

OREGON SENTINEL

JACKSONVILLE, SATURDAY, July 3, 1886.

A correspondent in the daily "Oregonian" of the 26 of June signing himself Pioneer Republican attempts in his own way to give the political history of Senator Mitchell from 1862 down to the present time.

From the tone of the letter and the ideas advanced a stranger would be led to believe that the moral status of our state was indeed very low. It is indeed very surprising that the people would select such characters and send them to elect senators and make laws for us, if they are men such as described by the correspondent.

We will venture to say without fear of successful contradiction that the characters and standing of the men who voted for Mitchell in 1872 and 1882 will compare favorably with any other representations that elected a senator in this state. The writer evidently forgot when he was condemning the methods used by Mitchell's friends to elect him that Harry Scott who now publishes his own condemnation in the letter of Pioneer, as it is well known that he was the principal manipulator and wire puller for Mitchell during that senatorial campaign.

It is true that Mitchell was elected in the way hunted by Pioneer then it is also true that Scott was among the "contracting parties," as he was at the time Mitchell's man Friday ready to do his bidding at all times and under all circumstances. Pioneer also refers to the endorsement of Mitchell in 1874 by the Albany convention. Here again we find Scott on hand to have the resolution endorsing Mitchell passed by the convention which is now so bitterly condemned by Pioneer, but approvingly published by Scott.

This consistency will compare well with all his former political action since the malfeasance business, for which he was fired from the Custom house. Mitchell had no friend who expressed himself so devoted and true to him as Scott did, up to that particular period when the Custom house passed from his "gaze like a beautiful dream." Believing this to be the only cause for this continued barking upon the track of Mitchell, by this man Scott and others of like character, and as we believe the whole opposition is actuated by a desire for revenge for a supposed wrong, we therefore will stand by the assailed so long as he continues to do his duty and work for the interest of the State.

The California & Oregon.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—Matters at the railroad front on the California & Oregon wear a promising aspect, and there is little doubt that rail connection between this city and Portland will be an established fact before the close of another year. According to latest reports the advance guard of the right of way men have completed their labors in Northern Shasta county, and have passed into Siskiyou. The pole-hole men are near Bailey's, and several gangs of graders are close behind. The culvert builders are at Big Castle creek, only a few miles from the northern boundary of Siskiyou county. The bridge at tenth crossing of the Sacramento is completed, and the track has been laid to the eleventh. The main force of bridge builders is now at work at the twelfth and thirteenth crossings. A depot is about to be erected at Hazel creek. The California & Oregon stage company has moved its southern terminus from Slate creek to Gibson, to which point through passengers and freight trains are now running. It is expected that October 1 will find the track completed to Lower Soda Springs. It is thought that two tunnels will be necessary between Strawberry valley and Big Shasta. The engineers are having trouble in finding a practicable route through the valley. Land speculators and tourists are flocking to the newly developed region in great numbers.

Binger Hermann.

The National Republican, of Washington D. C., under the heading "The Office Seeks the Man," pays a fitting tribute to Hon. Binger Herman in its issue of June 12th. Among other things that journal says: The first congressman elected to the fiftieth congress is Hon. Binger Hermann, of Oregon. Mr. Herman did not seek the nomination, remained at his post of duty, exerted no effort for his reelection, but left it to the people. He has been one of the industrious, ever-working members of congress. While, as yet, not often on the floor and heard in debate, his characteristic is quiet, determined active work. One of the results of this fidelity to his state is seen in the generous attention of congress to the Oregon waterways and internal improvements. Mr. Hermann's record and his vote and voice have so far uniformly been on the side of the people—against fraudulent land grants and grasping monopolies, and the best moral and mental advancement of all public interests, state or national. Oregon has shown admirable wisdom as well as good policy in returning her tried member as 'tis demonstrated that those states with experience and continued representation are the largest beneficiaries of congressional legislation.

On Wednesday, says the Ashland "Tiding" of the 25th, the people of Klamath county received the welcome tidings that the order for the abandonment of Fort Klamath had been revoked by the President. The manifest injustice and injury to that part of the State, which such a move by the government would involve, made it seem most improbable that the troops would be removed, yet the fact that such an order had been issued caused grave apprehension and anxiety, and the result has been awaited with painful suspense. The anxiety is over now, however, and the peace, security and prosperity of Klamath county have not received the threatened blow. The development of the Klamath basin during the past two years has been remarkable, and it is matter for rejoicing all over the State that the progress of settlement and improvement in that section is to continue uninterrupted by a needless exposure of the people to liability of trouble with the large number of Indians on the reservation. The Indians are as much pleased as the whites, it is said, as they feared that unscrupulous stock men would encroach upon the reservation and invite conflicts between the Indians and settlers, if the garrison were removed.

The "Alta California" has this interesting item: Down on our Arizona border a Hualapai, pronounced "Wallop", Indian named Pisa got drunk and went on a leading tour, during which he killed his squaw, six bucks and threatened to hualap the whole tribe. Objections were about to pulverize Pisa, when some whites foolishly interfered to prevent so desirable an extermination, and now there are fears of an outbreak against the settlers. Why not let the Indians alone when they are usefully killing each other.

There is one phase of the labor question that is too often overlooked by the laboring men, and that is, that the price of a day's labor can no more be regulated by force than can the price of a bushel of wheat. The law may do much toward protecting laboring men from unjust oppression, and boards of arbitration may sometimes be useful in settling disputes between laborers and employers, but laws and boards of arbitration can no more compel a manufacturer to pay more for labor than his finished product will justify than they can compel the laborer to work for wages which he deems insufficient. We are free men in America, the employer no less than the employee.

C. H. Caldwell of Gold Hill was arrested for stealing 700 cigars from Peter Amas. Justice Fitzgerald found him over to appear before the grand jury, and placed him under $250 bonds which he furnished.

In the matter of the estate of Julien Raspot, deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the Administrator of the estate of Julien Raspot, deceased, has filed in the county court of Jackson County, Oregon, his final account as such administrator, and by order of said court Tuesday, the 6th day of July, 1886, at the hour of 10 o'clock A. M., set for hearing. All persons interested are hereby notified to appear and file his or her objections to said account on or before said day.

A Wise Reform.

The habit of administering quinine in powerful doses, as an antidote to malarial maladies, was once dangerously common. Happily this practice has undergone a wide reform. Not only the public, but professional men have adopted, not wholly, of course, but largely, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a safe and reliable substitute for the pernicious alkaloid. The consequences of this change are most important. Now fever and ague sufferers are cured—formerly their condition were only for the time relieved, or half cured—by the remedy eventually failing to produce any appreciable effect, except the doses were increased. A course of the Bitters, persistently followed, breaks up the malarial fever and prevents its return. The evidence in favor of this sterling specific and household medicine is of no subsequent character, but positive and satisfactory, and the sources whence it proceeds are very numerous.

PYÆMIA

Is the most virulent form of blood-poisoning. Less speedily fatal, but not less certainly so, is the vitiation of the blood of which the first symptoms are Eruptions, Sties, Boils, and Cutaneous Eruptions. When the talent of Serravallo gives warning of its presence by such indications, no time should be lost in using AYER'S SASSAPARILLA, the only perfect and reliable medicine for the purification of the blood.

SCROFULA

Is a foul corruption in the blood that rots out all the machinery of life. Nothing will eradicate it from the system and prevent its transmission to adjoining parts but AYER'S SASSAPARILLA. This preparation is also the only one that will cleanse the blood of Mercurial poison and the taint of Contagious Diseases. Impure blood is productive of

ANÆMIA,

A wretched condition indicated by Pallid Skin, Flaccid Muscles, Shattered Nerves, and Melancholy. Its first symptoms are Weakness, Languor, Loss of Nerve Force, and Mental Depression. Its course, unchecked, leads inevitably to insanity or death. Women frequently suffer from it. The only medicine that, while purifying the blood, enriches it with new vitality, and invigorates the whole system, is
