

Local Items

NOTICE.—A meeting of the Grand Creek Ditch and Mining company will be held in Jacksonville, May 20th.

MEETING.—A call is hereby made to the citizens of Jacksonville to meet in the Town Hall next Monday evening to consider what will be done as an inducement to the Board of Immigration to establish its exhibition rooms in this town.

CARD OF THANKS.—Oregonian-Pocahontas Tribe No. 1 Imp'd O. R. M., of this place requests us to return its sincere thanks to the Henley and Jacksonville Silver Cornet Bands, the choir and all others who so kindly assisted in making their late celebration a success.

QUILT WEDDING.—Last Sunday evening our esteemed friends Mr. J. C. Whipp and Mrs. Florence Shipley were united in matrimony by Rev. A. R. Bickenbach. Only the relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom were present.

CHALLENGE.—I do hereby challenge Hercules Dunlap to run a foot race 50 yards, for $50 to be run at Jacksonville on May 23rd, 1885, and the person I will run is Joseph Messor.

RELIGIOUS.—Regular services at the Catholic church in this place Sunday, Rev. M. Straetn officiating. . . . Communion services will be held in connection with the morning services at the Presbyterian church in this place on Sunday next.

THE MACKAY CASE.—This now celebrated case, transferred from Josephine county on a change of venue, has been on trial here all week. The defendants are being tried separately and the case of Martin Mackey is the one now on trial.

GRAND JURY REPORT.—We, the Grand Jurors, would most respectfully submit the following as our final report. We have examined into all crimes that have been submitted to us for investigation and have found indictments in such cases as the law required.

Reduced rates on the railroad were returned to those who attended the Red Men celebration here on the 12th and quite a number availed themselves of the privilege.

L. G. Ross has resigned his position as clerk in the Lakeview Land office and returned home yesterday. Receiver Knox has also forwarded his resignation so as to be informed.

A large crowd attended the ice-cream and strawberry festival at the Presbyterian Church last Saturday evening and all seemed to enjoy them selves. The proceeds netted over $40.

Rev. J. R. N. Bell has kindly consented to deliver a temperance lecture under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. at the Presbyterian church Thursday May 21st. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Cronmiller & Birdseye have taken the agency for the Shogren road carts, an improvement or those now in use. Judge DePeat bought one this week and pronounces it far ahead of any he has seen before.

$20 worth of goods for $15 at Messor's store.

Go to Messor's store for bargains before it is too late.

More rain, more wheat and more money for everybody.

Crockery and glassware at a bargain at Messor's store.

Bro. McGinnis and C. W. Skeel of Medford called this week.

Miss Kattie Hand of Ashland is visiting friends in this place.

The best standard prints 20 yards for $1.00 at Messor's store.

Capt. Ankeny of Portland visited the Sterling mines this week.

County scrip taken at par at this office for old accounts or new.

A German picnic under the auspices of the "Eintracht" will be held soon.

The Vigor of Life troupe was here two nights this week but done little business.

The rush still continues at Messor's store because he is selling goods for almost nothing.

The matrimonial fever has struck Jacksonville and several wedding dresses are under way.

Call on Chas. Kearns at Mrs. Kreuzer's Bakery when you want a plate of delicious ice cream.

An A. O. U. W. cuff button was found on the streets which the owner can recover by calling at this office.

Henry D. Kubli, the Applegate merchant, was in town this week and took in the Red Men celebration and ball.

Ben Lohr has been removed as conductor on the O. & C. R. R., on the run between Ashland and Reesburg.

Joseph Sage of Albany paid a flying visit to Jacksonville Thursday on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Healy.

Mrs. N. DeLamatter, Mrs. C. J. Howard and Miss Florence Lind are here as witnesses before the Circuit Court.

What is going to be done in Jacksonville on the Fourth of July? It is time to commence making arrangements.

The Grand Jury adjourned Wednesday after a nine day's session. Their final report will be found in another column.

H. O. Lang and C. P. White of Portland were here this week arranging for the publication of an immigration pamphlet.

Numerous "sports" were in town this week taking in the Red Men celebration. Suckers were scarce and they made a short stay.

As the O'Neil case has been appealed to the Supreme court the necktie party set for next Thursday will not take place at that time.

The proprietor of the U. S. Hotel will accept our thanks for compliments in the shape of cake and wine after the Red Men ball. Cali again.

Messrs. Holt, Hardin and Wileox returned from Linkville the other day not finding enough encouragement there for burning a kiln of brick.

Wm. Healy was this week brand over in the sum of $250 by Justice Foudray to keep the peace. The bonds were furnished and defendant discharged.

Hard times were even noticeable at the Red Men ball. Either the old man was out of funds or our local merchants had run out of the kind of goods required.

L. G. Ross has resigned his position as clerk in the Lakeview Land office and returned home yesterday. Receiver Knox has also forwarded his resignation so as to be informed.

A large crowd attended the ice-cream and strawberry festival at the Presbyterian Church last Saturday evening and all seemed to enjoy them selves. The proceeds netted over $40.

Farmers and school directors go and see those nice bells at Bilger & Maegly's. One can be erected at a small expense and is almost indispensable on any farm or school house. Call and see them.

Rev. J. R. N. Bell has kindly consented to deliver a temperance lecture under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. at the Presbyterian church Thursday May 21st. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Cronmiller & Birdseye have taken the agency for the Shogren road carts, an improvement or those now in use. Judge DePeat bought one this week and pronounces it far ahead of any he has seen before.

We noticed a couple of young bloods driving a team through the streets Wednesday evening at a furious rate of speed. There is an ordinance against this and our Marshal will keep his eyes on the next one that attempts it.

The contract for laying the water pipe from the hotel corner to the Granger's stable was let to Bilger & Maegly this week for $94.50. This is something that has been needed for a long time past and we are glad to see it go on.

The Henley band expressed themselves exceedingly well pleased during their visit this week and say that they promise a return for favors extended. The best of feeling prevailed and everything passed off agreeable to all concerned.

The Champions of Honor will give a dramatic entertainment on May 23d. The proceeds will be used for temperance purposes, and as this order is composed of the deserving young people of Jacksonville we hope to see it made a great success.

The two Roseburg papers were represented in Jacksonville this week, the "Review" by Rev. J. R. N. Bell and the "Plainsdealer" by F. P. Cronmiller. Both are former residents of our town and they were warmly welcomed by their many friends.

Last week a couple of smarties who were suing O. Ganiard, a merchant of Salem, Va., concluded to settle their bills by abandoning. They however got no farther than Linkville when they were overtaken by Mr. Ganiard and forced to settle.

K. Kubli started for Salem last Wednesday night to represent Jacksonville Lodge No. 10 in the Grand Lodge of that order to convene at Salem next week. Besides attending to lodge duties he will also make purchases to suit the trade for the hard ware line here.

The sermon to the children by Rev. A. R. Bickenbach at the Presbyterian church last Sabbath was very interesting. The words of the text were "The child Samuel ministered unto the Lord." We regret that we cannot give it a more extended notice as it certainly merits.

The proceedings of the Jackson County Board of Immigration are unavoidably crowded out this week having reached us too late. The next meeting of the Board will be held at Medford next Saturday when propositions for the location of permanent headquarters will be received and the question of issuing pamphlets will also be decided.

We were yesterday shown a nugget taken out near the old Steamboat mine by W. E. Finney, weighing something over three ounces. The owners think they have struck a bonanza and the size of the chunks taken out would lead towards making any one believe the same way. They will make extensive preparations for work next winter.

Hon. T. F. Ball was in town the other day and informed us that there was a "trigger in the woodpile" in connection with the passage of his railroad bill. He further states that he can prove by a majority of the Senators and Representatives that it passed both houses, a fact that was set to all the daily papers of Portland, the reporters of each having gained their information from the official records. He started below this week to investigate.

Prof. F. D. McCully, of Dayton, W. T., is paying Jacksonville a visit and is the guest of his aunt Mrs. J. M. McCully. We see by our exchanges that the Prof. has had charge of the public schools of Dayton, W. T., for some time past and has brought them up to rank with the first in the Territory. The Prof. is making a tour through our State during his vacation and we hope he will enjoy his short stay with us and also visit our public school which we consider second to none on the coast.

An Ashland correspondent of the "Oregonian" writes as follows under date of the 12th inst: Two more weddings in our best society will occur next week—Mr. Ed. Myers, son of one of the wealthiest men in this valley, to Miss Ida Muller; and Mr. Charles Harzadine, a native Ashlander, to Miss Carrie Casey, daughter of our popular superintendent of the woolen mills. To-night occurs the marriage of George B. Landers, one of our well known fruit and news dealers, to Miss Ella Roper, the accomplished daughter of F. Roper, proprietor of the Ashland mills, and one of our most influential citizens. The ceremony will occur in the Presbyterian church.

Governor Moody is in the city. He is just as silent as ever regarding the Senatorial question, and answers the reporter's inquiries with a bland smile, and "I don't know." He can't tell yet whether he will call a special session of the Legislature or appoint a successor to Mr. Slater, or whether he will do the other thing. The Chief Executive, however, knows that Oregon will have enormous crops this year, which information was furnished the reporter gratuitously. It was rumored around town yesterday afternoon that the Governor was in town to confer with the Republican leaders on just what action to take in the Senatorial matter, but the report lacked confirmation.—"Portland News."

We notice by a Portland exchange the marriage last Tuesday evening at Trinity Episcopal church, by Rev. Dr. Frost, George M. Love of Jacksonville and Miss Fanchion Dowell recently of Portland. This event has been anticipated for some time by their friends. Mr. and Mrs. Love were both born in Jacksonville, and their parents, each began their married lives here, so the happy young couple are well and favorably known to us all. Their married life begins under the most favorable auspices, and in common with their many friends we wish them unlimited happiness and prosperity in their new relation. They will make Jacksonville their home we learn and are expected here to-morrow evening.

The band contest for the prize offered by the Red Men took place Wednesday afternoon. Only the Jacksonville Silver Cornet Band and the Henley Silver Cornet Band competed for them. The judges selected by the Red Men were Prof. H. T. Kugler, Hon. N. Langell, and Sergeant Dunlap. The bands occupied the long piazza in front of the U. S. Hotel, and the judges were stationed in windows in the Red Men's Hall, across on the opposite corner. An immense crowd of enthusiastic spectators filled the sidewalks and crowded doors, windows and house-tops in the immediate vicinity. The bands played each three tunes and after quite a long deliberation the first prize of $70 was awarded to the Henley band and the second $50 to the Jacksonville band. The judges decision elicited shouts of applause. The leader of the Jacksonville band proposed three cheers for the judges and three cheers for the Henley band which were given with cordial good will and the courtesies immediately returned by the leader of Henley band with equal good will. Hon. N. Langell and Sergeant Dunlap decided in favor of the Henley band, while Prof. Kugler, who is one of the most perfect and accomplished musicians on the coast, maintained his decision in favor of the Jacksonville band which is highly complimentary to the Jacksonville band. The Henley band started for home soon after the contest and the Jacksonville band played a congratulatory farewell as they departed. Our boys have been playing a little more than a year, and for that time of practice, they would be hard to beat. The result of the contest gave entire satisfaction to everybody, and especially to our band, as the boys were so well pleased with their brother musicians from across the line, that they would not have liked to have taken the first prize if they had beaten them. The Red Men have always offered prizes at their public celebrations and balls, and pay out more in that way than the net proceeds of their entertainments. Certainly they deserve great credit for their public spiritedness and liberality.

The band contest for the prize offered by the Red Men took place Wednesday afternoon. Only the Jacksonville Silver Cornet Band and the Henley Silver Cornet Band competed for them. The judges selected by the Red Men were Prof. H. T. Kugler, Hon. N. Langell, and Sergeant Dunlap. The bands occupied the long piazza in front of the U. S. Hotel, and the judges were stationed in windows in the Red Men's Hall, across on the opposite corner. An immense crowd of enthusiastic spectators filled the sidewalks and crowded doors, windows and house-tops in the immediate vicinity. The bands played each three tunes and after quite a long deliberation the first prize of $70 was awarded to the Henley band and the second $50 to the Jacksonville band. The judges decision elicited shouts of applause. The leader of the Jacksonville band proposed three cheers for the judges and three cheers for the Henley band which were given with cordial good will and the courtesies immediately returned by the leader of Henley band with equal good will. Hon. N. Langell and Sergeant Dunlap decided in favor of the Henley band, while Prof. Kugler, who is one of the most perfect and accomplished musicians on the coast, maintained his decision in favor of the Jacksonville band which is highly complimentary to the Jacksonville band. The Henley band started for home soon after the contest and the Jacksonville band played a congratulatory farewell as they departed. Our boys have been playing a little more than a year, and for that time of practice, they would be hard to beat. The result of the contest gave entire satisfaction to everybody, and especially to our band, as the boys were so well pleased with their brother musicians from across the line, that they would not have liked to have taken the first prize if they had beaten them. The Red Men have always offered prizes at their public celebrations and balls, and pay out more in that way than the net proceeds of their entertainments. Certainly they deserve great credit for their public spiritedness and liberality.

The band contest for the prize offered by the Red Men took place Wednesday afternoon. Only the Jacksonville Silver Cornet Band and the Henley Silver Cornet Band competed for them. The judges selected by the Red Men were Prof. H. T. Kugler, Hon. N. Langell, and Sergeant Dunlap. The bands occupied the long piazza in front of the U. S. Hotel, and the judges were stationed in windows in the Red Men's Hall, across on the opposite corner. An immense crowd of enthusiastic spectators filled the sidewalks and crowded doors, windows and house-tops in the immediate vicinity. The bands played each three tunes and after quite a long deliberation the first prize of $70 was awarded to the Henley band and the second $50 to the Jacksonville band. The judges decision elicited shouts of applause. The leader of the Jacksonville band proposed three cheers for the judges and three cheers for the Henley band which were given with cordial good will and the courtesies immediately returned by the leader of Henley band with equal good will. Hon. N. Langell and Sergeant Dunlap decided in favor of the Henley band, while Prof. Kugler, who is one of the most perfect and accomplished musicians on the coast, maintained his decision in favor of the Jacksonville band which is highly complimentary to the Jacksonville band. The Henley band started for home soon after the contest and the Jacksonville band played a congratulatory farewell as they departed. Our boys have been playing a little more than a year, and for that time of practice, they would be hard to beat. The result of the contest gave entire satisfaction to everybody, and especially to our band, as the boys were so well pleased with their brother musicians from across the line, that they would not have liked to have taken the first prize if they had beaten them. The Red Men have always offered prizes at their public celebrations and balls, and pay out more in that way than the net proceeds of their entertainments. Certainly they deserve great credit for their public spiritedness and liberality.

The band contest for the prize offered by the Red Men took place Wednesday afternoon. Only the Jacksonville Silver Cornet Band and the Henley Silver Cornet Band competed for them. The judges selected by the Red Men were Prof. H. T. Kugler, Hon. N. Langell, and Sergeant Dunlap. The bands occupied the long piazza in front of the U. S. Hotel, and the judges were stationed in windows in the Red Men's Hall, across on the opposite corner. An immense crowd of enthusiastic spectators filled the sidewalks and crowded doors, windows and house-tops in the immediate vicinity. The bands played each three tunes and after quite a long deliberation the first prize of $70 was awarded to the Henley band and the second $50 to the Jacksonville band. The judges decision elicited shouts of applause. The leader of the Jacksonville band proposed three cheers for the judges and three cheers for the Henley band which were given with cordial good will and the courtesies immediately returned by the leader of Henley band with equal good will. Hon. N. Langell and Sergeant Dunlap decided in favor of the Henley band, while Prof. Kugler, who is one of the most perfect and accomplished musicians on the coast, maintained his decision in favor of the Jacksonville band which is highly complimentary to the Jacksonville band. The Henley band started for home soon after the contest and the Jacksonville band played a congratulatory farewell as they departed. Our boys have been playing a little more than a year, and for that time of practice, they would be hard to beat. The result of the contest gave entire satisfaction to everybody, and especially to our band, as the boys were so well pleased with their brother musicians from across the line, that they would not have liked to have taken the first prize if they had beaten them. The Red Men have always offered prizes at their public celebrations and balls, and pay out more in that way than the net proceeds of their entertainments. Certainly they deserve great credit for their public spiritedness and liberality.

The band contest for the prize offered by the Red Men took place Wednesday afternoon. Only the Jacksonville Silver Cornet Band and the Henley Silver Cornet Band competed for them. The judges selected by the Red Men were Prof. H. T. Kugler, Hon. N. Langell, and Sergeant Dunlap. The bands occupied the long piazza in front of the U. S. Hotel, and the judges were stationed in windows in the Red Men's Hall, across on the opposite corner. An immense crowd of enthusiastic spectators filled the sidewalks and crowded doors, windows and house-tops in the immediate vicinity. The bands played each three tunes and after quite a long deliberation the first prize of $70 was awarded to the Henley band and the second $50 to the Jacksonville band. The judges decision elicited shouts of applause. The leader of the Jacksonville band proposed three cheers for the judges and three cheers for the Henley band which were given with cordial good will and the courtesies immediately returned by the leader of Henley band with equal good will. Hon. N. Langell and Sergeant Dunlap decided in favor of the Henley band, while Prof. Kugler, who is one of the most perfect and accomplished musicians on the coast, maintained his decision in favor of the Jacksonville band which is highly complimentary to the Jacksonville band. The Henley band started for home soon after the contest and the Jacksonville band played a congratulatory farewell as they departed. Our boys have been playing a little more than a year, and for that time of practice, they would be hard to beat. The result of the contest gave entire satisfaction to everybody, and especially to our band, as the boys were so well pleased with their brother musicians from across the line, that they would not have liked to have taken the first prize if they had beaten them. The Red Men have always offered prizes at their public celebrations and balls, and pay out more in that way than the net proceeds of their entertainments. Certainly they deserve great credit for their public spiritedness and liberality.

The band contest for the prize offered by the Red Men took place Wednesday afternoon. Only the Jacksonville Silver Cornet Band and the Henley Silver Cornet Band competed for them. The judges selected by the Red Men were Prof. H. T. Kugler, Hon. N. Langell, and Sergeant Dunlap. The bands occupied the long piazza in front of the U. S. Hotel, and the judges were stationed in windows in the Red Men's Hall, across on the opposite corner. An immense crowd of enthusiastic spectators filled the sidewalks and crowded doors, windows and house-tops in the immediate vicinity. The bands played each three tunes and after quite a long deliberation the first prize of $70 was awarded to the Henley band and the second $50 to the Jacksonville band. The judges decision elicited shouts of applause. The leader of the Jacksonville band proposed three cheers for the judges and three cheers for the Henley band which were given with cordial good will and the courtesies immediately returned by the leader of Henley band with equal good will. Hon. N. Langell and Sergeant Dunlap decided in favor of the Henley band, while Prof. Kugler, who is one of the most perfect and accomplished musicians on the coast, maintained his decision in favor of the Jacksonville band which is highly complimentary to the Jacksonville band. The Henley band started for home soon after the contest and the Jacksonville band played a congratulatory farewell as they departed. Our boys have been playing a little more than a year, and for that time of practice, they would be hard to beat. The result of the contest gave entire satisfaction to everybody, and especially to our band, as the boys were so well pleased with their brother musicians from across the line, that they would not have liked to have taken the first prize if they had beaten them. The Red Men have always offered prizes at their public celebrations and balls, and pay out more in that way than the net proceeds of their entertainments. Certainly they deserve great credit for their public spiritedness and liberality.

The band contest for the prize offered by the Red Men took place Wednesday afternoon. Only the Jacksonville Silver Cornet Band and the Henley Silver Cornet Band competed for them. The judges selected by the Red Men were Prof. H. T. Kugler, Hon. N. Langell, and Sergeant Dunlap. The bands occupied the long piazza in front of the U. S. Hotel, and the judges were stationed in windows in the Red Men's Hall, across on the opposite corner. An immense crowd of enthusiastic spectators filled the sidewalks and crowded doors, windows and house-tops in the immediate vicinity. The bands played each three tunes and after quite a long deliberation the first prize of $70 was awarded to the Henley band and the second $50 to the Jacksonville band. The judges decision elicited shouts of applause. The leader of the Jacksonville band proposed three cheers for the judges and three cheers for the Henley band which were given with cordial good will and the courtesies immediately returned by the leader of Henley band with equal good will. Hon. N. Langell and Sergeant Dunlap decided in favor of the Henley band, while Prof. Kugler, who is one of the most perfect and accomplished musicians on the coast, maintained his decision in favor of the Jacksonville band which is highly complimentary to the Jacksonville band. The Henley band started for home soon after the contest and the Jacksonville band played a congratulatory farewell as they departed. Our boys have been playing a little more than a year, and for that time of practice, they would be hard to beat. The result of the contest gave entire satisfaction to everybody, and especially to our band, as the boys were so well pleased with their brother musicians from across the line, that they would not have liked to have taken the first prize if they had beaten them. The Red Men have always offered prizes at their public celebrations and balls, and pay out more in that way than the net proceeds of their entertainments. Certainly they deserve great credit for their public spiritedness and liberality.

The band contest for the prize offered by the Red Men took place Wednesday afternoon. Only the Jacksonville Silver Cornet Band and the Henley Silver Cornet Band competed for them. The judges selected by the Red Men were Prof. H. T. Kugler, Hon. N. Langell, and Sergeant Dunlap. The bands occupied the long piazza in front of the U. S. Hotel, and the judges were stationed in windows in the Red Men's Hall, across on the opposite corner. An immense crowd of enthusiastic spectators filled the sidewalks and crowded doors, windows and house-tops in the immediate vicinity. The bands played each three tunes and after quite a long deliberation the first prize of $70 was awarded to the Henley band and the second $50 to the Jacksonville band. The judges decision elicited shouts of applause. The leader of the Jacksonville band proposed three cheers for the judges and three cheers for the Henley band which were given with cordial good will and the courtesies immediately returned by the leader of Henley band with equal good will. Hon. N. Langell and Sergeant Dunlap decided in favor of the Henley band, while Prof. Kugler, who is one of the most perfect and accomplished musicians on the coast, maintained his decision in favor of the Jacksonville band which is highly complimentary to the Jacksonville band. The Henley band started for home soon after the contest and the Jacksonville band played a congratulatory farewell as they departed. Our boys have been playing a little more than a year, and for that time of practice, they would be hard to beat. The result of the contest gave entire satisfaction to everybody, and especially to our band, as the boys were so well pleased with their brother musicians from across the line, that they would not have liked to have taken the first prize if they had beaten them. The Red Men have always offered prizes at their public celebrations and balls, and pay out more in that way than the net proceeds of their entertainments. Certainly they deserve great credit for their public spiritedness and liberality.

The band contest for the prize offered by the Red Men took place Wednesday afternoon. Only the Jacksonville Silver Cornet Band and the Henley Silver Cornet Band competed for them. The judges selected by the Red Men were Prof. H. T. Kugler, Hon. N. Langell, and Sergeant Dunlap. The bands occupied the long piazza in front of the U. S. Hotel, and the judges were stationed in windows in the Red Men's Hall, across on the opposite corner. An immense crowd of enthusiastic spectators filled the sidewalks and crowded doors, windows and house-tops in the immediate vicinity. The bands played each three tunes and after quite a long deliberation the first prize of $70 was awarded to the Henley band and the second $50 to the Jacksonville band. The judges decision elicited shouts of applause. The leader of the Jacksonville band proposed three cheers for the judges and three cheers for the Henley band which were given with cordial good will and the courtesies immediately returned by the leader of Henley band with equal good will. Hon. N. Langell and Sergeant Dunlap decided in favor of the Henley band, while Prof. Kugler, who is one of the most perfect and accomplished musicians on the coast, maintained his decision in favor of the Jacksonville band which is highly complimentary to the Jacksonville band. The Henley band started for home soon after the contest and the Jacksonville band played a congratulatory farewell as they departed. Our boys have been playing a little more than a year, and for that time of practice, they would be hard to beat. The result of the contest gave entire satisfaction to everybody, and especially to our band, as the boys were so well pleased with their brother musicians from across the line, that they would not have liked to have taken the first prize if they had beaten them. The Red Men have always offered prizes at their public celebrations and balls, and pay out more in that way than the net proceeds of their entertainments. Certainly they deserve great credit for their public spiritedness and liberality.

The band contest for the prize offered by the Red Men took place Wednesday afternoon. Only the Jacksonville Silver Cornet Band and the Henley Silver Cornet Band competed for them. The judges selected by the Red Men were Prof. H. T. Kugler, Hon. N. Langell, and Sergeant Dunlap. The bands occupied the long piazza in front of the U. S. Hotel, and the judges were stationed in windows in the Red Men's Hall, across on the opposite corner. An immense crowd of enthusiastic spectators filled the sidewalks and crowded doors, windows and house-tops in the immediate vicinity. The bands played each three tunes and after quite a long deliberation the first prize of $70 was awarded to the Henley band and the second $50 to the Jacksonville band. The judges decision elicited shouts of applause. The leader of the Jacksonville band proposed three cheers for the judges and three cheers for the Henley band which were given with cordial good will and the courtesies immediately returned by the leader of Henley band with equal good will. Hon. N. Langell and Sergeant Dunlap decided in favor of the Henley band, while Prof. Kugler, who is one of the most perfect and accomplished musicians on the coast, maintained his decision in favor of the Jacksonville band which is highly complimentary to the Jacksonville band. The Henley band started for home soon after the contest and the Jacksonville band played a congratulatory farewell as they departed. Our boys have been playing a little more than a year, and for that time of practice, they would be hard to beat. The result of the contest gave entire satisfaction to everybody, and especially to our band, as the boys were so well pleased with their brother musicians from across the line, that they would not have liked to have taken the first prize if they had beaten them. The Red Men have always offered prizes at their public celebrations and balls, and pay out more in that way than the net proceeds of their entertainments. Certainly they deserve great credit for their public spiritedness and liberality.

The band contest for the prize offered by the Red Men took place Wednesday afternoon. Only the Jacksonville Silver Cornet Band and the Henley Silver Cornet Band competed for them. The judges selected by the Red Men were Prof. H. T. Kugler, Hon. N. Langell, and Sergeant Dunlap. The bands occupied the long piazza in front of the U. S. Hotel, and the judges were stationed in windows in the Red Men's Hall, across on the opposite corner. An immense crowd of enthusiastic spectators filled the sidewalks and crowded doors, windows and house-tops in the immediate vicinity. The bands played each three tunes and after quite a long deliberation the first prize of $70 was awarded to the Henley band and the second $50 to the Jacksonville band. The judges decision elicited shouts of applause. The leader of the Jacksonville band proposed three cheers for the judges and three cheers for the Henley band which were given with cordial good will and the courtesies immediately returned by the leader of Henley band with equal good will. Hon. N. Langell and Sergeant Dunlap decided in favor of the Henley band, while Prof. Kugler, who is one of the most perfect and accomplished musicians on the coast, maintained his decision in favor of the Jacksonville band which is highly complimentary to the Jacksonville band. The Henley band started for home soon after the contest and the Jacksonville band played a congratulatory farewell as they departed. Our boys have been playing a little more than a year, and for that time of practice, they would be hard to beat. The result of the contest gave entire satisfaction to everybody, and especially to our band, as the boys were so well pleased with their brother musicians from across the line, that they would not have liked to have taken the first prize if they had beaten them. The Red Men have always offered prizes at their public celebrations and balls, and pay out more in that way than the net proceeds of their entertainments. Certainly they deserve great credit for their public spiritedness and liberality.

The band contest for the prize offered by the Red Men took place Wednesday afternoon. Only the Jacksonville Silver Cornet Band and the Henley Silver Cornet Band competed for them. The judges selected by the Red Men were Prof. H. T. Kugler, Hon. N. Langell, and Sergeant Dunlap. The bands occupied the long piazza in front of the U. S. Hotel, and the judges were stationed in windows in the Red Men's Hall, across on the opposite corner. An immense crowd of enthusiastic spectators filled the sidewalks and crowded doors, windows and house-tops in the immediate vicinity. The bands played each three tunes and after quite a long deliberation the first prize of $70 was awarded to the Henley band and the second $50 to the Jacksonville band. The judges decision elicited shouts of applause. The leader of the Jacksonville band proposed three cheers for the judges and three cheers for the Henley band which were given with cordial good will and the courtesies immediately returned by the leader of Henley band with equal good will. Hon. N. Langell and Sergeant Dunlap decided in favor of the Henley band, while Prof. Kugler, who is one of the most perfect and accomplished musicians on the coast, maintained his decision in favor of the Jacksonville band which is highly complimentary to the Jacksonville band. The Henley band started for home soon after the contest and the Jacksonville band played a congratulatory farewell as they departed. Our boys have been playing a little more than a year, and for that time of practice, they would be hard to beat. The result of the contest gave entire satisfaction to everybody, and especially to our band, as the boys were so well pleased with their brother musicians from across the line, that they would not have liked to have taken the first prize if they had beaten them. The Red Men have always offered prizes at their public celebrations and balls, and pay out more in that way than the net proceeds of their entertainments. Certainly they deserve great credit for their public spiritedness and liberality.

The band contest for the prize offered by the Red Men took place Wednesday afternoon. Only the Jacksonville Silver Cornet Band and the Henley Silver Cornet Band competed for them. The judges selected by the Red Men were Prof. H. T. Kugler, Hon. N. Langell, and Sergeant Dunlap. The bands occupied the long piazza in front of the U. S. Hotel, and the judges were stationed in windows in the Red Men's Hall, across on the opposite corner. An immense crowd of enthusiastic spectators filled the sidewalks and crowded doors, windows and house-tops in the immediate vicinity. The bands played each three tunes and after quite a long deliberation the first prize of $70 was awarded to the Henley band and the second $50 to the Jacksonville band. The judges decision elicited shouts of applause. The leader of the Jacksonville band proposed three cheers for the judges and three cheers for the Henley band which were given with cordial good will and the courtesies immediately returned by the leader of Henley band with equal good will. Hon. N. Langell and Sergeant Dunlap decided in favor of the Henley band, while Prof. Kugler, who is one of the most perfect and accomplished musicians on the coast, maintained his decision in favor of the Jacksonville band which is highly complimentary to the Jacksonville band. The Henley band started for home soon after the contest and the Jacksonville band played a congratulatory farewell as they departed. Our boys have been playing a little more than a year, and for that time of practice, they would be hard to beat. The result of the contest gave entire satisfaction to everybody, and especially to our band, as the boys were so well pleased with their brother musicians from across the line, that they would not have liked to have taken the first prize if they had beaten them. The Red Men have always offered prizes at their public celebrations and balls, and pay out more in that way than the net proceeds of their entertainments. Certainly they deserve great credit for their public spiritedness and liberality.

The band contest for the prize offered by the Red Men took place Wednesday afternoon. Only the Jacksonville Silver Cornet Band and the Henley Silver Cornet Band competed for them. The judges selected by the Red Men were Prof. H. T. Kugler, Hon. N. Langell, and Sergeant Dunlap. The bands occupied the long piazza in front of the U. S. Hotel, and the judges were stationed in windows in the Red Men's Hall, across on the opposite corner. An immense crowd of enthusiastic spectators filled the sidewalks and crowded doors, windows and house-tops in the immediate vicinity. The bands played each three tunes and after quite a long deliberation the first prize of $70 was awarded to the Henley band and the second $50 to the Jacksonville band. The judges decision elicited shouts of applause. The leader of the Jacksonville band proposed three cheers for the judges and three cheers for the Henley band which were given with cordial good will and the courtesies immediately returned by the leader of Henley band with equal good will. Hon. N. Langell and Sergeant Dunlap decided in favor of the Henley band, while Prof. Kugler, who is one of the most perfect and accomplished musicians on the coast, maintained his decision in favor of the Jacksonville band which is highly complimentary to the Jacksonville band. The Henley band started for home soon after the contest and the Jacksonville band played a congratulatory farewell as they departed. Our boys have been playing a little more than a year, and for that time of practice, they would be hard to beat. The result of the contest gave entire satisfaction to everybody, and especially to our band, as the boys were so well pleased with their brother musicians from across the line, that they would not have liked to have taken the first prize if they had beaten them. The Red Men have always offered prizes at their public celebrations and balls, and pay out more in that way than the net proceeds of their entertainments. Certainly they deserve great credit for their public spiritedness and liberality.

The band contest for the prize offered by the Red Men took place Wednesday afternoon. Only the Jacksonville Silver Cornet Band and the Henley Silver Cornet Band competed for them. The judges selected by the Red Men were Prof. H. T. Kugler, Hon. N. Langell, and Sergeant Dunlap. The bands occupied the long piazza in front of the U. S. Hotel, and the judges were stationed in windows in the Red Men's Hall, across on the opposite corner. An immense crowd of enthusiastic spectators filled the sidewalks and crowded doors, windows and house-tops in the immediate vicinity. The bands played each three tunes and after quite a long deliberation the first prize of $70 was awarded to the Henley band and the second $50 to the Jacksonville band. The judges decision elicited shouts of applause. The leader of the Jacksonville band proposed three cheers for the judges and three cheers for the Henley band which were given with cordial good will and the courtesies immediately returned by the leader of Henley band with equal good will. Hon. N. Langell and Sergeant Dunlap decided in favor of the Henley band, while Prof. Kugler, who is one of the most perfect and accomplished musicians on the coast, maintained his decision in favor of the Jacksonville band which is highly complimentary to the Jacksonville band. The Henley band started for home soon after the contest and the Jacksonville band played a congratulatory farewell as they departed. Our boys have been playing a little more than a year, and for that time of practice, they would be hard to beat. The result of the contest gave entire satisfaction to everybody, and especially to our band, as the boys were so well pleased with their brother musicians from across the line, that they would not have liked to have taken the first prize if they had beaten them. The Red Men have always offered prizes at their public celebrations and balls, and pay out more in that way than the net proceeds of their entertainments. Certainly they deserve great credit for their public spiritedness and liberality.

The band contest for the prize offered by the Red Men took place Wednesday afternoon. Only the Jacksonville Silver Cornet Band and the Henley Silver Cornet Band competed for them. The judges selected by the Red Men were Prof. H. T. Kugler, Hon. N. Langell, and Sergeant Dunlap. The bands occupied the long piazza in front of the U. S. Hotel, and the judges were stationed in windows in the Red Men's Hall, across on the opposite corner. An immense crowd of enthusiastic spectators filled the sidewalks and crowded doors, windows and house-tops in the immediate vicinity. The bands played each three tunes and after quite a long deliberation the first prize of $70 was awarded to the Henley band and the second $50 to the Jacksonville band. The judges decision elicited shouts of applause. The leader of the Jacksonville band proposed three cheers for the judges and three cheers for the Henley band which were given with cordial good will and the courtesies immediately returned by the leader of Henley band with equal good will. Hon. N. Langell and Sergeant Dunlap decided in favor of the Henley band, while Prof. Kugler, who is one of the most perfect and accomplished musicians on the coast, maintained his decision in favor of the Jacksonville band which is highly complimentary to the Jacksonville band. The Henley band started for home soon after the contest and the Jacksonville band played a congratulatory farewell as they departed. Our boys have been playing a little more than a year, and for that time of practice, they would be hard to beat. The result of the contest gave entire satisfaction to everybody, and especially to our band, as the boys were so well pleased with their brother musicians from across the line, that they would not have liked to have taken the first prize if they had beaten them. The Red Men have always offered prizes at their public celebrations and balls, and pay out more in that way than the net proceeds of their entertainments. Certainly they deserve great credit for their public spiritedness and liberality.

The band contest for the prize offered by the Red Men took place Wednesday afternoon. Only the Jacksonville Silver Cornet Band and the Henley Silver Cornet Band competed for them. The judges selected by the Red Men were Prof. H. T. Kugler, Hon. N. Langell, and Sergeant Dunlap. The bands occupied the long piazza in front of the U. S. Hotel, and the judges were stationed in windows in the Red Men's Hall, across on the opposite corner. An immense crowd of enthusiastic spectators filled the sidewalks and crowded doors, windows and house-tops in the immediate vicinity. The bands played each three tunes and after quite a long deliberation the first prize of $70 was awarded to the Henley band and the second $50 to the Jacksonville band. The judges decision elicited shouts of applause. The leader of the Jacksonville band proposed three cheers for the judges and three cheers for the Henley band which were given with cordial good will and the courtesies immediately returned by the leader of Henley band with equal good will. Hon. N. Langell and Sergeant Dunlap decided in favor of the Henley band, while Prof. Kugler, who is one of the most perfect and accomplished musicians on the coast, maintained his decision in favor of the Jacksonville band which is highly complimentary to the Jacksonville band. The Henley band started for home soon after the contest and the Jacksonville band played a congratulatory farewell as they departed. Our boys have been playing a little more than a year, and for that time of practice, they would be hard to beat. The result of the contest gave entire satisfaction to everybody, and especially to our band, as the boys were so well pleased with their brother musicians from across the line, that they would not have liked to have taken the first prize if