THE STATE CONVENTION.

On last Monday morning the Editor, together with almost everybody else in this part of the country, left for Salem—that magnificent city, of like distance—Salem is a capital place—nobody has any doubts about that. Well the steamer E. Pease bore us on up, Capt. Geo. A. Pease the intrepid, Charley Church the affable, and Joseph Mann the provident, had charge of the steamer, so far as we were able to learn. We know that Capt. Pease was at the wheel, because we saw him there—we know that Charley was in the Purser's office, because he collected our fare, and we know that Joe was supervisor of the culinary department, because he and Frank A. Hill gave us and everybody else a good square meal. At the landing where Aurora slips its productions we took on board "23 pieces of music," comprising that excellent old brass band known as the Pioneers of Astoria. They awoke the echoes; they made the trip lively with music, from thence to Salem. What Joe Wilson, Bill Hand, and the rest of the delegation from East of the mountains had been doing by way of jokes. On the river we met the fine steamer Lannie Patton, under command of Capt. Jerome. The two steamers came alongside, (broadside) and the band brought ladies, gents, and all on board the Patton to the guards, touching our hats on we went.

Salem is a beautiful town. We wish that its generous public would "spread themselves" down to the hills, and take us into their incoercible limits. We arrived there at about 5 o'clock p. m. The delegations, preceded by the band, marched up town. The hotels were all filled, and nothing else might have been expected, so we sought our accustomed home in Salem at the residence of one of its citizens, proverbial for his hospitality. Here we rested.

The "Wigwam"—Union Hall—is 110 by 55 feet in size. It was put up by the leading Union men of Salem, for use during the campaign; at a cost of about $1500. There is some enthusiasm in Salem—this Hall was dedicated that night. Hon. David Logan, Hon. P. C. Sullivan, and Hon. E. L. Applegate spoke. Logan made an excellent speech. He handled the reconstruction plan, the "Equality" dodges of the Democracy, and "the Bonds" just right. The "Equality" dodge he classified into three parts: legal Equality—the right to protection for life, liberty and property, before the law; Political Equality, and Social Equality—showing that in the latter, if Democrats wanted to associate with negroes, they could not do so "unless the nigger was willing."

On the 23th at 10 a. m., the convention met, and a permanent organization was effected by the election of Hon. Jos. G. Wilson, of Wasco, President; B. Whitton of Grant county, Secretary, and Judge Willis Alton of Douglas, Assistant Secretary. After the Committee on credentials and on order of business, reported, the Convention adjourned to meet at 4 o'clock p. m., to hear the report of Committee of Resolutions.

During the interim, speeches were made by several parties. The following is the platform: 1. Resolved, That it is the highest duty of every American citizen to maintain against all their enemies the integrity of the Union and the paramount authority of the Constitution and laws of the United States, and to preserve at the ballot-box the fruits of the late war. 2. Resolved, That the work of reconstruction of the Southern States belongs to the legislative department of the government and that we endorse the thirteen and fourteenth amendments to the Constitution and the acts of Congress commonly called the reconstruction acts, as the best plan yet proposed for the restoration of the States lately in rebellion to their former relations to the Federal Government.

Resolved, That we are in favor of admitting the rebel States to representation in Congress at the earliest practicable moment which the public safety will permit. Resolved, That the national debt is a necessary contract to save the national life and ought to be honestly paid, and we condemn every scheme devised for the repudiation of the whole or any part of the debt as disgraceful to the Republic and unjust to its citizens, and that the proposition to pay in legal tender notes those debts contracted to be paid in specie, is only a misnomer for repudiation.

Resolved, That, under the Constitution, the Federal Government has no right to interfere with the elective franchise in any State having representation in Congress and where civil government is not overturned by rebellion.

Resolved, That the right of expatriation is the natural and inherent right of all people and indispensable to the enjoyment of the rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; that while the citizen is a citizen of the United States, the Government owes protection to the citizen; and that it is the duty of the Government of the United States to protect all its citizens in their lives and property, in the full enjoyment of their rights as citizens of the United States, wherever and under whatever color or pretence those rights may be invaded.

Resolved, That the foreign immigration, which in the past has added so much to the wealth, development of resources, and increase of power of this nation, the system of the oppression of those who should be fostered and encouraged by a liberal and just policy and that we sympathize with the people everywhere who are struggling for civil and religious liberty.

Resolved, That the thanks of the American people are due to the soldiers and sailors of the army and navy who have perilled their lives in defense of their country and in vindication of the honor of the American flag; and that the nation owes them some permanent recognition of their patriotism and their valor, and ample and permanent provision for those of their survivors who have received disability and honorable wounds in the service of their country; and that the memories of those who have fallen in its defense shall be held in grateful and everlasting remembrance.

Resolved, That we are in favor of liberal appropriations of land and money, for the purpose of aid in the construction of railroads. After the adoption of the above report, at 10 o'clock a. m. on the 25th, the next order of business was the nomination for a member of Congress. Mr. Baker of LeGrand, put in nomination Hon. David Logan, of Multnomah; Mr. Whitson placed in nomination Hon. P. C. Sullivan, of Polk county.

On the first ballot 105 votes were cast, of which Mr. Logan had 54, and Mr. Sullivan 51;—55 being necessary for a choice, no election was declared, and the delegates proceeded to ballot a second time, when Mr. Logan was declared unanimously nominated, amidst the most vociferous cheers.

Hon. W. W. Back of this city, and Hon. Jesse Applegate of Youca, were then, upon vote of the Convention, appointed to wait upon the nominee, and ascertain if he would accept of the nomination. Mr. Logan made his appearance and thanked the Convention for the high honor which had conferred upon him, planted himself upon the platform, and promised all his energy and ability to fight the great fight.

The Convention soon quieted down to work, and the following gentlemen were elected as Presidential Electors: A. B. Meacham of Union; Wilson Bowley of Washington; O. Jacobs of Jackson. Nominations of Delegates to the National Union Convention being in order, the following gentlemen were elected: Josiah Failing, J. L. Parrish, Maxwell Ramsby, M. Baker, C. C. Bookman and H. R. Kincaid. On motion, the Convention instructed the delegates to use all honorable means to secure the nomination of General U. S. Grant for President.

A motion to instruct the Delegates to use all honorable means to secure the nomination of Hon. Schuyler Colfax for Vice President, was discussed and laid upon the table, for fear that rebels would consider it a thrust at Hon. Geo. H. Williams, whose course in Congress was heartily approved by the Convention. The delegations from the different counties nominated the following gentlemen as members of the State Central Committee: Baker—C. M. Foster, Benton—T. B. Oldenale, Clatsop—H. H. Lane, Curry—M. Riley, Columbia—J. G. Caples, Clatsop—A. Montgomery, Clackamas—B. Kilin, Douglas—D. C. Underwood, Grant—J. Robinson, Jackson—J. J. Comstock, Josephine—S. White, Lane—W. W. Blistow, Marion—E. P. Russell, Marion—M. P. Berry, Chairman, Multnomah—J. H. Mitchell, Polk—L. L. Collins, Tillamook—T. B. Hanley, Tillamook—J. H. Mitchell, Union—D. W. Eberhardt, Washington—W. D. Hare, Wasco—C. L. Lyons, Yamhill—Dr. J. W. Watts. The Convention confirmed the nominations.

On motion, the Chairman appointed Major M. P. Berry, of Marion, Chairman of Central Committee. Next in order came the nomination of District officers. Following is the result: For Judge in Second Judicial District, John Kelsay, of Benton county, for Prosecuting Attorney, D. M. Rindon, of Lane county. For Judge of Fourth Judicial District, W. W. Upton, of Multnomah, for Prosecuting Attorney, Addison C. Gibbs, of Multnomah.

For Prosecuting Attorney of the Fifth Judicial District, C. M. Foster.

Resolutions tendering the thanks of the Convention to the O. S. N. and P. T. Companies, and to Haley's stage line, were unanimously adopted. Also, a resolution of thanks to Homer Smith, of the Capital Hotel, for his uniform attention to the wants of delegates while they remained his guests.

After several speeches and a series of enthusiastic cheering for the Union ticket, for Gen. Grant and the cause generally, the Convention adjourned without day.

HON. DAVID LOGAN.

The people of Oregon have chosen as their standard-bearer in this campaign Hon. David Logan of Portland. Mr. Logan was not the first choice of a large number of men who felt that "locality" might affect the prospects of success—of those who desired that the Eastern or Southern portion of the State should present one of their number; but, when the solid delegations from the extreme East and South, said to the Convention: "Gentlemen: We ask it for none of us—Give us David Logan!" that became the unanimous wish of the people, and he was nominated. The enthusiasm which followed his nomination is scarcely describable. The Delegates left the State Capital feeling that they had performed the task entrusted to them faithfully, and to the best of their ability, every way—and this feeling was encouraged and their actions endorsed by their constituents, upon reaching home.

On Thursday the steamer Lannie Patton brought the delegation of this county home, when they were received with cheers on the wharf, and escorted by the Oregon City Brass Band, together with Hon. A. B. Meacham, one of the Presidential electors, Hon. W. W. Upton nominee for Judge of the fourth Judicial District, Hon. A. C. Gibbs, nominee for Prosecuting Attorney, and others, to the Court House, where Hon. Henry Warren, acting as chairman publicly thanked the delegation on behalf of the citizens of this city, for what they had done in Salem. Messrs. Meacham, Upton, and Gibbs, briefly addressed the meeting, and a rousing majority for the ticket was promised.

THE SPEECHES.

We regret that we cannot report a few of the speeches made this week at Salem, Portland, and Oregon City, where we have attended. Treason and Democracy have fairly begun to quail in Oregon, and by the June and November elections will have laid their Hydra-heads forever. Their multifarious evils could not be repressed by single efforts. Like the serpent of Lorna—they have been allowed to live until the festering sores are literally abominable—and now like Hercules, the Union party propose to slay them in Oregon. Their treacherous gasps have been authorized by the application of a flame of patriotic fervor among the people, who have declared that the ballot box shall prevent the farther effusion of patriot blood in our broad land. As Hon. A. B. Meacham expressed it—Joseph and his brethren shall be driven back into Egypt. Or as Hon. W. D. Hare says: Their Goliath, placed upon a negative platform of principles, will meet the fate of Goliath of old, at the hands of our David, who, standing firm upon the platform of Freedom and Liberty, with the sling of Truth, shall slay their Goliath with the pebbles of Justice. The burst of enthusiasm witnessed now all over Oregon—(recollect it is not confined to Clackamas and Multnomah Counties)—will expand, and eventuate in disemboweling the carcass carcass of Democratic Treason, making its very eyes glare with fury at its retributive death.

A PEYERATION.—The Herald of yesterday, no doubt feeling very sore over the fact that the nomination of Hon. David Logan for Congress was the last spike to the Democratic coffin in Oregon, rather croakily noticed the extra trip of the Senator to Portland on Thursday evening—and in the course of its remarks says: "The musicians, not finding things as lively politically in the city as they expected, left their instruments on board the boat." Now the facts, as we have them from a member of the band, are simply this: The band went, at the invitation of the officers of the steamer, and did not expect to be called upon to go up as a body, though the streets of Portland, consequently they went as individuals. Our informant is a Democrat himself, but he says he believes in truth once in a while. It is evident to our mind that the Democrats expect to carry this election by a point blank fire.

—Col. T. R. Cornelius was re-nominated as joint Senator for Washington, Clatsop, Columbia and Tillamook counties.

NEW YORK SWINDLERS.

Last week reference was made in these columns to a set of New York swindlers, and we hope the effect will be good.

We observe that some of our State exchanges are still publishing the advertisement of Wright, Brothers & Co., 161 Broadway, notwithstanding we have given the public exchange against them. They are "black legs of the deepest dye." Their advertisement came through a firm purporting to be "Temple, Richardson & Co." Their proposals were by us referred to parties in New York, and as a consequence they "took no stock" in them. Since last week, we have received the following letter, from a cotemporary:

I perceive we have all been killed by "Temple, Richardson & Co." Is there no way of guarding against such imposition? I presume Berger, Schutt & Co. are of the same stripe, although I saw their advertisements in the Washington Chronicle. I have, as a last resort, written them to compromise by paying something. I wish every publisher on the coast would refuse to publish trade advertisements from San Francisco houses never found in my columns since its first year. I found that the cash commission, per cent, freight, drayage, and the thousand and one items connected with the purchase absolutely took every cent of profit. If the journals on this coast would resolve not to receive such advertisements, the cash would come, let us try it.

We were never guilty of taking but two trade advertisements—that of Remington's Army, and one small card, now in. We shall never take another, and should our agents attempt to saddle such upon us it would be sufficient cause for us to play quits. As to Schutt & Co., our cotemporary need not apply for redress. We published their advertisements 3 months on their own representation, and three months on the representations of Gen. P. Lowell & Co., Agents, 40 Park Row, New York. We need not say that we never got a cent for this work. Now, when a foreign advertisement is sent to this office it is either paid for in advance, or vouchered for by men whom we know.

As regards San Francisco, we believe J. J. Knowlton & Co. to be swindlers. All our business there comes through a responsible firm—L. P. Fisher & Co., California street. The Publishers need not be imposed upon, and in turn need not impose upon their patrons, if they will only exercise a little of that very useful commodity—common sense.

INSANITY.—Insanity is declared by medical writers to be a disease of high civilization. Nations who are the most civilized and enlightened are more apt to be afflicted with it than those who make little or no mental exertion. It is very rare among the Africans and Indians, because they do not exert the mind to any marked degree. Dr. Livingston states that it found only one or two instances of it among the tribes that he visited; but one of the B. K. Indians whom he wished to take to Europe with him, became insane from the throng of new ideas which oppressed him, and committed suicide before the voyage was over. Insanity, until recently, was almost unknown in China, owing to the strict despotism under which mental activity was restrained. Lately, however, the increased use of opium has enlarged the number of lunatics. India is comparatively free from it. It is less frequent in those parts of Europe where political freedom is restrained, than in countries which have constitutional governments. In France, the proportion of the insane is about one to one thousand inhabitants; in England, one to seven hundred and eighty three; in Scotland, one to five hundred and sixty-three; and, in the United States, one to seven hundred and fifty.

THE MISERY OF HUMAN LIFE.—The misery of human life is made up of large masses, each separated from the other by certain intervals; years after a failure in trade; after another long or shorter interval a daughter may have married unhappily. In all but the singularly unfortunate, the integral parts that count the sum total of the unhappiness in a man's life, are daily counted and distinctly remembered. The happiness of life, on the contrary, is made up of minute fractions; the little, soon forgotten charities of a kiss, a smile, a kind look, a heartfelt compliment in the disguise of playful raillery, and the countless other infinitesimals of pleasurable thought and genial feeling.

The platform adopted at the Union State Convention on Wednesday, appears this morning in our columns. We ask every man in the State to read it—Those resolutions, together with the Constitution of the United States, the 13th and 14th articles added, would be as good a document as any Democrat could ask. For the benefit of those Democrats who have never seen the Constitution, we propose to publish it, in a few weeks.
