...ial ver-

...and prosperity. Per-
...affords no spot possessing
...many advantages, nor with so few obstacles to their full possession, a liberal government, the public domain free to all, the soil unsurpassed in fertility, the climate mild and even, the geographical position of the country central, the currency safe and simple, with steady repletion, a social rights respected, and labor amply remunerated.

With such natural and political advantages, the contemplation of our fertile hills and valleys cannot be otherwise than highly suggestive of most glowing fancies, whose realization is assured. The elements of a great state exhibit themselves in its primary condition, in a natural view and as such elements exhibit themselves here, no man can doubt, considering also our political privileges, that Oregon is destined to partake of the complete fruition of this, the not miscalled "golden age."

Then let us proclaim with the fidelity of history, the number and extent of the inducements which we possess. Our country is extensive and the number of our population comparatively small. Sufficient is not yet known of our country to determine where are our best harbors or most advantageous spots for commercial towns; so that, those who come hereafter may reap the first fruits of a new country.

My daily observations scan at least two beautiful and extensive valleys, directly across the South Umpqua river from where I live. They do not yet possess a single occupant. Over a portion of them where the autumnal fires had swept the opened grass, the winter verdure assumes the very picture and impression of a thick sown field of wheat in the month of May. The untutored savage alone desecrates their unappreciated luxuriance, while millions of striving men almost exhaust the vitality of life, in reclaiming the soil where Nature reigns in her most frigid and dreary aspect.

Certainly here are fit homes for the best of our race—a fit shrine for science and the arts; and, what a refuge it might be for the exiled Hungarians,—for the heroic Kossuth. To them, every mountain would become a temple of liberty, and every valley the eternal home of peace, where their most sanguine dreams of social advancement might be fully realized.

Yours, &c.,

☞ The Steamer Willamette we learn with pleasure, has been got off without damage from the bar above Portland, and is again ready to resume her place on the river.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

THE undersigned, AARON HAIGHT PALMER of New York, Attorney and Counsellor of the Supreme Court of the United States, has associated himself with Worthington Garretson Snethen, of New Orleans, also an Attorney and Counsellor of the said Court, and late Solicitor of the General Land Office of the United States, for the transaction of Law and Agency business at Washington, the seat of the Federal Government.

They will attend to all professional business in the Supreme Court of the United States, and especially to cases of California land titles coming up on appeal;

To the settlement of accounts with the State, Treasury, War, Navy, Post Office, and Interior Departments;

To obtain the remission of fines, penalties, and forfeitures, for alleged violations of the Revenue, Post Office, or other laws;

Mr. Palmer was director of the NEW YORK AMERICAN AND FOREIGN AGENCY, which he established in 1830, and which became extensively and advantageously known in all parts of the commercial world. Rothschild and Sons of London, with their special letters in hand to the different branches of that House, and to their principal correspondents in the chief cities of Europe, on business connected with the negotiation of American Stocks, and he has the advantage, therefore, of being personally known to all the leading foreign bankers and the most eminent gentlemen of the legal profession abroad.

Mr. Snethen has had extensive experience, officially and professionally, in the practice of the Civil Law, the Law Merchant, our Land Laws, and the French, Spanish, and Mexican Laws, affecting land titles in all not acquired territories.

DIED,

At the residence of Dr. T. H. Reach, near this city, of inflamation of the bowels, DANIEL KNIGHT, son of Adam Knight, of Maine; aged, 24 years. Maine papers please copy.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—We have just received the January number of this splendid Magazine, enlarged by an increase of reading matter of full 100 pages. This No. contains four distinct plates, engraved expressly for this Magazine—and each of the designs entirely original. It seems to be the studied design of Mr. GODEY to make each succeeding number of his Magazine (if such a thing is possible) superior to the former. If any person wishes to send abroad for a Magazine, "Godey's" is certainly the one to send for. No fears need be entertained by our citizens, that on account of the great distance from here to Philadelphia, any unnecessary delay will take place in the reception of each No., as every care and attention is given to mailing them, and enclosing every No. in a strong wrapper. If by any chance a No. fails to reach its destination, immediately upon notice of it, a second copy of the missing No. is always promptly forwarded.

THE THING EXPLAINED.—The New York Herald, whose editor is a Locofoco, says that the contest in that State had been merely a race for the spoils, and that the Locofocos having been outof for office two years, were the leanest and most hungry, and worked rather more rapidly than their better fed neighbors. There is probably about as much truth as poetry in the explanation.—Ohio State Journal.
