

Oregon City, Oregon:

D. C. IRELAND, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

Saturday, May 11th, 1867.

A Word to Farmers.

English farmers frequently get sixty to eighty bushels of wheat to the acre...

Undoubtedly, in this country we cultivate too much land, and we injure thereby both it and ourselves...

It is time the old drastic method of taking away from the soil and giving nothing were changed...

The Mexicans, it is said, use plows of the same kind that Cortez introduced more than three hundred years ago...

As an instance of the productiveness of our soil, look at a crop of wheat raised in this county last year by Mr. E. B. Lewelling...

NEED OF A BRANCH MINT.—The following is a paragraph from a letter from Hon. J. H. D. Henderson, written by Mr. O. H. Hanson, of the Dalles, in September 1865.

It is a long time since that letter was written, and yet Oregon is without a branch mint, notwithstanding the State has taken giant strides in other branches of its development.

DE. LIVINGSTONE.—Since the paragraph on the first page of this paper was printed we have received confirmation of the fact that Dr. Livingstone is dead.

The McCall-McDowell Case.

Speaking of the late decision in the above case by Judge Deady, in the U. S. Court for the District of Columbia, the Oregonian says Judge Deady does not question the constitutionality of the act of 1853...

To protect the liberty of the citizens, and at the same time to take due care for the public safety, in densely populated common law countries...

A correspondent signing himself Army, in the Bulletin of the 30th says: Having carefully read the decision of Judge Deady in the above case...
