Oregon City, Oregon:

D. C. IRELAND, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

Saturday, June 22d, 1857.

FOR PRESIDENT, Hon. SCHUYLER COLFAX, OF INDIANA. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, Hon. GEORGE H. WILLIAMS, OF OREGON.

Subject to the Nomination of the National Republican Convention in 1858.

The Next Presidential Contest.

The New York politicians are already speculating on the next Presidential campaign. The World says the Democrats have no candidates in training, while the Republicans have several. One important point disturbs the nerves of the World...

Concerning the above, the Oregonian says: "On the admission of Oregon into the Union, she became entitled to 500,000 acres of land, to be located by the Governor, for internal improvements. The constitution of Oregon provides that the proceeds of these lands shall be used for common school purposes. Congress recognized the conversion of the donation to school purposes by the admission of Oregon, and otherwise. Most of the 500,000 acres of land have been selected within the last four years. As stated in the Sentinel, the best lands in the Klamath Lake country have been selected by the State and set apart as school lands; but if the Sentinel had been so willing to examine the law as to make a thing at the State Government, it would have found that the State is not 'playing the part of a land monopolist,' nor does it propose to sell the lands 'to the highest bidder.' There is nothing in the law now, and never has been, to prevent any man from moving on to any land selected by the State, and making his application to the State Land Commissioner to purchase the same. We understand that about 200,000 acres of the land selected by the State have been approved by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, including the selections in the Klamath valley; if so, settlers can immediately purchase said land, in quantities of 320 acres to each, and receive their deeds from the State. As to the price to be paid for school lands by those who have made applications to purchase since the passage of the Act, approved Oct. 24, 1856, Sec. 2d of said Act provides that such persons shall have the land at its true value, in coin, to be ascertained and fixed by the State Board and the school Superintendent in the county where the land is situated. Those who apply before the passage of said Act will receive their lands at the price fixed in previous laws. Surrounding Klamath Lake is a rich, beautiful and extensive valley—the best grazing country now to be found in the State. Another military post is to be established this summer between Fort Klamath and Goose Lake, which will furnish ample protection to the settlers in that section of country. There is now no impediment in the way of settling that country immediately. Let it be filed up, and a new county organized at the next session of the Legislature. A half dozen enterprising men, leading the way, will be followed by enough settlers to fill up that valley before fall. Who will go first?"

We shall not pretend to speak for the Republican party as a whole, but for our own preferences, and as we believe those of the Republicans of Oregon, we have today placed at the head of these columns two names which deserve the position, and names of men who, if nominated, would, as the text shows beyond a doubt, be elected by a most overwhelming vote. Hon. Schuyler Colfax was Oregon's first choice for the Vice Presidency in 1861, and had there been a second ballot taken in the convention, would to-day be at the head of the Government. He is emphatically now the first choice of this people for President, and with Hon. George H. Williams as Vice President, could better nominations be made?

Political matters in some parts of the country are in a state of chaos. To a greater or less extent all parties are "at sea," but that the South will be properly reconstructed under the Congressional plan to us seems clear, and every indication goes to show a certain and decided success to the Republicans everywhere, next year.

ALBANY JOURNAL.—We are glad to notice the high moral and independent stand taken by the Editor of our Albany cotemporary in his last issue. Secular papers, as a rule, are afraid to do what would most conduce to the public welfare for fear of rendering themselves liable to the charge of "religious fanaticism." No prosperity is permanent or desirable, which is not based upon a just and religious conviction of responsibility, and we rejoice in any indication of an overthrow of that popular idea that morality, decency, and temperance cannot be tolerated in a paper devoted to the best interests of mankind—whether individual or collective. Some of our political cotemporaries would be more acceptable in family circles, did they act upon the hints contained in the Journal. Questions which cannot be argued without the aid of indignant epithets, and unchristian language, are not fit for public discussion.

A GOOD PRESS.—In the Government printing office at Washington is a press of the Bullock patent which prints in one hour 20,000 sheets of sixty-four pages of documents matter; while doing this it feeds itself, the paper being in rolls, wets the paper, cuts the sheets, folds them, and by a dial attached to the press keeps the tally of the sheets printed. Only two men are required to have entire control of the press, thus doing away with the necessity of feeders.

OREGON COAL.—The steamer Ajax, on her present trip to San Francisco, brings coal from an Oregon mine—that of our enterprising friend H. C. Victor, near Monticello. We may safely predict a satisfactory result of this final test, and again congratulate Oregonians that another item of imports is rubbed from the shipper's slate.

State Lands.

The Sentinel says: The disposition of some of our citizens to settle on and improve the surveyed Government land in the neighborhood of Klamath Lake has been somewhat dampened by the discovery that the most eligible and valuable tract has probably been taken by the State. Had the land been unsurveyed, the settlers might have acquired title from the State by having their claims embraced in State locations; but under existing circumstances, it seems they must wait until the land is offered in the market to the highest bidder. It seems poor policy on the part of the State to delay the sale and settlement of this section of country for an indefinite period. In five or ten years the land may, perhaps, bring a higher price, but that consideration of small moment in comparison with the importance of its occupation and improvement. We need population—have plenty of vacant land—and it is the duty of the State Government to encourage immigration, by offering every facility for the occupation of the public domain, rather than obstruct it by playing the part of a land monopolist.

Concerning the above, the Oregonian says: "On the admission of Oregon into the Union, she became entitled to 500,000 acres of land, to be located by the Governor, for internal improvements. The constitution of Oregon provides that the proceeds of these lands shall be used for common school purposes. Congress recognized the conversion of the donation to school purposes by the admission of Oregon, and otherwise. Most of the 500,000 acres of land have been selected within the last four years. There is nothing in the law now, and never has been, to prevent any man from moving on to any land selected by the State, and making his application to the State Land Commissioner to purchase the same. A half dozen enterprising men, leading the way, will be followed by enough settlers to fill up that valley before fall. Who will go first?"

PORTLAND ELECTION.—The election in Portland on last Monday was a Democratic triumph. The Oregonian says: "The Holmes and Hallock clique have recovered nearly full control of the city, which they will retain one or two years, though certainly not longer, as the people will be compelled in that time to rise and drive them from office and power as they did a few years ago." This is all very fine, but will Republicans allow themselves to "rise" in all their strength by that time. The vote shows that personal and not partisan feeling defeated Lowndes and carried the council. Personally, we have no fault to find with any of the men elected, but if politicians choose to draw lines, and fight their battles on those lines, let them do it with true spirit. The Oregonian further says: "The Democrats worked with tireless activity for their ticket and brought out almost their entire vote, while the Republicans scarcely worked at all, and in consequence did not poll anything near their full strength. It is a habit of the Democratic party to do their best at every election, while the Republicans can get their vote out only on great occasions." Then they never ought to make party nominations, except on "great occasions." The defeat in Portland last Monday has a bad effect.

NAVIGATION TO FOREST GROVE.—In a conversation with Mr. O. Parsons, of Forest Grove, lately, we learned that the farmers of Tualatin Plains regard the successful navigation of the Tualatin river as a very important matter with them. The few trips made by the Yamhill, stimulated business over there greatly, and the hope of all is that the dam at the old site of the Moore & Pease mill may be again put in, to make a stage sufficient to carry the boat to Forest Grove every day in the year. We learn that the project has not been abandoned; that the river will be so navigated—hence we give those people this encouragement.

A GOOD PRESS.—In the Government printing office at Washington is a press of the Bullock patent which prints in one hour 20,000 sheets of sixty-four pages of documents matter; while doing this it feeds itself, the paper being in rolls, wets the paper, cuts the sheets, folds them, and by a dial attached to the press keeps the tally of the sheets printed. Only two men are required to have entire control of the press, thus doing away with the necessity of feeders.

OREGON COAL.—The steamer Ajax, on her present trip to San Francisco, brings coal from an Oregon mine—that of our enterprising friend H. C. Victor, near Monticello. We may safely predict a satisfactory result of this final test, and again congratulate Oregonians that another item of imports is rubbed from the shipper's slate.

MONEY.—A New York correspondent says that schemes which, two years ago would command any quantity of money on two hours notice would now insult a wall-street capitalist if brought to his attention.

OREGON

The Ajax took the following freight from Portland on last Tuesday: 143 lbs 3/4 sacks flour, 618 gunnies bacon, 109 lbs 1/2 pork, 141 cases lard, 537 lb bbls salmon, 46 cases mds, 25 fgs mule shoes, 5 lb bbls, 1,849 slaves and same number headings, 330 sks wheat, 36 boxes of eggs, 23 rolls leather, 5 tms matches, 4 bales fur, 20 dry hides, 253 bales of wool, 254 lb bbls dried apples, 56 lb bbls butter, 12 boxes green fruit, 2 live elk, 1 header and thrasher combined.

The following decision of a point under the laws of Idaho, may be of interest to the legal profession of Oregon. The decision was made by Chief Justice McBride, who held that the bond, or undertaking in attachment, must be signed and executed by the plaintiff, as well as his sureties; and that an undertaking by sureties alone was insufficient. As the opposite practice has prevailed heretofore, it is important that litigants should take notice of this ruling. In the above case the attachment was dissolved on that ground, among others.

Surely no person who beholds the immense amount of flour now being stored away in warehouses, on the wharves, and in the departing steamer can for a moment doubt the extreme productiveness of the Oregon wheat. The Oregonian says: "Several days previous every day in town was engaged in hauling flour to make up the cargo of the steamer Ajax. This steamer will take of 1,200 tons, and there is far more offered than she can take. As a consequence, the flour is now being stored up in warehouses, and is now a little and only a little sold. Flour in small quantities still continues to arrive from Walla Walla, says the Oregonian."

At a late hour on Tuesday night, says the Herald of Wednesday, the news went through the city like an electric shock, that a young man had died. Incredible as it may seem, a report so unlooked for, was hastened to his house and found him cold and stiff in death. In the full vigor of manhood, in the full flush of life, he was taken from us, and he died without a moment's warning by apoplexy, and expired almost without a struggle, at about 11 o'clock. On Monday he was elected Mayor of the city, and in the same evening he pressed his young wife in a specious manner, by his accustomed way. Yesterday he was upon the street all day attending to his business and receiving the congratulations of his large circle of friends, and now he lies in his coffin, cold and stiff, and his wife is laboring, and the late hour will not permit a fuller notice of this most melancholy dispensation at this time.

SPLENDID INSTRUMENTS.—While at Portland a few days since we were shown by Prof. Kujes, at the store of Messrs. J. L. Parrish & Co., a musical instrument, the like of which we never saw before. It is a French instrument called the Organ Harmonium—invented by Alphonse Ledrope. It is a very considerable modification of the organ as we have them from the American manufacturers. It is smaller, lighter, and more perfect in construction, and has a distinct and peculiar effect upon the tone. The bass stops are the forte, Jean Dux, (soft sweet) Basson, Clarion, London, English Horn, the treble stops are Expression, Tremolo, Scotch Bagpipe, Flute, Clarinetto, Flie, Harp, Vox Celeste, Forte, and Kneer or Rail Expression. The effect of these stops in changing the tone is most surprising. For instance: from the Flute to Vox Celeste, we have the effect of the flute, changes from what sounds precisely like a soft flute, to the full grand harmony which we would expect from an Angel choir—what the name imports. Other changes are not less surprising. The instrument is of the most perfect workmanship and of the highest finish; it has taken the first medals at all the great European Expositions. The prices range from $175 to $500. Persons in want of an instrument of this kind should see them for it, is not possible to get a correct idea of them, except from personal inspection. J. L. Parrish & Co. are sole agents for the Pacific coast.

DEATH AND BURIAL OF MAYOR HOLMES.—The sudden and unexpected death of Mr. Thomas J. Holmes, on Tuesday night, cast a shadow of gloom over the entire city of Portland. He was followed to the grave on Thursday, by a vast number of friends. In obedience to a resolution of the Council, all places of business were closed. At the funeral, which was held at the residence of the deceased, the Masonic Fraternity taking charge of the exercise of the day, Mr. H. was a member of that Society, and his remains were committed to Trinity Church, where Rev. Sney officiated. At the Church the procession was organized, and moved to the cemetery. The Mechanics and 14th Infantry Bands, Fire Department, Civil Engineers, and Military Companies, turned out in full array. Last sad respects to the deceased, and never did Portland witness such an unusual demonstration.

NEWSPAPERS.—Newspapers by enhancing the value of property in their neighborhood, and giving the locality in which they are published a reputation abroad, benefit all, particularly if they are merchants or real estate owners, whose amount yearly of the meagre sun they pay for their support. Besides, every spirited citizen has a laudable pride in having a paper he is not ashamed of, even though he should pick it up in New York or Washington. A good looking, thriving sheet helps to sell property, gives character to the locality, and in all respects is a desirable public convenience.

NEW CHURCH EDIFICE.—The plans of Mr. John Nestor for the new M. E. Church edifice at Portland, were adopted by the Board. Those who have seen the plans say they are for a splendid building and will be put in the highest style of the art. Mr. Eldredge, the architect, has put on the roof and put in the basement windows and floors the present season, at a contract price of $14,000.

JETS IN PARLIAMENT.—There are four Jews in the Prussian Parliament. They are upon what is called the "Liberal" side of the House, and were elected by the vote of the "Christian" part of the Commonwealth.

WOOLEN MILL.—The Dalles Woollen Company have sent an agent to the States for the latest style of machinery for their factory, the frame work for which may be seen rising in plain view from Main street.

SHOWERS.—We, of this vicinity, have enjoyed some pleasant showers during the past several days.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

We take the following telegraphic news from dispatches to the Oregonian. General Hooker sailed for Europe on the Scotia on June 12th.

The number of immigrants arriving at New York during May was over 30,000. Profound silence is observed with reference to the disposal of Maximilian. Chief functionaries talk both ways.

One hundred families are preparing to start from the Western counties of Texas for California.

The Louisiana Republican State Convention tabled a resolution asking Congress to appropriate fifty million dollars for the purchase of Cuba.

Texas papers contain accounts of devastating storms in that State on the 3d inst. Many lives were lost and much property destroyed.

A motion has been entered in the Criminal Court to set aside the judgment and for a new trial in the case of Stanford Conover.

A proposition for the simultaneous reduction of the military establishments of all the great European powers is much talked of. It is said to meet with a favorable reception in official quarters.

Judge Fisher delivered an opinion in the motion to quash the panel in the case of Surratt, concluding with an order to discharge the present jury and select a new one. The court then adjourned.

Minister Adams informs the State Department that he had interposed in behalf of the Fenian prisoners in Ireland. In the case of McCaffrey a writ of error was issued at the instance and at the expense of the United States.

In response to inquiry, the State Department announces that the subject of the arrest of the Japanese minister, Christiania, a capital offence has been brought to the attention of the Japanese Government.

The Intelligencer has authority for saying that the cabinet has decided that the military authorities have no power to remove State officers, but there is no ground for the belief that the President contemplates the removal of Sheridan.

The agent of Central Pacific Railroad Co. has arrived in New York from California to obtain from the Freedmen's Bureau 5,000 colored laborers to work on that road, offering steady employment and good wages.

A report to the Freedmen's Bureau from Mississippi says: Everything looks flourishing. The feeling of the whites toward the blacks is more favorable. With many classes such a rapid improvement in the crops and work faithfully.

A committee has been appointed by the two wings of the Virginia Republican party to adjust all differences. John Minor Botts is a member from the Charlottesville branch. A convention of the two wings will meet at Richmond on the 1st of August. Senator Wilson and delegates from the Union League Clubs of Boston, Philadelphia and New York assisted to procure this result.

Special agents of the Republican Executive Committee have returned from the South. The Republicans are organizing rapidly, without much dissension among the various State leaders. Virginia may be lost owing to a division on confederation. The Georgia organization is perfect. The majority favor confederation, but are not in favor of introducing it into the canvass.

In Surratt's trial, Carrington objected to further proceedings on the ground that the term ends on Monday, and that another trial is assigned for the next term of criminal court. Judge Fisher, who commenced impaneling the jury, being notified, the objection was overruled. It was illegal for Judge Wylie to complete the panel. The court overruled the objection. Carrington excepted to the ruling. A full jury was obtained at seven o'clock on Monday. The jury were allowed to separate till Monday.

Gen. Buford, one of the special commissioners to investigate the Fort Phil Kearney massacre, says there is no necessity for an Indian war if the Indians are protected from the rapacity of the frontiersmen. Government pays $4 1/2 bushels for oats at Fort Laramie, $5 for corn, and $15 00 per ton for hay. The Fort Kearney massacre was caused by the government forcing the military along the Bozeman route before the treaty was concluded. Both Buford and General Langford think the Territory north of Nebraska, and west of south of the Missouri, over as far as Musselshell river, including 8,000 square miles, should be assigned exclusively to Indians.

THE MARKETS.—There is nothing new to report in local trade. Oats are rather lower, and in this market buyers are offering but 25 to 30 cents per bushel. Our latest from New York is not encouraging to shippers, and from San Francisco we are told, under date of the 20th, that smoked bacon sells at 14c 1/2; Oregon hams, at 16c 1/2. The wool market continues to drag. Sales since last Wednesday aggregate about 300,000 pounds. Spring clip within range, 18-20c, including one lot of 30,000 pounds, clean at 18c. The shipment to New York by the steamer of the 12th, was 134,000, making 398,000 lb shipped hence to that market since the 1st inst. Stock unusually large and constantly accumulating.

OUR TERMS.—The terms for this paper will be seen by reference to the first column on the first page. It becomes a matter of duty to ourselves now, that we ask our subscribers to look to this matter. Whenever there are delays which cannot be avoided we have been willing to overlook them, but now we say this: That all subscriptions, due and unpaid, at the expiration of three months from April 15th, 1857 will be charged for at 84 00 per year.

NEW VALLEY.—The Roseburg Express tells its readers of a place which offers a chance for homes. We are credibly informed that there is a fine opening for settlers, a few miles westward from this place, on the route of the new wagon road soon to be made from here to Coos Bay. There is no better soil anywhere, than along Coos and Coquille rivers. And there it is, abundantly supplied with the finest timber and the purest water, ready to be taken possession of by enterprising families who are not afraid of labor.

THE LAST.—John Gray, the last survivor of the Revolutionary army resides in Ohio, and is in his 104th year.

Vote of Thanks.

At a regular meeting of Clackamas Base Ball Club, held on the evening of June 18th, 1857, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted: Resolved, That the thanks of this Club be tendered to the Pioneer Base Ball Club of Portland, for their gentlemanly courtesy, generous hospitality, and many amusing during our visit, and play with them, on the 17th inst.

Resolved, That while we regret that they were able to retain the Ball, at the close of the Match Game, these regrets are all made to vanish when we remember the manner in which they afterwards captured our stomachs and hearts.

Resolved, That we shall ever retain pleasing memories of our intercourse with those gentlemen, and shall hereafter hope to meet them on a better contested field.

ANOTHER VERY IMPROVED DISC V ery has been made, in addition to those of the almost innumerable kind in minerals of Oregon. It has been demonstrated in Salem that David Cole, dealer in stoves, tin, hollow-ware, copper, sheet-iron, etc., is the right man to let them judge of their value. They produce such a rapid effect that their prices are much lower than those of other houses.

DR. HO-TETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.—The operation of this palatable remedy upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates the system, and cures them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties, and it is recommended to mothers, especially in the care and duties of maternity, as the safest and best remedy they can probably use. In all the crises of female life it will be found equally useful, and elderly persons will derive much benefit from it, from ordinary stimulants. Sold by the druggists and dealers everywhere.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and to less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by the regular action of the digestive and excretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Losses of Spirit, and Fits of Languor, may derive permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.
