

Gen. ULYSSES S. GRANT FOR VICE PRESIDENT. SCHUYLER COLFAX.

For Representative in Congress, Hon. DAVID LOGAN.

For District Judges, 2d District—JOHN KELSA, of Benton.

For District Attorneys, 2d District—D. M. RISSON, of Lane.

CLACKAMAS COUNTY TICKET. State Senator—D. P. Thompson.

OUR LAST WORDS. On Monday next our fellow citizens will be called upon to cast their suffrages in Oregon.

The politics of a nation have referred to a nation's great interests. Mere partyism sinks into comparative insignificance in comparison with these high ends.

We believe that during the last eight weeks we have said enough to convince the public—if they are honestly seeking the welfare of their country—that the Republican party has as little of this base intrusion of individual ambition as any party ever had.

You know that to the successes of the Republican party you owe a debt of gratitude far more than you are ever able to pay, for the triumph of the government over the rebellion, which placed us, as a nation, higher in the estimation of the world than ever nation achieved before.

Let there be no relaxation of vigilance between this and Monday night. Work cheerfully and victory is ours.

Recollect, that a vote for Logan is a vote for Principle! If you would not surrender to rebels, vote against them on Monday!

If the Democrats elect one man on their ticket it will give them life. And life is hope. We have got to bury them so deep now that Gabriel, on resurrection morn, cannot call them up!

The N. Y. Tribune predicts that Grant's majority of popular and electoral votes will exceed Lincoln's, over McClellan's.

HEAR AN ENGLISH RADICAL.

The following remarkable extract is taken from Reynolds' newspaper of March 27, 1868, the London weekly organ of the ultra English Liberals, edited by the chartist leader, who attempted to get up a revolution in April, 1844.

As a moral spectacle, the trial of President Johnson is one of the most magnificent that the world has ever seen. When the exalted office of the man who now stands arraigned at the bar of a mighty nation, and the moral and political attitude of the people toward the accused are considered, it will be admitted that no more majestic display of justice has ever been witnessed before any earthly tribunal.

But all these elements of judicial perturbation are absent in the case of the trial of Andrew Johnson. He is made answer for no faults but his own. The sins of no previous President are visited on his head.

There is, however, on the part of Congress a stern yet calm determination not to allow the President to magnify his office at the expense of the co-ordinate branch of the Government.

There is, however, on the part of Congress a stern yet calm determination not to allow the President to magnify his office at the expense of the co-ordinate branch of the Government.

By the terms of the Act of Congress all bullion assayed since April 1st is exempt from the internal revenue tax.

CAN DEMOCRACY CHANGE?

Axtell, the member from San Francisco, recently made a speech in Congress which has caused a great commotion in Democratic ranks. It was heterodox and undemocratic in many particulars, but especially in its treatment of colored men.

As a moral spectacle, the trial of President Johnson is one of the most magnificent that the world has ever seen. When the exalted office of the man who now stands arraigned at the bar of a mighty nation, and the moral and political attitude of the people toward the accused are considered, it will be admitted that no more majestic display of justice has ever been witnessed before any earthly tribunal.

It has also been charged that Mr. Harrison Wright received greenbacks on his claims against the County. Such a thing is very probable. But greenbacks were never paid to him at par.

We do not wish to reflect upon the integrity of any man who pays his taxes in county scrip. It is a right we all have. But we do think Mr. Ralston acts very unfair in expressing his belief that Mr. Burns himself buys scrip for foul purposes.

—Bingham, in his late great speech before the Court of Impeachment, touched up the counsel on the opposite side in the following style: He would not follow or mention either speaker on the other side, especially the gentleman from New York, Mr. Ervarts, in his intellectual pyrotechnics.

—The traitorous old scamp of the Herald pitches into Grant and Colfax in about the same style used to denounce Lincoln in 1864. The Oregonian gives these articles in juxtaposition. They beautifully illustrate the Copperhead style of talking about all eminent men who had anything to do with preserving the Union.

CALCHAS AGAIN.

As pleasant as the same may be, to those of our readers who know Calchas to be a deep-dyed villain, unworthy of notice, we beg to give them one more denial of his assertions. He and his associate Copperheads have often used the name of Harrison Wright, Esq., a respectable Democrat of this county, to prove that Sheriff Burns had purchased scrip of Wright, to pay over to Hurford, Treasurer. The following certificate in Mr. Wright's own name, is sufficient to refute this base charge. He says:

"I hereby certify that Wm. P. Burns never bought any order or county warrant from me. But that he paid me by order of the County Court of Clackamas county, the full sum of $500.00 for an order for that amount. I do certify that I never, in Mr. Burns' presence, stated anything about General Grant whatever, at that time or at any time previous." (Signed) HARRISON WRIGHT.

The assertion of Calchas was that Mr. Burns bought this warrant because Mr. Wright had said that Grant would make a good President. Now, the facts were these: Mr. Wright, having sold his bridge to the county, held warrants to a considerable amount. Taxes were due and he wished to pay his, but preferred to wait until the county paid him, on an endorsed warrant for $500.00.

It has also been charged that Mr. Harrison Wright received greenbacks on his claims against the County. Such a thing is very probable. But greenbacks were never paid to him at par. The Treasurer was long since ordered to dispose of such funds, which accumulated from fines, forfeitures, etc., at their cash value, and this is frequently done. So much for that!

Again, Calchas makes a great ado over the fact that Sheriff Burns paid about $800 of J. M. Bacon's scrip into the Treasury! What an outrage that was. But how did this come about? We will tell you all about that. The nominee of the Democratic party for County Treasurer, J. R. Ralston, Esq., borrowed $485.60 in scrip, of John M. Bacon, with which to pay taxes of himself, Daniel Harvey and others; promising to pay Bacon the coin at some future time. Sa vier, La Roque & Co., paid the balance, which they had purchased for the same purpose, as they had a right to do. So much for that.

—We like Colfax because we know him. We have for years hoped to see the people give him their votes for such high station. Old Beriah abuses Colfax. Why does he do it? Because he knows very well that Colfax is a true man; that he is one of the ablest men of the continent; and that he is not of that class which would invite the removal of Grant from the Executive chair by the enemies of the Union, with the same success which followed the assassination of President Lincoln.

—The gas fitting and Plumbing establishment of Mr. Myers, advertised in this paper; is highly complimented by the Portland Daily papers. What Mr. Myers cannot do for a patron no one else need try.

The Terrible Assassination in Georgia.

At midnight on Monday, the 30th of March, twenty-five men, with faces marked, broke into the sleeping apartment of George W. Ashburn, at Columbus, Ga., and murdered him in cold blood. One ball, the fatal one, crushed through his brain, another one penetrated his abdomen, and a third shattered his left leg. The victim had just retired to bed, and had just re-lighted his candle as the door of his chamber was forced, and the assassins opened their fire. After completing their work they retired from the scene, two of the number leaving behind new paper masks. As the party retreated a policeman attempted to halt them, but he heard "the click of pistols" and did not press his command.

Mr. Ashburn, the victim, was a leading radical member of the Georgia Constitutional Convention, which recently adjourned, after completing its labors. No man in that Convention was more violently ridiculed, abused and barbed, and his assassination is the natural expression of the sentiment of the dominant rebel class in Georgia, just as the outrageous caricatures and denunciations were the natural expression of Georgia journalists.

The evidence taken before the Coroner's jury points very plainly to the composition of a band of assassins. Hannah Flournoy, an inmate of the house where the murder occurred, and who witnessed the deed, testified that the assassins numbered about twenty-five, and that "all were well dressed gentlemen, about the same size, wore masks or were smutted. They were nice, dandy young gentlemen belonging to Columbus." The Coroner's jury (very possibly composed of the assassins of the night before) rendered a verdict that George W. Ashburn was killed by persons unknown.

Some men cannot see why they should take stock in the O. C. R. R. at 10 cents on the dollar, as an investment. Would they have bought town lots on Clark street Chicago, thirty years ago, at one hundred and fifty dollars a lot? Would they, twenty years ago, have given ten dollars for the best lot on Montgomery street San Francisco? Ten years ago what would they have paid for property in Portland, even? In the darkest days of the Atlantic telegraph enterprise, a friend of Cyrus Field bought $10,000 of stock for $10. Mr. Field magnanimously offered to take the stock at a considerable advance. "Well, but what do you a twice me to do, Mr. Field?" "Take your stock home," was the reply, "lock it up in your safe, and never look at it, nor think of it, till you come to me for your dividends on it." And that man is now receiving, on his investment of $10, $800 per annum in gold. If men wish to keep up with the times in this progressive age they must look ahead. Do you see? Clackamas county could well afford to pay the interest on $50,000 or $100,000 bonds of the Company, for twenty years hence. In five years the increased valuation of property incident to the completion of the road, will much more than make up the amount—to say nothing about the property of the road itself, that would necessarily pay taxes here.

—The Montana people are fast for intercourse with the east by Railroad, through Dakota and Minnesota to some point on the upper Mississippi. Let it be announced to the world that the Northern Pacific Railroad is to be built, and such an impetus will be given to emigration on that route, and throughout the whole region between Fort Benton and the Mississippi, in the valleys of Montana, and in the region westward to the Pacific Ocean, as has not hitherto been witnessed since the creation of the world.

—The grade, all ready for the ties, on the east side of the river, is now finished to a point above Milwaukee, and yet, men can be found who still wonder if we are going to have a Railroad!

—From all quarters we read of Indian troubles; in Boise, in Montana, in Arizona and on the plains they are troublesome, and will be until they are punished by hanging quite a number of their leaders and shooting more of them.

—The brig Brewster now in Portland, passed through an earthquake at sea on the 18th. The doors of the galley were thrown from their slides, and the crockery in the pantry was broken.

—The Mechanic's Institute of San Francisco, is making arrangements to hold its Sixth Industrial Exhibition in August next, in a building to be erected in Union Square in that city.

—Boise City is infested with quite a number of the light-fingered gentry.

—The sweetwater mines have proved to be a failure.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM Adopted at Salem March 24th 1868.

1. Resolved, That it is the highest duty of every American citizen to maintain against all their enemies the integrity of the Union and the paramount authority of the Constitution and laws of the United States, and to preserve the ballot-box the fruits of the late war.

2. Resolved, That the work of reconstruction belongs to the Federal Government, and that we endorse the thirteenth and fourteenth amendments to the Constitution and the acts of Congress commonly called the reconstruction acts, as the best plan yet proposed for the restoration of the States lately in rebellion to their former relations to the Federal Government.

3. Resolved, That we are in favor of admitting the rebel States to representation in Congress at the earliest practicable moment which will insure the safety of the Union. That the national debt was necessarily contracted to save the national life and ought to be honestly paid, and we condemn the policy of repudiation of the debt as disgraceful to the Republic and unjust to its citizens, and that the proposition to pay in legal tender notes those debts contracted to preserve the Union, is only a milder term for repudiation.

4. Resolved, That under the Constitution the Federal Government has no right to interfere with the elective franchise in any State having representation in Congress, and where civil government is not overthrown by the rebellion.

5. Resolved, That the right of expatriation is the natural and inherent right of all people and indispensable to the enjoyment of the rights of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; that while the citizen owes allegiance to the Government, the Government owes protection to the citizen, and that the duty of the Government of the United States to protect all its citizens, native born and naturalized, in the full enjoyment of their rights as citizens of the United States, wherever they are, and under whatever color or pretence those rights may be invaded.

6. Resolved, That the foreign immigration which in the past has added so much to the wealth, development of resources, and increase of power of this nation, the asylum of the oppressed of all nations, should be fostered and encouraged by a liberal and just policy; and that we sympathize with all people everywhere who are struggling for civil and religious liberty.

7. Resolved, That we are in favor of liberal appropriations of land and money, by the Government, to aid in the construction of railroads.

8. Resolved, That the thanks of the American people are due to the soldiers and sailors of the army and navy who have periled their lives in defense of their country and in vindication of the honor of its flag; that the nation owes to them some permanent recognition of their patriotism and their valor, and ample and honorable rewards in the service of their country, and that the names of those who have fallen in its defense shall be held in grateful and everlasting remembrance.

9. Resolved, That we are in favor of the Government, to aid in the construction of railroads.

10. Resolved, That we are in favor of the Government, to aid in the construction of railroads.

11. Resolved, That we are in favor of the Government, to aid in the construction of railroads.

12. Resolved, That we are in favor of the Government, to aid in the construction of railroads.
