OREGON SENTINEL

JACKSONVILLE SATURDAY, APRIL 11, 1885.

California and Oregon.

The San Francisco "Post" says The question of the prempt completion of the California and Oregon line, from Delta to the Oregon State line, depends materially upon the rapidity with which the new issue of bonds by the Central Pacific Railroad is taken up. At present there is a depression in railroad securities, and the general public are somewhat inclined to ab stain from investing in them. The probable result, so far as present in dications go, will be that little railroad building will be done this year. The road from Delta to the line is through a very difficult and mountainous country, and will require a large force of men, and a question arises whether the men qualified for the work can be obtained in sufficient force this season. When once commenced, the road could may be taken is not yet known.

One by one the blessed things of America creep into conservative England, and this is what the Saturday "Review" says in regard to the politi cal terms of this free land: "That ill-shaped verb 'to gerrymander' has recently been incorporated in the vocabulary of the contemporary politician. In due course of time the British public may come to use a further variety of American political phrases. A British statesman may point with pride to his record, and he may denounce with emphasis and vehemence those who bolt the regular nomination $18,000,000; farms, $90,00,0000; and do not vote the straight ticket. farming machinery and implements, It may be in a few years a little knot $29,56,173; live stock, $13,000,000; of party managers will prepare the slate, and that a little group of British mugwumps, equally determined, will total, $120,956.173. rise up in their might and upset the carefully prepared machinery, and so break the slate."

The sufferings of General Grant, as described by his physicians in the New York "World," are something terrible. To the auguish of the cancer, which is eating his life away, is added acute neuralgia, which, as everyone knows who has been afflicted with it, can come as near making life intolerable as anything. The physicians do not believe that he can, at the furthest, live through the month of May, and ad mit that his death at any time need cause no surprise. Still, he works away at his book, and, when the pains assail him with all their power, he he is soon to die, but turns to where "Death's pale flag advances" the same SHATTUCK—At Fort Klamath, April 6th, 1885, to Mr and Mrs. S. O. Shattuck, a unruffled look that he wore when the fate of his army, if not of his country, SALTMARSH-In Sterling, March 25th, hang upon his making no mistake. 1885, to Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Saltmarsh, a hung upon his making no mistake. No dying couch in America was ever se sorrowed over as is General Grant's.

The Catholic "Review" repels with a good deal of spirit the statement of Henry Ward Beecher that the heavy Catholic vote was given to Blaine because "the cardinal winked to his bishops, the bishops winked to their priests and the priests to their flocks." The fact is, says the "Review," that these voters had their eyes open and they thoroughly appreciated that they never could be on the same side with "Harper's Weekly," the "Times" and the "Herald."

Secretary Lamar's auction sale of carriages, by which the Government realized a few hundred dollars is being contrasted with the eight or ten thou sand dollars sunk by closing the Department one day in honor of Jacob Thompson, the meanest of all traitors. It is very generally regarded as a firstclase instance of straining at a gnat and swallowing a camel.

A Texas editor visited a ball, last corns. Going home, he wrote: boy, old or young, to buy their Fall "While the ladies present tormed the and Winter clothing and furnishing most brilliant constellation this side for your money and you will live long of the Southern cross or the zone of Orion, the gents were the cloudiest, dullest and stupidest set to be found then get should clothing you are liable Legislature."

Postmaster General Vilas has authorized the statement that the railwhom no just complaint can be brought and who have not turned their attention to political labors during the ser vice, need have no fears of being disturbed.

In the general land office at Washington final action has been suspended on all timber culture entries under the the act of June, 1878, which have not already been examined; also in all cases skins, etc. Call around before selling.
Thes J. Kenney. of desert land entries.

A Washington correspondent, under date of April 3d, mays: The Oregon and Nevada people who have been here on a hunt for offices have not met with any better luck than California Democrats in the way of securing them, and they are talking of giving up the con test and returning to their homes. A prowinent Oregon Democrat, who played a prominent part in the Chicago convention, was trying to purchase a sec ond hand, cheap bicycle today. He said that, as the railroad fare to return was high and his money scarce. he was thinking about riding back to Oregon on a bicycle and delivering a lecture on his way back, on his experience in trying to get an office, so as to pay his living expenses from town to town. His disgust and chagrin at his failure to secure an office are hard ly concealed under an assumed levity of demeanor, and he returns to the western wilds a sadder as well as a wiser man. Of how many, alas! can this be said!

The Board of Directors of the State Agricultural Society held meetings at be probably carried through in two Salem Tuesday and Wednesday of this seasons, if favorable ones. It may be week. They decided to hold a State commenced this year. What action Fair, beginning Monday, September 21, to continue one week. The premiums are to amount to $10,000. Of buy. this, $4,300 will be prizes for horse racing, and $6700 in miscel'aneous prizes. There will be a trotting and running race each day, most of them for $500, and special prizes will be given for glass ball shooting, bucycle contests and for the best brass band. A fence is to be run between the fair grounds and the track, to go inside of which and to the grand stand an admission of 25 cents will be charged.

> Following is the summary of the wealth of Oregon. Farm products, mines and implements, unknown; other personal property, unknown;
