

JACKSONVILLE SATURDAY, MARCH 18, 1886.

Republican State Convention.

A Republican Convention for the State of Oregon is called to meet at Portland, Oregon, on Wednesday, April 22, 1886, at 11 o'clock a. m. for the purpose of nominating candidates for the following offices, to-wit: Representative in Congress, Judge of the Supreme Court, Governor, Secretary of State, State Treasurer, Superintendent of Public Instruction, State Printer and district officers of the several judicial districts; and to transact such other business as may properly come before the Convention which will consist of 305 delegates, apportioned among the several counties as follows: Baker... 6 Benton... 8 Clackamas... 10 Clatsop... 8 Columbia... 4 Coos... 7 Crook... 3 Curry... 2 Douglas... 9 Gilliam... 4 Grant... 5 Jackson... 7 Josephine... 3 Klamath... 2 Lake... 2 Lane... 9 Linn... 11 Marion... 16 Morrow... 4 Multnomah... 25 Polk... 6 Tillamook... 2 Umatilla... 10 Union... 9 Wasco... 9 Washington... 7 Yamhill... 3

The committee recommend that the primaries be held in the several precincts on Tuesday, April 6th, and the county conventions on Friday, April 16th, 1886, unless otherwise ordered by the proper County Central Committee.

Republican County Convention.

The Republican County Central Committee of Jackson county is hereby called to meet in Jacksonville on Friday, March 19th, to transact such business as may be before it. MERRITT BELLINGER, Chairman.

Our County Debt.

The financial condition of our county has been fairly and plainly laid before the voters of the county. They cannot plead ignorance of the fact that our county at this time is over $100,000 in debt. If they will carefully examine the exhibit given July 1885, and the one given January, 1886, they will discover that our county debt under the present administration has increased, about $49,602.44. We challenge our cotem to give a showing that will make any material change in their favor. It is certainly his duty to come to the defense of those that have so many years favored him. We also assert that he cannot show where a single dollar is to come from to reduce this large indebtedness. The amount required for county expenses as per exhibit of 1885 is $37,399.15, this is $88.90 more than all the income of the county from every available source, hence the debt must increase instead of decreasing as they would have the people believe. The county debt was $54,232.89 when the present administration came in, the last exhibit shows an indebtedness of $91,835.83, add to this amount say $12,000, for interest and you will have about the debt of the county as near as can be reached by the figures furnished in the two exhibits. The "Times" editor being unable to answer our former articles on county finances, and feeling it his duty to defend those from whom he has received so many silver tokens of friendship, seen proper to charge the articles upon the politicians who desire office but cant get one. This probably is a better answer than none at all. We know of no Republican candidate for office, but if there were it would not change the financial condition of the county nor prove our assertions false. If our debt has not increased as much as above stated, just point out to the dear people where the mistake is and we will make the correction with pleasure. Let us hear from you Charles.

The Albany "Democrat" facetiously remarks: The Oregon candidate plant (genus candidatus) is a biennial, indigenous to our soil, and sprouts spontaneously, but the growth is much improved by careful culture and prudent pruning. It blossoms early and often, but only a meager part of the bloom produces fruit in the early part of June. In this climate it will not do to plant too many in the hill, and the suckers must absolutely all be pulled off and not allowed to imbibe the nourishment of man stalks. The crop promises to be abundant this year.

From Washington dispatches we hear that the President will send to the Senate the name of B. K. Bruce a colored gentleman from Mississippi, as a member of the civil service commission. A Democratic president appointing a darkey to fill an important position in the government is an evidence of the rapid progress that party has made in the last few years. This however, will make some of the old moss backs scratch their heads, but they must grieve and bear it for this is an age of progress and Democratic reform.

HON. BINGER HERMANN, OF DOUGLAS.

We here announce our candidate for Congress. We will pronounce no encomiums on, neither attempt to eulogize him, but let his record and services speak for him, for they entitle him to the nomination. He is the strongest candidate in the field and would receive a large vote from the conservative Democrats, besides the entire Republican vote. Republicans throughout the State should do nothing to jeopardize his nomination, for with any other nominee the success of our ticket is doubtful. We have heard the name of J. C. Fullerton of Roseburg, mentioned as a candidate for Secretary of State, but from our personal knowledge of the gentleman and his known zeal for the Republican cause, we conclude that his name has been used without his consent, and that he will not go before the convention for any office on the State ticket, as he well knows that either he or Mr. Hermann would have to be sacrificed. Mr. Hermann is now in a position where he will be able to accomplish much for our State, and it is sincerely to be hoped that he will be returned to Congress to serve a second term. Delegates to the State convention must bear in mind that other candidates must be sacrificed, to insure the nomination of Mr. Hermann.

The SENTINEL has hitherto refrained from endorsing candidates before their nomination by the convention; and only does so in this instance for the best interests of the party.

The Mill.

The new quartz mill has been running during the week day and night, employing two sets of hands. It is the Jones combination mill with a Frue concentrator. The mill was put in operation by the inventor, Mr. Jones, superintendent of the Union Iron works of Portland, where the mills are manufactured. Mr. Jones is a practical machinist, and also has a combination of the genius and the gentlemen, as during the time he has been engaged in adjusting the machinery, he has explained the process to a little less than two thousand persons, very few of them suspecting perhaps that the intelligent and obliging gentleman was himself the inventor and patentee. Messrs. Brown & Co. who have been here for several months past have contracted for an immense amount of ore, and intend, should the results justify it, to put up another mill at once. They have also impressed our people so favorably with their business capacity and integrity, that the business outlook of the enterprise is well assured. Mr. G. F. Dyer, a member of the firm, employs his time in a scientific test of ores that are crowding in from the contiguous locations in the valley, and Mr. Sherman Brown is the business manager of the firm. Next week we will give a detailed description of the milling process and machinery, with dates of patents, most of it being of recent invention, the capacity of the mill with running expenses and cost of construction, as we consider the enterprise of much value to the country as to merit an extended notice.

The Prohibition Star, the organ of the temperance party of the State, is quite sanguine. In leading editorial in its issue of yesterday it says: "This promises to be the most interesting political contest that ever took place in Oregon, and will mark a new era in the history of the State. It means the beginning of the end of the liquor traffic. Every legitimate means that can be brought to bear in the interest of the Prohibition party will be exercised. It is no child's play. Every county will be organized; it will not be a spasmodic effort here and there, but will be as broad and wise as the State."

Habitual Constipation Is a prolific source of misery and many ills, giving rise to Headache, Dullness, Fevers, Nervousness, Restlessness, Biliousness, Indigestion, Poisoning of Blood, etc. The bitter nauseous Liver medicines, pills, salts and draughts formerly used to relieve the sufferer, only aggravate the disease and sicken the stomach. All who are afflicted in that way, know the importance of the remedy pleasant to the palate, harmless in its nature, and truly beneficial in its action. The trial bottles of Syrup of Figs given away free of charge by our enterprising druggists Merritt and Robinson of Jacksonville prove that it is all that can be desired. Large bottles at fifty cents or one dollar.

Democratic candidates for sheriff are increasing at the rate of about three a week. At this rate there will be but few voters left that are not after office. Either more offices must be provided or a split inevitable.

On Friday, March 12, 1886, Lewis O'Neil suffered the extreme penalty of the law, by hanging until he was dead, for the murder of Lewis McDaniel, committed at Ashland November 20th, 1884. The facts in the case have been told so often that they are well known and it will always be remembered that it was a cold blooded murder, the assassin giving his victim no warning whatever and shooting him in the side of the face. The execution took place in an inclosure specially built for that purpose in the Court House yard in the presence of about 120 spectators the Fire Co. acting as guards. At two o'clock the condemned man in charge of Sheriff Jacobs and his deputies and accompanied by Rev. Father Blanchet, his spiritual advisor, ascended the scaffold and then asked O'Neil if he had anything to say. Contrary to general expectations he would not confess and would say nothing one way or the other, Father Blanchet speaking for him stating that the prisoner had nothing to say. The noose was then adjusted by the Sheriff and at 2:15 the trap fell and Lewis O'Neil was no more, his neck having been broken and he died almost without a struggle. Drs. Aiken, Robinson, Lempert and DeBar were present and after hanging about 15 minutes they pronounced him dead when he was cut down and placed in a coffin that had been prepared for that purpose. A large crowd of people collected on the outside of the Court House yard during the time but the best of order prevailed and dispersed quietly after the work was done. O'Neil's body was kept until to-day at the request of relatives, when he was buried in the Jacksonville cemetery and so ended the chapter.

To show what O'Neil was writing to his friends after his sentence and before his execution we submit the following dictated by the condemned man and written down by one of the guards acting as death watch: Substance of letter written to Mrs. McDaniel, in Jan. '86: "Mandy, you know that I told you several times while you were in this place awaiting trial not to be uneasy but if possible to have your trial put back until I could hear what action the Supreme court would take in my case. If I was denied a new trial, and you were found guilty, I would come to your relief and clear you by taking the whole responsibility on myself, although I am innocent but if you could not have your trial put back and that you were found guilty you should never hang or go to the penitentiary for I would save you. Now you have been tried and come clear, and it is in your power to save my life. You can do it by coming in to town and swearing that you did the killing, and that I had neither hand, act, or part in it, or any knowledge of it. That would clear me, and the law could not hurt you, as it says plainly that no man's life shall be put in jeopardy twice for the same offense. Then I could employ one of the best lawyers in California and come on the State of Oregon for heavy damages, and I would divide equally, or if that was not enough, I would give you all so I hope you will delay as I know you can save my life and the disgrace will be no worse on you than it is now." To Mr. Egerton, San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 1886 - Dear sir: - Please see what the law is or what could be done to Mrs. McDaniel in case she would relieve me by taking the whole responsibility herself. Please let me know as soon as possible.

Letter to Mrs. Fouts, Jan., 1886 - Dear Sister: - Have Joe and Al do all they can to find the man I sold the gun to or any one that would do that for me. The gun that was seen with me in the gun shop in court. The gun I had was not quite as long as the gun they had in court, and instead of a dragons head being carved on the stock it was a lions head. It looked very much like the gun that was in court, but was not the same. Letter to Julius, Feb., 1886 - Try and get some one to clear me by swearing that they done the killing and that will clear me. Then I will come back on the State for heavy damages and will make it all right with who ever will do it, then they can clear themselves by proving where they were on the 20th of Nov. 1884, the night McDaniel was killed. He was shot with buck shot on left side of the head on Church street, Ashland, within about 70 yards of his house.

ANOTHER BRUTE - Fred Steffens, a new comer here, was arrested Feb. 15th day and charged with the crime of sodomy committed on the seven year old son of Sitas J. Day. With the boy escaped he was nearly naked and ran to his home in that condition. Steffens had an examination before Justice Poudray who bound him over in the sum of $500 and he now languishes in jail awaiting his trial in Circuit Court.

An Efficient Remedy

In all cases of Bronchial and Pulmonary Affections is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. As such it is recognized and prescribed by the medical profession, and in many thousands of families, for the past forty years. It has been regarded as an invaluable household remedy. It is a preparation that only requires to be taken in very small quantities, and a few doses of it administered in the early stages of a cold or cough will effect a speedy cure, and may, very possibly, save life. There is no doubt whatever that

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has preserved the lives of great numbers of persons, by arresting the development of Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, and Pulmonary Consumption, and by the cure of those dangerous maladies. It should be kept ready for use in every family where there are children, as it is a medicine far superior to all others in the treatment of Croup, the alleviation of Whooping Cough, and the cure of Croup in childhood and youth. Promptitude in dealing with all diseases of this class is of the utmost importance. The loss of a single day may, in many cases, entail fatal consequences. Do not waste precious time in experimenting with medicines of doubtful efficacy, while the malady is constantly gaining a deeper hold, but take at once the speediest and most certain to cure.
