[The Oregon Sentinel, June 11, 1898]

Last week was the scene of a festive parade which proved to be the most imposing demonstration ever witnessed in Oregon. It was on this occasion that the Oregon Sentinel, the organ of the Republican Party, issued its last number. The parade was a spectacular exhibition of the strength and prowess of the Republican forces in the state. The march was led by a band of musicians, followed by a group of soldiers and volunteers, and concluded with a review of the troops by Governor Smith. The whole event was received with universal approval, and the Republican Party emerged from it with enhanced prestige.
