RAILROAD ITEMS.—All along the Sacramento river, the talk is that rail road work is to be resumed again, especially at tunnel 9, which is a long tunnel. Probably some work may be done to keep the tunnels and grade in condition for future operations. The wagon road between here and Delta has been fixed up considerably by the railroad company while building railroad, and preparing for extension above Delta, and Autenreith has also been making improvements, thus rendering the trip a pleasant one between here and the Bay City.

THE REDDING "FREE PRESS" referring to the excursion to Delta, says complaint is made against the engineer for the reckless speed on the return trip; from Backbone to Redding he made nearly a mile a minute. This rate of speed over a new crooked road greatly alarmed both male and female passengers, and many of the latter with blanched faces and closed eyes, prayed for a safe arrival home. The merchants and business men of San Francisco are urging the Central Pacific to build the California road advising the securing of the Oregon branch, towards assisting the business prospects of San Francisco, now seriously damaged by rivalry of the Northern Pacific and Oregon branch road leading down to the California boundary.—"Journal."

An Oregon exchange gives the number of hop yards in the State at 192, and of this number about one third are in Linn county. The Chinese are crowding out white labor in hop picking. There is money in raising hops at even fifteen cents, although it is probable that twenty, or perhaps twenty five cents, will be had for this year's crop.

An Iowa farmer, who came to Portland a few days ago, said he had a splendid farm which he had owned and occupied for eighteen years. It was one of the best farms in Iowa, but he had to feed his stock seven months in the year. In Oregon, he learned from a stock man, that he had to feed his stock only from four to six weeks. That settled the question with him.

During the past year seventy six patents were issued to citizens of Oregon, an average of one to every 2299 persons. Residents of Washington received twenty one patents, or one to every 3576 people. This evidence of the inventive genius of those on the Pacific coast is gratifying in view of the fact that it is equal to many of those states where manufacturing has long been conducted.

The Canadians, although not quite so inventive as their neighbors, are sometimes quite ingenious. One of them has invented a new method of fishing. He takes a sock of about thirty cents to the water, and to the legs of each one he ties a fishing line with baited hooks attached. Then he says "Shoo" and the geese swim out. As soon as a goose gets a bite she becomes frightened and rushes back to the shore, and the man gleefully takes the fish off the hook and sends her back.

The Probable Vote in the Presidency in November next will be very close to 10,500,000. The vote in 1880, using round figures, was 9,220,000 in a total population of 49,371,000, and in a male population of the voting age reported at roundly 12,571,000 for the thirty eight States. The population of the States will be in November next above 56,000,000, in the eight Territories and the District of Columbia very nearly 1,000,000, making for the whole country a grand total of 57,000,000. Now if a population of 49,371,000 in the States includes a voting population of 12,571,000, a population of 57,000,000 contains a voting population of nearly 14,280,000, or that number of men possessing the legal age for voting.
