksonville cemetery in the careful and painstaking hands of R. S. Dunlap, who has been sexton for the past 20 years is one of the most neatly kept cemeteries in the State. Several splendid monuments have been erected lately, the last, placed in position this week, marks the last resting place of the wife and child of Professor Merritt, and is an exquisite piece of workmanship and makes the spot where one of the purest, most worthy women with her infant child, strew their last long sleep. The work was done at the marble works of J. C. Whipp in Jacksonville and the taste and skill displayed in their construction are highly complimentary to the gentleman who had the work in charge. A much needed improvement in the town cemetery is that the lots should be staked and numbered as they are in the Masonic and Odd Fellows. This would prevent mistakes and confusion in the future and also make the selection and location of lots easier and we hope our trustees will complete the work they have so well begun in the cemetery.

Judge E. B. Watson and family returned home from Salem on Tuesday morning. He has held the office of Supreme Judge of this state for the past four years and discharged the duties of that high and responsible position creditably to himself and acceptably to the people of the state. He was warmly welcomed home by his many friends and will remain here for the summer. The silver cornet band serenaded Judge Watson at the residence of his father-in-law, K. Kubli, on Tuesday evening. Judge Watson came out and thanked his friends for this expression of their good will and invited them into the parlors. Elegant refreshments were served by Mrs. Kubli and the occasion was a very pleasant welcome to the Judge and his family after their four years absence.

The teamsters complain that there is but little back freight to Ashland, which makes a cent a pound too cheap for the round trip. It costs more to ship to San Francisco via Redding, as the benefit of lower freight is not given for return from Ashland to San Francisco. To ship East, it is cheaper to send by Ashland, and wool buyers are making arrangements to send that way, in place of San Francisco, which when completed, will make plenty of back freight. Webb has been shipping his wool East by the Northern Pacific which helps out considerably. The teamsters also say the places where they used to get meals and horse feed at 25 cents ahead, are now getting civilized like California to raise the price to 37 1/2 cents, and may strike soon for 50 cents, and other expenses on the way have advanced in proportion.—"Journal."
