Judge not another—look within; There you will find enough of sin; Weeds luxuriant, rank and wild, Many a thought by sin defiled; Many a fretful, peevish feeling O'er our better nature stealing, Many a cold, ungrateful look Warm affection scarce can brook; Many a harsh, unfeeling word, Heart-piercing as a sharpened sword, Ah! look within, thou need st not roam, For charity begins at home.

Judge not another for you'll find In dark recesses of the mind, Hidden by self-esteem from view, Seen by others not by you, Follies that make you blush when seen By the Aght of conscience, faithful beam. Drag the intruders forth to light, And judge them by that standard bright; Banish the beam before you try To force the mote from another's eye.

Ah! look within, thou need st not roam, For charity begins at home.

Judge not another-keep in mind The golden rule for all mankind; When'er you're tempted to expose Another's follies, think of those That lark within; the wish repress Your seorn of others to express When efto ridicule inclined, Ah, think how sensitive thy mind; Perhaps that very moment, too, Some one may be despising you. Ah! look within, thou need'st not roam,

For charity begins at home.

Judge not another-keep in mind The judgment ye to others mete Shall be returned to you complete; Cease then all judging till you find No trace of error in thy mind; The will ye never judge again For error ye shall still retain; Till all your pulses cease to beat, With error you'll be found replete. Ah! look within, thou need'st not roam, stead, and to fill any vacancy in such board.

For charity begins at home.
