Pension Vetoes.

Much admiration and praise is given to President Cleveland by the Democratic press for his fearless and statesman-like effort to retrench and economize by vetoing about one hundred individual pension bills for old soldiers whose infirmities contracted while in defense of their country have rendered them physically unable to support themselves. If any doubt his want of backbone they may, from this time on, rest easy on that subject. Had the bills for pensioning these soldiers and widows become laws the amount that would have been required each year to pay these pensions would have reached the sum of about $10.000. This amount, though small, would doubtless have been a great blessing to those old veterans who spent the best part of their lives in defence of the government over which Mr. Cleveland presides as President. The $10,000 saved in this way, and by cutting down cu mail services throughout the West will doubtless enable the Democracy to make a splendid showing of retrenchment under this administration. From published statements, we learn that $20,000 has been asked for, and recommended by the lower House for flowers for the White House this year. Now, by taking the $10,000 saved to the nation by vetoing the pension bills for the crippled old soldiers and applying it to purchase delicate flowers for Frankie to enjoy, while her massive lord is watching with a jealous eye the people's money, is indeed convincing evidence of his great executive and financial ability. The President refers in his messages to the long time these old soldiers have supported themselves before asking assistance from the Government they saved for us all. This is true, and it is indeed to be regretted that old age will, in spite of all their resistance, steal upon these old soldiers and render them unable to support themselves. Therefore, they can now at this late day look after their own support. As for the flowers, they are indispensible and necessary to the comfort and happiness of a young bride of only twenty-two summers. Even though a few worthless Union soldiers should be made to starve. We cannot close this article without referring to the President's able circular to subordinates, warning them to refrain from interfering with local politics, thus giving further assurance of his intention to enforce the civil service law to the letter, except in such cases where it is absolutely necessay to carry a doubtful state, as was the case in the last election in New York, which induced the President and his cabinet to contribute $4 000 to secure the election of Governor Hill. It is not presumed that the civil service law is expected to reach high officials such as the President, and his cabinet therefore, if they see proper to contribute a few thousand dollars to secure the vote of Tammany or to purchase a few thousand votes, always in the New York market, they cannot be charged with having willfully violated the spirit of the law. It is the private not the captain that must obey orders.

Will Elect a Senator.

SACRAMENTO, July 28.—The Republican caucus this afternoon resolved to elect a United States senator to succeed Senator Hearst, recently appointed by Governor Stoneman to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Miller.

It is now stated here that the selection for the senatorship will be made from prominent business men of San Francisco. Among the names mentioned are W. W. Montague, Capt Merry, H. L. Dodge, Irving M. Scott and J. B. Stetson. The friends of Henry Edgerton are also making a canvass for him for the United States senatorship. Vroman, who has been mentioned as a possible successor of Hearst, has declared himself out of the fight.

How to Raise Potatoes.

"A Fairchild (Conn.) farmer has raised 200 varities of potatoes this season."

Any farmer who feels disposed can raise or grow new varieties of potatoes. The process is simple but needs a little patience. It requires three years by natural process to grow new varieties of Potatoes. Take potato balls which grow on the vines, and when fully matured lay them away in some dry place. The next spring plant them and in the fall you will have a crop of potatoes about the size of peas. Gather these and take good care of them till spring, then plant them as you would other potatoes. In the fall you will be rewarded by a crop varying in size from a robbin's egg to a small hen's egg. Gather these and plant as before and you will have next fall, a full grown crop of potatoes, of all sorts, sizes and colors. The number of new varities you will have will depend upon the care and judgment you exercise in gathering the potato balls for seed. They should be gathered from different parts of the field and from different fields as possible. This is very pleasant pastime, and you are likely to be rewarded with a new variety of potatoes that will excel any variety yet discovered; for the potato ball contains an exhaustless variety of germs that only want cultivating to bring them into their natural state of perfection.

It would be interesting to know just what an intelligent and honest Democrat who keeps himself posted thinks of the present administration, It tried to destroy silver as money. It refuses to pay the National debt but promptly pays interest on the bonds long past due instead of paying the principal and stopping the interest, It has cut down the mail service all over the West and South and yet showed the largest indebtedness within the last twenty years. It has furnished the R... Electric corruption, which to say the least is as huge a fraud as ever the credit mobilier was and never benefitted even its corrupt stock-holders, and now if the River and harbor bill is defeated, a measure so essential to the common prosperity of the Pacific coast and Oregon in particular, it will be still more an interesting question as to what the class we have mentioned will think.

"A Democrat, eighty years old," writes to the New York World, to protest against its efforts to raise a campaign fund for Mr. Gladstone. Have not the friends of Ireland in this country quite as much right to contribute to the campaign fund in England as the Cobden Club have to contribute to the free trade fund in this country? When the Cobden Club furnishes money to subsidize newspapers and elect congressmen in order to lower the wages of Irishmen and every other working man in this country, we take it England has no right to kick because we contribute something for home rule in Ireland.

BOSTON, July 28.—By the overturning of a box of so-called eggs from a truck in Tremont street to-day the latest method of smuggling whiskey into Rhode Island was discovered. The truck contained cases holding 147 dozen eggs, on the way to some liquor dealer at Newport. The eggs were common porcelain shells, such as sold for "nest eggs." Each one contained about enough whiskey for a good drink. They were filled through a small hole in the big end, and the hole was closed with waterproof cemented cloth of the same color as an egg. By chalking the eggs the deception was complete.

The next Oregon legislature which meets in January is of the following complexion: In the Senate there will be 19 Republicans, and 11 Democrats. In the house 33 Republicans and 27 Democrats, a Republican majority of 14 on joint ballot.

Private letters received from the Oregon representatives in Washington, say Congress will adjourn this week without doubt. They have but little hope of the River and Harbor bill in which Oregon and Washington are so deeply interested.

Fred Grant says that he has reduced his debts from $880,000 to $500,000. He gives nearly everything he makes to his creditors.

Sam Jones gives some very wholesome advice to political Prohibitionists. He says: "Prohibition with politics will help politics, but don't you put any politics in your Prohibition. If you do you are gone. You see I put sugar in my coffee, but if you put your coffee in your sugar your sugar is ruined."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has demonstrated its power of cure for all diseases of the blood.

The Harpooner's Story.

New Bedford, June 1, 1883.

DR. J. C. AYER & Co.—Twenty years ago I was a harpooner in the North Pacific, when five others of the crew and myself were laid up with scurvy. Our bodies were bloated, gums swollen and bleeding, teeth loose, purple blotches all over us, and our breath seemed rotten. Take it by and large we were pretty badly off. All our lime-juice was accidentally destroyed, but the captain had a couple dozen bottles of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA and gave us that. We recovered on it quicker than I have ever seen men brought about by any other treatment for Scurvy, and I've seen a good deal of it. Seeing no mention in your Almanac of your Sarsaparilla being good for scurvy, I thought you ought to know of this, and so send you the facts.

Respectfully yours, RALPH V. WINGATE.

The Trooper's Experience.

Mowree, Basutoland (S. Africa,) March 7, 1883.

DR. J. C. AYER & Co.—Gentlemen: I have much pleasure to testify to the great value of your Sarsaparilla. We have been stationed here for over two years, during which time we had to live in tents. Being under canvas for such a time brought on what is called in this country "veldt-sores." I had those sores for some time. I was advised to take your Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which made my sores disappear rapidly, and I am now quite well.

Yours truly, T. E. BOWEN,
Trooper, Cape Mounted Riflemen.
