

Constancy.

HE SAID: And leaned as he said on the pasture bars...

SHE SAID: "No fear or doubts, beloved, have I, For deep in this heart of mine..."

But the man in the moon, who had often viewed Such tender scenes, I ween, Winked knowingly then, as the lovers stood...

Two summers with blossom and bud are gone, Two winters with frost and snow; And again, the man in the moon looked down...

And what did he see? Why the lover had won A widow with wealth galore, While the maiden had wedded, that very morn...

Quoth the man in the moon: "It's exactly now As it was when the world began, No weaker thing than a woman's vow, Excepting the vows of a man."

These things have given the man in the moon Such cynical views of life, That this is the reason he lives alone, And never has taken a wife.
