THE OREGON STATE FAIR .- One week from next Monday the State fair commences at Salem, and the prospects for an excellent fair are very flattering. There will be a fine ex hibit of stock of all kinds, and in oth er departments a fuller exhibit than usual is already assured. The races will be interesting, as they are well filled with a field of good horses, and the best of accommodations will be provided for the patrons of the fair. Liberal premiums are offered by the society in all divisions, and arrangements for reduced rates of fare for the people attending and also for freight on stock or articles for exhibition have been made, viz: For freight half fare rates, and for passengers special rates will be given by the O. & C. R. R. Co. Our people should avail themselves of this opportunity to attend the State fair.

STILL AT LARGE -Bassett the stage robber who escaped from our county jail one night last week has not been heard of since. He undoubtedly had confederates who knew that the jailor was absent from the jail and took advantage of the fact to assist him in making good his escape. As this is the second of the gang who have es-caped from our authorities they will be emboldened to commit other depre dations on the stage road between the railroad terminal and the stage and express Co's will do well to be especially prepared for them. There has evidently been a want of vigilance on part of the officials who have had these dangerous criminals in charge to have allowed them to escape and the fact that we have a good brick jail build. ing that is thoroughly secured by bolts fire. and bars which the prisoners did not attempt to remove, but by seme unexplained process procured the keys and unlocked the doors is evident that the county has provided sufficiently for the safe keeping of its criminals, and the state. the course not entirely with officials who had them in charge.
