SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—On Sunday last E. C. Brooks went up to Soda Springs to bring back his wife and several other ladies who had been there for a week past, and on his return, when opposite John Wells' place, one of his horses made a lunge in crossing a broken bridge, breaking a trace and letting the tongue of the wagon fall to the ground. Mr. Brooks kept them in the road for some distance but could not stop them and was finally thrown from the wagon. Mr. L. J. C. Duncan then jumped out and the team and the other occupants of the wagon went on some distance further until the pole struck another culvert when the team became detached from the wagon throwing the other on their sides. Mrs. Brooks was thrown on some rocks and had her collar bone broken and also had one of her ankles badly wrenched. Mrs. Duncan had both ankles wrenched in her fall and is still being cared for at Mr. Wells' residence. Mr. Brooks had two ribs broken and considerably bruised. Mrs. H. v. Helms and her little boy, Harry, were also passengers but both escaped without injury, both falling in the ditch. One of the horses is badly injured the broken pole while running. All of this was caused by the dilapidated condition of a small bridge and after having to settle several bills of costs the authorities will probably see that road supervisors attend to their duty.
