... Duty.

...rs and taxpayers of ...nty will soon be call... ...lect county officers, ...nty offices for the en... ...years, who will con... ...ancial affairs of the ... this county. Therefore it is a matter of great importance, to the taxpayers, whether such officers are honest, competent, and capable to manage the financial affairs of the people. Who is not competent to manage his own financial affairs successfully is not competent to manage the finances of Jackson county. The two years just past, the financial affairs of this county have been, extravagantly, and badly, managed, the county debt has been largely increased, which cannot be balanced by official "exhibits" but must be paid by the taxpayers, in hard earned dollars. It cannot be expected that the Democratic party will nominate their best men for county officers, from the fact of their large majority, and the contention between opposing factions, ...e different offices. ... party condition, incompetent men are as liable to receive nomination for office as those who are competent. This state of affairs has been plainly illustrated in the last Democratic county convention, where the most competent men for district offices were set aside, and the most incompetent received the delegation to the state convention. Hence it is the duty of the Republicans of this county to place in nomination representative men for the county offices, men of ability, and known integrity, men, whom the people will not fear to trust in the management of the financial affairs of Jackson county.

Monday afternoon the Supreme court rendered a decision which settles all controversies as to whether the circuit judges elected at the last election hold for two years or for the full term of six years. They retire from office July next. A case was prepared in Lane county which involved the point in dispute. The county clerk, Joel Ware, refused to include in his formal notice of a general election, that a circuit judge was to be voted for. W. S. Shaw, a resident of Lane county, applied to the state circuit court for a mandamus compelling the clerk to issue such notice. Judge Bean granted the mandamus and the case was appealed to the Supreme court, who sustained Judge Bean.

A Boston dispatch says: It is reported that 3,000 men are at work on the extension of the California & Oregon above Delta, and that the Southern Pacific company will extend the road to Strawberry valley as speedily as possible. The road is to connect with the Oregon & California for a through rail route from San Francisco to Portland, Oregon. The delay in the negotiations for the transfer of the Oregon & California to the Southern Pacific company is caused by the latter's desire to know the legal status of such acquisition with the government.

Col. T. R. Cornelius,

The Republican candidate for Governor, is one of the oldest and best known citizens of Oregon. He was born in Missouri in 1827. Three years after his arrival in the Territory, he volunteered in the Cayuse war and was in all the actions with the Indians. In 1855 he served in the Yakima war first as Captain, and afterwards as Colonel. In 1856 he was elected to the Territorial Council, and served until the State was admitted into the Union. He was then elected State Senator and served every session until 1876 missing only one term during the time of the rebellion, when he served as Colonel of a cavalry regiment, having charge of the post at Walla Walla. Col. Cornelius has served twice as President of the Senate. This brief outline of his life shows that he is a man of public affairs, thoroughly identified with the growth and prosperity of the State, and fully competent to discharge the duties of Governor to the satisfaction of the people. He is now living on his farm in Washington county, and understands the farming interests of the State as well as any other man. Though not a man of great wealth, he is in comfortable circumstances. He is a thoroughly honest man, of good judgment, and while not disposed to scheme himself, will not tolerate the schemes of others which he may regard as inimical to the interests of the State.

Many of our readers will remember that about a year ago several million gallons of whiskey were shipped to Canada, "exported" so to speak to avoid the taxes which Congress refused to extend the time for paying. It now turns out that it has recently been returned and bonded the same as new whiskey without the payment of the taxes due, and the secretary decides that is legal and lovely, whereat a considerable howl is being raised among those who are either interested in the collection of taxes or interfered with in business on account of the return of the spi...

There is a general feeling among the manufacturers of the city that a great strike will take place in New York about May 1st, and 100,000 men thrown out of work. At present all branches of the piano making trade and furniture makers have made a demand for shorter hours. What the result will be remains to be seen. The feeling among manufacturers is that they cannot comply with the requests of the unions, and the matter may possibly end in a compromise.

Sam Jones having converted a young newspaper man in Chicago, church members think he has achieved a great victory over the press and the devil. A Kansas City man hearing this report says: "A clergyman with a soft, insinuating tongue and pleasant address can convert a young journalist. Let him tackle the old ones. Take an old fellow who has been in the harness for forty years and get him on the mourner's bench and you have an item to waft to heaven."

We don't hear anything lately about what has been done with ex-Supreme Court Clerk McCarthy. After Grand Jury gets through with him, and his bondsmen settle up his embezzlement, he may be put forward as a candidate for a better paying office, so that he can gain enough to live on without stealing. The doctrine of "turn the rascals in," judging from the reputation of some of the men hunting after office.—"Journal."

At San Francisco, April 18th, Captain Paul Boyton swam from the Cliff House beach to the Seal Rocks, and climbed to the highest peak the first time the feat has been accomplished. While standing there he was attacked by seals, and in his fight with them he was badly bruised and cut about the head and body. On his return toward shore a heavy wave washed away his little boat "Baby Mine," with all it contained.

From all sides comes the word that already James G. Blaine is looming up as the coming man for the Presidency in 1888. Say what you please against him and the principles he advocated, this nation would have been vastly better off in everything which goes to make it great and prosperous had that 1060 plurality in New York been for him instead of Cleveland and his sham reform. Every disaster except the attempted payment of rebel claims, has attended the nation that was predicted by the Republicans in case of Democratic success. Stagnation of business, loss of confidence in commercial circles, stoppage of our great manufacturing industries, destruction of our home markets and consequent low prices in all agricultural products. Well, maybe the Republicans didn't know, but things have come out about as they predicted, only worse so far as labor troubles are concerned, and the end is not yet.

Quincy A. Brooks, at present a resident of Salem, has received a letter from Congressman Hermann, of which the following is extract. It will be interesting to people of southern and southeastern Oregon: "Klamath Lake has not escaped my attention. I secured a place for it in the river and harbor bill, which provides for a thorough survey and examination of Wood and Link rivers, with a view to the connected navigation of Lower and Upper Klamath, to be made under the authority of the U. S. engineer department. So far, Oregon comes off with flying colors, and my great anxiety now is to hold what we have. We shall have a bitter opposition to the river and harbor bill."

Grant was wounded but once, and slightly, during the war; Sherman was wounded three times at Shiloh; Hooker was hit at Antietam; Meade at Glendale, in McClellan's retreat from Richmond; Hancock at Gettysburg. Sheridan, Thomas, Schofield, Pope, McClellan and Buell never got a scratch. Lee, Bragg, Hardee and Beauregard were never wounded. Longstreet, Ewell, Joe Johnson and Hood were badly hurt. Bonaparte was never hit, save by a spent ball at Wagram. Greville in his "Memoirs" writes of Wellington that Lord Fitzroy Somerset (afterward Lord Baglan) never saw a man so cool and indifferent to danger as Wellington.

Hearst, the new democratic senator from California, cast his first vote against the admission of Washington into the Union. Some how these fellows can't get over their hatred of the Union, they never have liked it very well and they are so selfish that they don't want anybody else to enjoy its benefits even if they are in the lead. It comes just as natural for Hearst to vote against the admission of Washington as it did to the old time sympathizer to vote against the restoration of the Union.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The House Committee on Territories to-day ordered an adverse report on the Senate bill to admit the southern half of Dakota. The report will not be made until action is taken on the other bills regarding the admission of Dakota.

A defeated candidate is apt to look upon the gloomy side of everything for awhile after he has received a trouncing.

The mayor of Boston vetoed the ordinance making 8 hours a legal days work for the city.

CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH and Bronchitis immediately relieved by Shiloh's cure. Brooks keeps it.

Johnson's New Universal Cyclopædia.

Mr. C. H. Libby the General Manager for this work, called on us and gave us an opportunity of subscribing. We heartily commend Mr. Libby to all our readers. You cannot help being pleased with its merits. It is rich. It has an editorial staff of 37 of our greatest scholars and 2,500 contributors from all parts of America and Europe whose names are signed to their articles. It is "The Best" and the only original American Cyclopædia.

AFTER DINNER.

Persons who suffer from Indigestion can arrest the progress of that painful malady by the use of an after-dinner pill, so composed that it will give tone to the stomach, prevent heartburn, rouse the liver to healthful action, invigorate the kidneys, and thus, through the activity of these organs, promote the natural movement of the stomach and bowels. AYER'S PILLS are so compounded that their action, though mild, effectually produces the above results. They also, in curing Constipation, remove the cause of Billiousness, Liver Complaint, Kidney Disease, Rheumatism, and many other serious ailments.

AYER'S PILLS

contain no mineral nor poisonous substance, and do not gripe unless the bowels are irritated, and even then their influence is healing. To continue their effect in constipated or chronic cases, they need only be taken in diminishing instead of increasing doses. For seamen, and inhabitants or travelers in sparsely settled countries where physicians are not at hand, they are of inestimable value. There is hardly a sickness they will not alleviate, and in most cases cure, if taken promptly. To young girls just entering upon womanhood, and to women whose period of maternity is drawing to a close, Ayer's Pills, in moderate doses, merely sufficient to ensure regular action of the bowels, will be found of Incalculable Value.
