The following is a Philadelphia physician's advice to a young man pros pecting for a wife:

When the adult age is reachedwhat? As truly as every positive requires a negative, every knife its fork, and that opposites attract, so, too, with the genus homo, like birds they must mate, and it is not good for man to be alone. The great event of a man's life is to seek and secure a sweetheart and then have a wedding day. Now, to choose a proper wife and companion is the puzzle of puzzles in every man's experience. Some choose for beauty, others for accomplishments and blandishments, some for wit and manners, and the average young man for money and family; but, after all, love supported by prudence and discretion, other things being equal, should act as the all inspiring motive. Happiness follows love, and wealth cannot buy happiness; it may contribute to its existance, but happiness is an attribute weight, alum or phosphate powders. beyond purchase.

As a physicial advisor, no marriage should occur unless both contracting parties are healthful subjects; to be a good animal is the highest gift in na ture. A marriage has vast respon-1bility hinging upon it, the future procreation of our species, the perpetustion of the human family; therefore no man wants to become the father of a race of pigmies or deformed dwarfsphysicials cripples-to the disgracs of himself, wife and his progeny. God forbid! Let a man consider this well First of all, then, see that the prospective wife be a thoroughly health; girl and fine animal. It is safe for us to say that newadays far too many mothers are culpable for encouraging matrimony when they know in their heart of hearts that their daughters are subject to organic diseases. This 1s to beseverely deprecated and frowned down wherever and whenever seen. On the other hand, the presumptive swain who contemplates Hymen's knot and himself a shattered wreck, is noth ing short of a criminal. Marriage is, indeed, a serious question.

Next, the salt of common sense is an important necessity. Since marriage resolves itself into a permanent covenant instituted by God, to be broken only by death, and not like a loose pair of shoes that can be put on in the merning and removed at night, it is an i-sue that should occupy the mental, the moral, the spiritual, the practical and the consequential deductions of all thinking people to the soberest degree. The civil law may separate but it cannot sever. A divorce is a blot on the page of history, and about it there is always a bad smell. Anyone who esponses the conjugal yoke with the prospect of divorce ahead weds au ignis fature. Hence a man should choose his wife as did the sairted Primrose of "Vicar of Wak-field' memory, who choose his as she choose her wedding gown, not for fine, glossy surface, but for qualities that would wear well. A weman is either the fortune or bankruptcy of a man's fu

All tai'ors out the cost according to the cloth, which suggests how young folks should consider the circumstances of each other. It is wrong for a struggling young man without money or influence in the world, to wed a girl of affluence and wealth, fostered in the ents, when the same conditions cannot be extended her in the future; but then it is wrong for her to encourage such a young man unless she is willing to ence, which leads to misery, decay and death. LIVER REGULATOR

Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Spleen.

This purely vegetable pre-paration, now so celebrated as a Family Medicine, originated in the South in 1828. It acts gently on the Bowels and Kidneys and corrects the action of the Liver, and is, there-fore, the best preparatory medicine, whatever the sick-ness may prove to be. In all common diseases it will, un-nasisted by any other medi-cine, effect a speedy cure. Regulator is safe to administer cine, effect a speedy cure.

The Regulator is safe to administer in any condition of the system, and under no circumstances can it do harm. It will invigorate like a glass of wine, but is no intoxicating beverage to lead to intemperance; will promote dispestion, dissipate headache, and generally tone up the system. The deac is small, not unpleasant, and its virues undoubted.

No loss of time, no interruption or stoppage of business while taking the Regulator.

Children complaining of Colic, Headache, or Sick

Stormach, a tempoonful or more will give relief.

If taken occasionally by pa-tients exposed to MALARIA, will expel the poison and protect them from attack.

A PHYSICIAN'S OPINION.

I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the Liver to action, and at the same time aid instead of weakening) the dispestive and assimilative powers of the system.
