

The Chinese Curse
The fears of the most pronounced alarmist in regard to Chinese immigration to America have not been exaggerated judging from the following extract from an interview of a correspondent of the St. Louis Globe Democrat, in the city of Hongkong, China, with the Catholic bishop of Raymond, who has been 26 years in the east, and is now styled bishop of Acantho and vicar apostolic of Hongkong, and is said to be really at the head of the Catholic propaganda in the Chinese empire, and the repository of all its business knowledge and its secrets, and is well known in the United States, having spent some months here in 1881, directing his time between New York and San Francisco. The entire account which Bishop Raymond gives of Chinese missions is very interesting, but space obliges us to confine our extracts to his practical opinion in reference to the attempted exclusion of Chinese immigration to European countries, and the results of such raids upon Asian communities:
"Perhaps," suggested the reporter, "looking at the matter from a religious or ecclesiastical standpoint, you have been surprised that the United States attempt to rigidly exclude the Chinese?"
"I am not at all surprised," replied the bishop, "that they have done it, but I have sometimes wondered that they did not do it before. Competition is impossible with them, either in labor or in trade. When I came to Hongkong 26 years ago there were a great many foreign firms here doing a prosperous mercantile business. Only two or three are left besides those engaged in shipping. Of the American firms not one is left. At Canton the trade has all gone into Chinese hands. All the flour that comes to China from this part of California is handled by Chinese merchants. How is it possible that for signs can compete with them when their mode of life is so difficult? The foreign trader must have a place of business for which he pays several hundred dollars rent per month. The Chinaman is content with a store for which he pays $10 per month. Where the foreign merchant pays $100 per month to his clerks, his Chinese competitor pays $10. The Chinaman gives no parties, is satisfied with coarse clothes and plain food; therefore until profits suffice him and he is liable to sell his goods often 40 and 50 per cent. less than his European rival in the next block. No civilizing merchant can survive such competition except for limited time. The mistake has been made in employing compradors, the natives who represent the individual or firm in its relations to their own people. They learn the business and soon set up in opposition. No matter how much the firm may lose, they always make money. When Dent & Co. failed, their comprador purchased a whole street. What might have happened to California, except for the restriction act, is happening to Hongkong, and has already happened to Tonquin, Anan, Cochinchina, Siam, Singapore, Manila, Borneo, Java, Mongolia, Manteburu, and Thibet. They have all been overrun by the hordes who have swarmed out of China, north, south, east and west, and filled every avenue of labor and business, to the exclusion and destruction of the native populations. Then the moral aspect of the question cannot be disregarded. Children should not be intrusted to Chinese nurses and servants, for they are certain to imbibe ideas and acquire habits that will ruin them as they grow larger. America is fortunate in stopping the immigration of Chinese in time."

Piles! Piles! Piles!
A SURE CURE FOUND AT LAST!
NO ONE NEED SUFFER!
A sure cure for Blind, Bleeding, Itching and Ulcerated Piles has been discovered by Dr. William's Indian Remedy, called Dr. William's Indian Ointment. A single box has cured the worst chronic cases of 25 or 30 years standing. No one need suffer five minutes after applying this wonderful soothing medicine. Lotion, instruments and electrics do more harm than good. William's Ointment absorbs the tumors, allays the intense itching, (particularly at night after getting warm in bed), acts as a poultice, gives instant relief, and is prepared only for Piles, itching of the private parts, and for nothing else.
Read what the Hon. J. M. Coffinberry of Ireland says about Dr. William's Indian Pile Ointment: "I have used scores of Pile ointments, and it affords me pleasure to say that I have never found anything which gave such immediate and permanent relief as Dr. William's Indian Ointment."

Gen. McClellan, "Little Mac," has declined the Russian mission. Business interests, it is said, will not permit him to accept. McClellan wanted the portfolio of the war department. Wounded pride has more to do with the declination than business.
