Labors vs. Rioters.

The Knights of Labor at Seattle have done a wise thing in placing themselves on record as opposed to the socialistic, anarchistic, communistic elements that have sought to prostitute the honorable purposes and features of the order. No sensible, loyal American workingman ever yet sympathized with the miserable foreign wretches who the other day fired at the American flag in the streets of Chicago. If any such have intruded themselves into the order it is the duty of the Knights, as loyal Americans, to disavow their presence, and that is what we understand the Knights at Seattle have done. At Chicago they have done the same, and we trust that every district assembly in the land will follow their example. Socialism is an alien growth, the seeds of which have been wafted from across the sea to our own soil only to bear the most pernicious fruits.

It is of course eminently unjust to hold the order in any way responsible, simply because the communistic element has been seeking to parade itself in the guise of workingmen. It may be true that some socialists have sneaked in through the back door of the order, so to speak, with the intention of betraying it at the proper time. Gottfried Walter in his testimony in turning state's evidence the other day at Chicago, declared that in a certain contingency he expected the workingmen to join them in their nefarious schemes. The sequel showed that the anarchists as thoroughly misunderstand the true character of the American workingman as the snobbish coolie organ of this city.

To hold the order itself responsible for any of the socialistic demonstration because some of its members have proved false to its acknowledged principles is as logical as it would be to pass a sweeping anathema upon Christianity because some of our greatest rascals and defaulters have been prominent Sunday-school men and church goers.—Portland "News."

An enterprising citizen in Idaho was elected a justice of the peace, and the only law book he had was a "Cushing's Manual." The first case before him was that of a cowboy, for stealing a steer. When the case was called, the only lawyer in the little town was there to defend the prisoner. "As there is no counsel for the other side," he said, "I make a motion the case be dismissed." The justice looked over his Manual. "A motion has to be seconded," he said. "I second the motion," promptly responded the prisoner. "The motion has been made and seconded that the case be dismissed," said the court. "All in favor will please say aye." The prisoner and his attorney voted aye. "All opposed say no." Nobody voted. "The motion is carried, and the case is dismissed," remarked the court. "A motion to adjourn is now in order." The prisoner made the motion and the court adjourned.

SACRAMENTO, July 20.—At extra session of Legislature, which convenes to-day, it is stated that strenuous endeavors will be made to elect A. A. Sargent to fill John F. Miller's unexpired term. Republicans have forty majority on joint ballot. Governor Stoneman on being interviewed yesterday on possibility of attempt being made to elect a U. S. Senator, stated emphatically that he had not the slightest idea that such a thing would take place. "I thought of that before my proclamation on the Irrigation question was issued, but I am confident that nothing will be done to disturb the seat of Senator Hearst."

Washington vetoed only two bills in his eight years service as President and Lincoln only one. All the Presidents prior to Cleveland vetoed one hundred and nine bills, while he has already reached nearly as many. The bills vetoed save $7,000 to the treasury each year, while the President's green house costs the country over $10,000.

Extensive and elaborate preparations are being pushed forward in San Francisco for the approaching Grand Army reunion. One of the features will be an immense triumphal arch under which the grand parade will pass during the encampment. It will be one of the largest structures of the kind ever raised, and artistic talent has been brought into use in making it. The site of the arch will be on Market street, near O'Farrell, opposite the lot formerly occupied by the Bancroft building. The main arch will span the street, the opening being sixty feet wide and fifty feet high. At each side are towers with smaller arches spanning the sidewalks on each side. The towers will be sixteen feet wide and twenty-five feet running the direction of the street. The distance from the ground to the top of the framework of the arch is eighty feet. The side arches are thirteen feet wide.

Nothing like a newspaper standing up in defense of home manufactures: A New Jersey woman sent her boy for flea powder to be used on a pet goat, and because Billy didn't die, the eastern newspapers say that California flea powder is a fraud. The S. F. "Alta" rises in defense of California flea powder. It says: It is an insecticide, the most effective in the world, but it is not poisonous. We have a friend who mistook a can of it for mustard, mixed it with vinegar and ate it on his corned beef. That, certainly, ought to be sufficient, at all events it tends to prove that the friend of the California editor has a stomach as strong as the average New Jersey goat.

There is bad news for defaulters and dynamiters. A new treaty of extradition between the United States and Great Britain has been negotiated, and will soon be sent to the Senate. By the terms of this treaty Great Britain is to surrender our defaulters who rush off to Canada, and we are to surrender the dynamiters who commit outrages in the British dominions. This will be equitable all round. But defaulting and dynamiting will not be such pleasant pastimes.

For every sixteen months since the war was over the Republicans averaged a reduction of $84,000,000 on the public debt, besides paying interest on the whole balance a great portion of the time at from 6 to 7 1/2 per cent. The Democrats have only paid $58,000,000 in a corresponding time, nor have they done any other big things notwithstanding the wonderful good times they promised us, but comparisons are odious.

Land offices are in receipt of a letter from the commissioner of the general land office, dated June 4, 1886, in relation to the repayment of the excess purchase money paid on pre-emption and commuted homestead entries. It is to the effect that the party who originally entered the land and paid the purchase price, is entitled to the rebate and no part of it is to be paid to subsequent owners of the tract.

Gladstone's "Home Rule for Ireland" has been defeated for the present by the voters of Great Britain. He is defeated but not conquered, and "Home Rule for Ireland" is postponed but not prevented. Its triumph is only a question of time. Gladstone telegraphed to his friends: "Wales and Scotland have done their duty quickly. England will have to learn hers, but slowly and painfully."

Representative Milliken of Maine, says that Blaine's "Twenty Years in Congress" has thus far netted its author $250,000. It may be doubted whether President Cleveland will ever write a book that will have so great a sale.

Congress has been in session seven months, and the whole business is thus summed up by the Boston Pilot: "Congress has done nothing and the President vetoed it."
