Sitka. Ross Brown.-We have received the grand flour-ish of Ross Brown, his mineral report to Congress. It is just like his sweetheart-a damsel.

A STRIKE ANTICIPATED .- While at Salem on Tuesday last we heard it intimated there among excursionists, for twelve hours a day. Ike Moores is at the head of the movement.

SALEM BASE BALL.-On last Tuesday evening the Salem Base Ball Club, which has but recently been formed, were out for field exercise, on the beautiful grounds selected by the club near the Court House in that city.

Just So. - Speaking of the Oregon mail service, the Sentinel says: "If our people feel interested in the matter of a daily mail. as at present, we advise the circulation of a petition at once, protesting against any chapge in the service. Such a petition would receive the name of almost every person south of Eugene and north of Shasta, and would undoubtedly have the desired effect. If no one feels interested, then we will just get such mail facilities as the Department chooses to grant us."

ILLICIT DISTILLING.—A gentleman living in the vicinity of Wapato lake has for some time past been engaged in reducing wheat to whisky, in order that he might the more conveniently carry it to a market. It appears that this enterprising gentleman has failed to recognize the authority of the United States to collect a revenue from his | the mast until picked up by George Clark distillery, and he has heretofore attempted to keep its location and products dark. Some person has at last discovered the whereabouts of this illicit still and imparted his information to United States Marshal Zieber, says the Herald of Thursday, who started for the plains yesterday morning, determined to capture the instiaution and its proprietor if possible.

Salmon in Cases. Messes. Hume & Hapgood of Oak Point, have commenced the packing of salmon in tins, of capacity ranging from one to ten pounds. In order to do this in a profitable manner they have established a tin shop on the ground, in which mechanics are constantly employed in making cans. The firm are confident o that their enterprise will prove successful. for the reason that a demand will spring ap in the mining regions for local consumption, and in the San Francisco market for export to New York, Australia. and other foreign ports. The mills along the river, says the Herald, are making cases of sizes suitable for packing the different cans, and we expect shortly to see fish from this firm offered for sale in our

THE MILITARY ROAD COMPANY .- We learned from Mr. P. J. Pengra, on Tuesday last, many items of general interest concerning the Oregon Central Military Road Company, and its operation. The road is fa excellent order from Eugene City to a point beyond Diamond Peak. It passes through as fine a region of Oregon as any yet explored. Sprague's Valley, and indeed numerous other valleys, afford excellent opportunities for settlers. Could the Indians who now infest the region between the John Day and the California State line be removed, a second garden spot, almost equal to this valley, could be opened up, and rich mineral deposits found. The road is surveyed to Stein's Mountain. the press, said every other man he met and the worst portions of it nearly prepared for travel. The Idaho Confingration.

News of the second great conflagration at Idaho City has been confirmed by the World, of the 18th. We condense from the report as follows:

Just after noon this day, flames were seen issning from the roof of John Cody's saloon, south-west corner of Main and Wall streets. The alarm was given inon Thursday evening at 9 o'clock, for stantly. At the time it was sounded in our office we had just completed an article in which we referred to the fact that this would be the second anniversary of the great fire of May 18, 1865, which laid this city in ashes, and recommending to our few days, but not rain enough to do any citizens generally a greater degree of good. watchfulness during the day and night, to

> CASUALITY AND LOSS OF LIFE.—The Herald of Sunday contains a note from Tillamook, giving an account of the loss of Capt. Kincheloe, of the U.S. Coast Survey, and five others, at that bay, on the 20th. by the capsizing of their boat in breakers on a spit in seven fathoms of water. The account says:

This was the third attempt made to run the last line and the survey of Tillamook Bar was complete. The channel was perfeetly smooth at the time, not a ruffle on its surface. The leads man halloed seven fathoms of water as the first breaker came, swamping the boat. The order was given to "stern oars." but before they could get way on a swamped boat the second breaker struck them, capsizing the boat. All hands got on the boat's bottom, but other breakers washed them off. Capt. Kincheloe and James Steel. (the only survivor.) were banging on the boat's mast. The Captain was washed off by a breaker, and sank to rise no more. Steel hung on to Jr., who ventured his life in a small canoe to save him. The names of the crew are Charley West, Samuel Langan, Henry Ballou, James Steel, Zachariah Stee cup. Elias Steeleup. All were residents of Tillamook. Ballou leaves a wife and child to mourn his loss.

WHAT PAPER?-The Enterprise of the 25th says: "The prospectus for a new paper at Portland will soon be issued. It will not be an official organ." We have not heard of any new paper, and we suspect that Bro. Ireland is driving a joke .-

Can't say that we were, Bro. Crandall but it may so turn out. Putting the movements of friend Noltner with the report, one might see the point. You know the Review suspended for want of a press. One in Portland was borrowed and taken to Salem, and the "new paper" will be issued without prospectus. It is understood that Noltner will issue a smaller sheet, semi-weekly. The joke consists of what Col. Curry says: "That to dilute the Review down to a semi-weekly would be to make it pretty thin.'
