

on the company for as much money as will buy or build a schooner, and get the materials for a mill, or buy one. This can be done, for the money is already in the country, and can be had for such bonds. This done, we will be ready to transact our own mercantile business.

Instead of giving a bushel of wheat for twelve and a half cents worth of salt, we will get a bushel of salt for twelve and a half cents worth of wheat; our warehouses crammed with wheat, our mill in complete operation, and our sails spread to the breeze. Who will then be in favor of praying to Congress to drive the Hudson's Bay Company away, to make room for Jews and sharpers.

Furthermore, such a company will be entitled to credit; so much so, that their bills payable in wheat, lumber and goods will furnish an excellent currency, such as will be good wherever their trade extends, if that should be to Canton; for flour and lumber is better than gold and silver.

Do not be discouraged farmers, but lay hold on the plow, with new energy, and sow all the wheat you can. Something must and will be done speedily. We are told by merchants, that farmers cannot be organized; such is rarely if ever the case, but such circumstances and such a one-sided trade was never known. The country is small, and we can understand one another, and do feel the great necessity of attending to our trade.

Therefore, we insist, that every one of you turn out; we expect shortly to hear a general call for a meeting, and certainly hope that at such time, you will all turn out to a man, though it should rain in torrents.

I am and always will be
A FRIEND TO FAIR TRADE.

Dr. HUMBOLDT EXCELLED.—Dr. Botherem Smokem advertising in the Sunday Mercury, his Patent Cut and Thrust Phlebotomizing Emetic, Cathartic, and Dietetic Double-Barrelled Fire and Brimstone Cordial, says:

"It is a sovereign specific, and instantaneous remedy for distempers, acute, chronic, nervous, general, local, real, imaginary and epidemic disorders; for gun-shot wounds, simple and compound fractures, casualties of all kinds and sudden death. It operates equally on the body, mind, estate, real or personal, place of residence of the patient, and his nearest neighbors. It extirpates the spinal marrow, which is the cause of many frequent and fatal complaints. It dissipates adipose tumors and untimely births, and is an effectual preventive against old clothes and advanced age. It assists nature in her attempts at amputating disorders of the head, and greatly enlarges the pluck. By rinsing the mouth daily with this cordial, the epiglottis becomes firmly fixed in the socket, and carious teeth adhere closely to the metatarsus, by which means deglutination and chigification progress regularly. The muscles, which become flacid by use, are restored to an ossified state, and the whole arterial system gradually relaxes into petrification. Applied to the eyes, it eradicates the optic nerve, extubates the pupil, and enables blind people to see clearly in the dark. From its drying qualities, it is useful in drowning, and hanging yields to its elevating stimulus."

A Hint.—The Richmond Star says:—Folks who don't like the way papers are edited ought to ask leave to put in a specimen of the right sort. Any editor will be glad to give such individuals a chance at any time. We would—just for the fun of seeing them out up and slashed by the critics, afterward. Every man who thinks it easy to edit a paper exactly right, and to universal acceptance, ought to try it. May-be he would succeed; and if so, would be better entitled to a reward than the discoverer of perpetual motion.

A preacher having remarked in a sermon, that every thing made by God was perfect—"What do you think of me?" said a man rising from his seat and pointing to his own back. "Think of you?" reiterated the preacher, "why, that you are the most perfect hunchback my eyes ever beheld!"

Dow, Jr., says, when a man becomes poor, and gets hard up, with big owl-eyed starvation staring at him from a short distance, he will turn off and go devilward in spite of all pious pushing to the contrary. Righteousness and meat and beef are luxuries that he can't afford.

GOOD ADVICE.—Have we in any manner done wrong to another? Let us not be backward in making reparation for it; not hesitating an instant, but nobly breaking through the restraints of pride and shame that would be our hinderance.

HAPPINESS.—The foundation of domestic happiness is faith in the virtue of woman.—The foundation of political happiness is confidence in the integrity of man. The foundation of all happiness, temporal and eternal reliance on the goodness of God.

At a late race in England, a Yankee was asked if they had such swift horses in his country. "Why, I guess we have," said Jonathan, "I seed a horse in Baltimore, one sunshiny day, start even with his shadow, and beat it a quarter of a mile on the first heat."

"Time works wonders," as the lady said when she got married after eighteen years' courtship.

When we begin to write on the blank page of life in youth, it seems as if we should never fill it; but alas! at middle age, it is so scribbled over with blots and erasures, that we can scarcely find room for a new record.

MOGUL & BEN FRANKLIN.

Medical.
Dr. A. R. T. LOCEY, Physician and Surgeon, respectfully tenders his Professional services to the citizens of Oregon City and vicinity, as a regular "Botanic Physician."
He has long since discarded the use of the murderous lancet, and with it the belief, that in "shedding man's blood," to restore life and health to his decayed and wasted energies, he can act in accordance with the principles of common humanity, or the dictates of reason or philosophy. He believes in purifying the currents of life, which are the seat of health or disease; and an accumulated experience of eighteen years practice in the States, has convinced him that, in Nature's ample garden, may be found herbs and plants of sufficient variety and efficacy, to remove, (by timely application,) any of the whole family of diseases to which man's frail nature is subject. Though bred to the study of mineral medicines, as are others, yet, from his knowledge of their effects, from conviction and choice, he has long since renounced, and denounced, the use of the bone roting, flesh consuming minerals, falsely called remedies, which generate cramps and convulsions, and, in their consequences, subject the constitution to many abiding evils, to nervous excitement and debility, gradual consumption, and premature death.
Acting as Nature's ministers of relief, his medicines are prepared to stand the severest test. The subscriber is willing to stake on the result of the timely application of his remedies to the most inveterate diseases, his reputation as a practical physician, and his honor as a man. He will pay particular attention to the diseases of women and children, to which he has devoted much time. Obstetric cases promptly attended to in the City and country. Office and residence on Water-street, at the late residence of Mr. P. H. Hatch, where he may at all times be found, unless professionally absent. Oct. 29, 1846. 3m20
