

OREGON SENTINEL

JACKSONVILLE:
SATURDAY, APRIL 4, 1885.

WANTED—A middle-aged widower desires to correspond with a lady about the same age. Object matrimony. Address J. R., care Box 86, Jacksonville, Oregon.

MORE OF OUR CLIMATE—Bees were swarming on Wm. Ray's farm on Applegate on the 21st of March last and the new families are doing well. Where is the locality that can beat this?

PIANO FOR SALE—K. Kubli has a first-class Hallett & Cumston piano, nearly new, that he offers for sale at a bargain. The instrument can be seen at Mr. Kubli's store on California street.

REALVIEW—Thos. F. Beall and C. Magruder were at Portland this week and succeeded in getting favorable terms for the building of a station near Central Point and they propose commencing work at once. The location is a good one and will eventually prove "quite a place."

HORSES WANTED—Bud Thompson will arrive here next Tuesday to remain several days to purchase horses for government use. He wants horses not over 15 1/2 hands high from 5 to 8 years old and will purchase about 60 head in this valley if they can be had. Bring your horses in if you want to sell at good figures.

RELIGIOUS ITEMS—Rev. A. M. Russell preaches at Medford next Sunday. Rev. P. A. Moses will preach at Brownsville on the first Sunday in April. Elder M. Peterson will hold services at the Mount school house Sunday. Rev. A. R. Bicknell will preach at the Presbyterian Church in Phoenix Sunday morning and in Jacksonville in the evening.

SUPREME COURT—The following is the standing of the cases so far before the Supreme Court in cases appealed from the first district: State of Oregon vs. Martin Mackey and William Mackey—Argued and submitted. David P. Sneed, respondent, vs. J. H. Colahan, appellant—Judgment of the lower court affirmed; opinion by Thayer, J.

BRASS BAND TOURNAMENT—In connection with their regular exercises on St. Tammany's Day, May 12th, the members of that order have arranged for a brass band contest giving prizes for the three best bands in Southern Oregon and Northern California, to be decided by disinterested judges chosen from outside places. This will make a novel and exciting contest and the bands from Yreka, Healy, Ashland, Jacksonville and Roseburg are expected to compete for the prizes offered. It is proposed that three prizes be given and the amounts will be made known next week. Everybody is invited.

EASTER SERVICES—Tomorrow will be Easter Sunday, and according to the usual way of the Catholic church, the day will be celebrated in the usual custom. The regular services for that day will be held in the morning—Rev. P. X. Blanchet officiating and the following young ladies will sing at the grand musical high mass at that time: Soprano, Misses Clara Linn, Sophie Ish, and Ada Plymale; 2d part, Miss Sophonia Ish; 3d part, Misses Emma Page and Ellen Carr; 4th part, Miss Cecilia Orth; five voices chorus, Etta Judge, Minnie Donegan, Emma Pivnale, Amelia Otten and Wanda Miller. A large congregation will no doubt be present.

ARRESTED—August Schminding, a son of Mrs. De Robson of the U. S. Hotel, a young man raised near Jacksonville has got into family troubles with C. H. Reed, also well known here, at Dayton, W. T. The crime committed was the drawing of a pistol by young Schminding on Reed when he ordered the latter out of his house, when he was arrested and is now under $1,000 bonds. A petition for the reduction of the bond, so that Augustine could get out of jail, has been in circulation here and was finally signed by all the county officers and other prominent citizens of our town all knowing that he would do nothing wrong unless forced into it by such a case as is reported to be.

THE MACKAY CASE—The Portland "Standard" of April 1st, has the following item in regard to this case, and after reading it a prominent Democrat here, a subscriber to the paper, remarked that if Tony succeeded in getting the appointment of Postmaster at Portland we need not look for any mail from that direction as he would never fail in getting things wrong: "U. S. District Attorney Judge Watson left for Salem yesterday to argue the appeal in the Supreme Court in the case of William and Martin Mackay, father and son, convicted in Jacksonville in November last in Judge Prim's Court of the murder of Michael Purcell on the 26th of June preceding, and sentenced to be hanged February 13th, but which sentence was postponed on account of the appeal. The evidence in the case was purely circumstantial and has already been published. Mackay, it seems, had a raw on election day with Purcell and was whipped. The young man, who had been engaged in the study of law at Portland, on being apprised of the affair, went to Josephine county, where the row between his father and Purcell had occurred. Purcell was afterwards found dead in his cabin on the mountain, having been shot, and circumstances pointed strongly to the Mackays as his slayers."

Every where that she has lectured she has received the most flattering notices from the press; she is said to be a lady of fine personal presence, exceptionally pleasant and graceful, and always wins friends both in public and private life. Her lectures are represented as excellent in sentiment, and delivered with a modest and fascinating ease that is always charming and pleasing.

Chances for Health and Wealth.

Man is dependent upon his surroundings for the necessities of life. Air and water are necessities of life, but impure air and impure water are most prolific sources of disease. Food is also a necessity of life, but numerous diseases are traceable to both a lack of necessary food, and an indulgence in special kinds of nourishment. Besides these external sources of disease there are other more subtle and internal causes. Each individual inherits from his parents a certain physical constitution. Each person therefore derives his chances of health or disease from a double source, namely his inherited constitution and his surroundings in life. Sanitary science seeks to overcome the constitutional or inherited weakness by medicine that supplies what is wanting in the system. De Haven's Dyspepsia Cure supplies that which is wanting to ensure proper assimilation and digestion of food. Try it. Free sample bottles at E. C. Books.

A Sill Death.

In Philadelphia recently at a coroner's inquest over the body of a child, the jury returned a verdict that death was caused by the administration of a patent cough syrup, containing morphine. Dr. Sam'l K. Cox, of Washington, states that not one cough medicine in ten is free from this objection. After careful analysis and practical tests he understands that Cox's Cough Cure as being purely vegetable, absolutely free from opiates, poisons and narcotics. He regards it as a most happy and valuable discovery.
