ALFALFA SEED.—Several thousand pounds of clean, fresh alfalfa seed of a superior quality, from the farm of W. H. Bostwick on Applegate, is offered for sale at John Miller's place of business in Jacksville.

EIGHT-YEARS.—Judge Webster this week denied the motion for a new trial in the case of Chas. Bassett, charged with stage robbery, and sentenced him to a term of eight years in the penitentiary. He was taken by Sheriff Jacobs.

JELLY FACTORY.—Samuel Colver is the general agent for the Phoenix Jelly Factory and has already established quite a trade for this new industry. We have sampled it and can recommend it as being equal to the best made by the most experienced housewife.

SETTLE UP.—We have sent out statements of accounts to those indebted to us for subscription and advertising and we hope that all will respond at once as we need the money. A good lot of those who received dues will see that we have waited patiently for several years.

STILL IN THE FIELD.—B. F. Miller of the Sardinia creek nursery says he is always prepared to fill orders for a general assortment of well tested and best varieties of all kinds of fruit trees. A general nursery stock kept constantly on hand and offered for sale at reasonable prices.

THE CULP CASE.—The trial of J. M. Culp for the murder of Geo. S. Smith near Willow Springs last Spring is now progressing in the Circuit Court before the following jury: John A. Hanley, W. R. Roberts, Lindsay Givens, R. J. Cameron, S. U. Alfred, J. J. Fryer, John Ashpole, A. B. Solies, John Pelling, Wm. Dennis, W. P. Beagle and Hugh Carr. District Attorney Kent and H. Kelley are prosecuting while H. K. Hanna is on the defense. The case will probably reach the jury to night.

CARD OF THANKS.—I take this method of expressing my heartfelt gratitude to the kind neighbors and friends whose ministrative aid and assistance smoothed the last hours of my late husband and especially the members of the L. O. O. F. and A. O. U. W. whose warm sympathy and help so often soften the bereavement of the widow and orphan. And to all of this kind community, always ready in the hour of need, who have stood by me in my sore trial I shall always cherish the most grateful feelings. Mrs. J. P. McDaniel.

ANOTHER PIONEER LESS.—James P. McDaniel, one of the oldest residents of Jackson county, departed this life last Monday evening after an illness of several months. Mr. McDaniel was City Marshal at the time of his death, a position he filled with credit several terms before the last, and a more honest, upright and conscientious man never lived. He was a member of the Odd Fellows and Workmen and the members of the two orders escorted his remains to the grave on Wednesday last where appropriate services were held. He leaves a wife and six small children. May his soul rest in peace.

CIRCUIT COURT PROCEEDINGS.—The following business has been transacted in this court since our last report: State vs. Geo. R. Justice; indictment for murder. Found guilty of murder. State vs. G. N. Youcum; indictment for an assault with a dangerous weapon. Verdict of guilty of a simple assault. State vs. Chas. Bassett; indictment for robbery, with intent to kill. Defendant sentenced to eight years' imprisonment in the penitentiary. State vs. G. N. Youcum; assault. Defendant sentenced to pay a fine of $40 and costs. State vs. J. M. Culp; indictment for murder. On trial. State vs. Geo. R. Justice. Motion made for a new trial. L. S. Solomon vs. J. J. Callaghan, et al.; to foreclose mortgage. Decree of foreclosure granted.

CONFESSED HIS GUILT.—Readers of the SENTINEL will remember reading the account of the robbery of Medford railroad station not long since, James Cunningham, the agent, stating that he was forced to open the safe and deliver its contents to a masked man with cocked revolver in hand. Suspicion has rested on Mr. Cunningham ever since but not until last Sunday when P. Hogan approached him and accused him of the crime did he give way. After being informed that proof could be found to convict him he made a full confession stating that he did the work alone and then led the detective to a point about fifty yards from the station where he dug up the remainder of the money stolen and delivered it to Mr. Hogan. The amount was something over $100 short which Cunningham claims to have spent since the robbery. The young man was brought to Jacksonville at once and waiting an examination he was locked in jail with bonds placed at $800. On Wednesday of this week Cunningham's father arrived from Halcyon, Oregon, and by depositing the required security secured his son's release. Mr. Cunningham stood high in the estimation of all who knew him and every one was surprised when they heard of his confession. He has a sufficient amount due him from the railroad company as salary to make up the deficiency and by straightening up the account we doubt if a vigorous prosecution will be made by the company.

Kenberger; superintendent, George H. Chick; assayer, Charles A. Wing. Directors for the year 1885, James Steel, C. D. Bates, H. C. E. Kenberger, George H. Chick and D. A. Richards.

An interesting feature of the stock men's convention at St. Louis was a cow-boy band of twenty pieces from Fort Dodge, Kansas. The leader was a long silver mounted derviser for a baton, and when asked why he did so he replied that it was in order that he might be able to shoot the first man who struck a false note. The band plays with great accuracy, watching every movement of its leader.

Chief Justice Greaves of Washington Territory, in his last charge to the Grand Jury, made the following testimony to the good effect of women serving on juries: "Twelve terms of court, ladies and gentlemen, I have now held, in which women have served as grand and petty jurors, and it is certainly a fact beyond dispute that no other twelve terms so salutary for a restraint of crime have ever been held in this Territory."

The present term of Circuit Court will be one of the most expensive ever held in the county on account of the large amount of criminal business brought before it. In figuring up the costs in the Youcum case it was found that they amounted to $1,800 alone and the others will amount to much more. Besides this there are several prisoners arrested who have not yet been indicted and unless immigration increases our next census will not make a good showing.

Ned. Dry, a saloon keeper at Roseburg and well known in this city, died Saturday last at his home and was buried yesterday. He left property amounting to about $10,000 to J. G. Fuller, his partner and friend. Mr. Fuller is one of the oldest express agents on the coast, having been in the employ of Wells, Fargo & Co. for many years, and agent of the Roseburg office a good deal of the time. He deceased was an Englishman by birth, and had no family. His father lived and owned large estates in Australia.

Any stranger coming to this valley with a fruit tree catalogue as his baggage can do a thriving business for quite a while. It matters not whether his trees are as represented or whether he has any trees at all the orders will be given and the money paid all the same. Some people would rather get hiked by a stranger than to patronize their neighbor when the latter insures his goods and can always be found to make up any deficiency. We love to hear their complaint after getting it "in the neck" and we never fail to express our sympathy.

The electoral college for the State of Oregon, consisting of Hon. D. P. Thompson, Hon. Warren Tritt and Hon. J. C. Lease, met at noon Wednesday in the private office of R. P. Earhart, secretary of State, and organized by electing Mr. Thompson president and Mr. Tritt secretary. The ballots were cast for James G. Blaine president, and John A. Logan vice president, of the United States. Hon. Warren Tritt was chosen messenger, and the votes and necessary documents were duly signed, sealed and delivered.

Habitual Constipation Is a prolific source of misery and many ills, giving rise to Headache, Dizziness, Evers, Nervousness, Restlessness, Biliousness, Indigestion, Poisoning of Blood, etc. The bitter, non-toxic Liver medicine, pills, salts and draughts formerly used to relieve the sufferer, only aggravate the disease and sicken the stomach. All who are afflicted in that way, know the importance of the remedy pleasant to the palate, harmless in its nature, and truly beneficial in its action. The trial bottles of Syrup of Figs given away free of charge by our enterprising druggists Merritt & Robinson of Jacksonville prove that it is all that can be desired. Large bottles at fifty cents or one dollar.

THE RAILROAD.—By passengers from below, we learn that our pipes are being forwarded to Delta from below, for the Hood surveying force of the C. P. R. R. Co., which indicates that surveying is to be resumed again soon, so as to start road building in the spring, which is due probably to Oregon company making arrangements to finish their end, the C. P. leaving always assured the public they would be at the line as soon as the Oregon company would build. The C. P. were prepared to keep on right above Reiding, when the Oregon company stopped at Roseburg, and unless the Oregon company finished their end, the California branch would not pay to run for the usual amount of local travel.

As further evidence of resumption of railroad work, the Redding "Free Press" says Mr. Doney, of Southton, has been employed to haul the wagon bridges at the third crossing above Edmore's, and at the fourth crossing or Slocumville, to the railroad, when they will be loaded on the cars and shipped to the front, to be used in the construction of other wagon bridges. This move seems to fore-shadow active operations, and it will be remembered that Colonel Scott's entire outfit is stored near by, and can be utilized at a moments notice—"Yreka Journal."
