DEATH OF NATHAN JAMES PUTNAM.—The obitu- ary notice which we have been able to procure is as follows:

Nathan James Putnam was born in Springfield, Mass., August 28, 1795. His ancestors, Dr. James Putnam and wife, were among the earliest of the Puritans that colonized the New England coast, and were among the original proprietors of the town of Dedham. He attended a private school kept by his wife’s uncle, Mr. Cole, and was subsequently educated at the academy in Springfield, and in the College of William and Mary. He was graduated at Princeton University in 1818, and was the first student to receive an A.B. degree from that institution. After teaching in the University of Pennsylvania, he was called to the chair of the same subject in the University of New Hampshire, and in 1824 was appointed to the same in the University of Vermont, which position he held until his death. He was a man of great ability, and his death is a great loss to the university world.

We take pleasure in presenting the following notice of his death from the Springfield Republican:

N. J. Putnam.—This city was saddened last Wednesday by the death of its beloved professor of moral philosophy. No one will be more deeply felt than his wife, who has been so long a source of comfort and support to him. His loss will be felt by all who knew him well, and his memory will live on in the minds of his pupils and friends for many years to come.

We extend our congratulations to his wife and family, and wish them all the best in life.

THE SPECTATOR.

October 6, 1847.

The Oregonian—Mr. B. F. B. Hotchkiss, editor of the Oregonian, has been called to the bar of the Supreme Court of the United States, and will shortly be in Washington, D.C.

We take pleasure in presenting the following notice of his death from the Oregonian:

The death of Mr. B. F. B. Hotchkiss is a great loss to the Oregonian. He was a man of great ability, and his death is a great loss to the newspaper world. His loss will be felt by all who knew him well, and his memory will live on in the minds of his pupils and friends for many years to come.

We extend our congratulations to his wife and family, and wish them all the best in life.

THE SPECTATOR.

The Oregonian—Mr. B. F. B. Hotchkiss, editor of the Oregonian, has been called to the bar of the Supreme Court of the United States, and will shortly be in Washington, D.C.

We take pleasure in presenting the following notice of his death from the Oregonian:

The death of Mr. B. F. B. Hotchkiss is a great loss to the Oregonian. He was a man of great ability, and his death is a great loss to the newspaper world. His loss will be felt by all who knew him well, and his memory will live on in the minds of his pupils and friends for many years to come.

We extend our congratulations to his wife and family, and wish them all the best in life.

THE SPECTATOR.

The Oregonian—Mr. B. F. B. Hotchkiss, editor of the Oregonian, has been called to the bar of the Supreme Court of the United States, and will shortly be in Washington, D.C.

We take pleasure in presenting the following notice of his death from the Oregonian:

The death of Mr. B. F. B. Hotchkiss is a great loss to the Oregonian. He was a man of great ability, and his death is a great loss to the newspaper world. His loss will be felt by all who knew him well, and his memory will live on in the minds of his pupils and friends for many years to come.

We extend our congratulations to his wife and family, and wish them all the best in life.

THE SPECTATOR.

The Oregonian—Mr. B. F. B. Hotchkiss, editor of the Oregonian, has been called to the bar of the Supreme Court of the United States, and will shortly be in Washington, D.C.

We take pleasure in presenting the following notice of his death from the Oregonian:

The death of Mr. B. F. B. Hotchkiss is a great loss to the Oregonian. He was a man of great ability, and his death is a great loss to the newspaper world. His loss will be felt by all who knew him well, and his memory will live on in the minds of his pupils and friends for many years to come.

We extend our congratulations to his wife and family, and wish them all the best in life.

THE SPECTATOR.

The Oregonian—Mr. B. F. B. Hotchkiss, editor of the Oregonian, has been called to the bar of the Supreme Court of the United States, and will shortly be in Washington, D.C.

We take pleasure in presenting the following notice of his death from the Oregonian:

The death of Mr. B. F. B. Hotchkiss is a great loss to the Oregonian. He was a man of great ability, and his death is a great loss to the newspaper world. His loss will be felt by all who knew him well, and his memory will live on in the minds of his pupils and friends for many years to come.

We extend our congratulations to his wife and family, and wish them all the best in life.

THE SPECTATOR.

The Oregonian—Mr. B. F. B. Hotchkiss, editor of the Oregonian, has been called to the bar of the Supreme Court of the United States, and will shortly be in Washington, D.C.

We take pleasure in presenting the following notice of his death from the Oregonian:

The death of Mr. B. F. B. Hotchkiss is a great loss to the Oregonian. He was a man of great ability, and his death is a great loss to the newspaper world. His loss will be felt by all who knew him well, and his memory will live on in the minds of his pupils and friends for many years to come.

We extend our congratulations to his wife and family, and wish them all the best in life.

THE SPECTATOR.

The Oregonian—Mr. B. F. B. Hotchkiss, editor of the Oregonian, has been called to the bar of the Supreme Court of the United States, and will shortly be in Washington, D.C.

We take pleasure in presenting the following notice of his death from the Oregonian:

The death of Mr. B. F. B. Hotchkiss is a great loss to the Oregonian. He was a man of great ability, and his death is a great loss to the newspaper world. His loss will be felt by all who knew him well, and his memory will live on in the minds of his pupils and friends for many years to come.

We extend our congratulations to his wife and family, and wish them all the best in life.

THE SPECTATOR.

The Oregonian—Mr. B. F. B. Hotchkiss, editor of the Oregonian, has been called to the bar of the Supreme Court of the United States, and will shortly be in Washington, D.C.

We take pleasure in presenting the following notice of his death from the Oregonian:

The death of Mr. B. F. B. Hotchkiss is a great loss to the Oregonian. He was a man of great ability, and his death is a great loss to the newspaper world. His loss will be felt by all who knew him well, and his memory will live on in the minds of his pupils and friends for many years to come.

We extend our congratulations to his wife and family, and wish them all the best in life.

THE SPECTATOR.