Oregon Spectator.

OREGON CITY.

...day Morning, Feb 11, 1858.

... There was a member of the Legis... who wished to do Dr. McLoughlin ... but our readers about the world to ... room for their own blackfish. They ... it down. We place it on record to ... that there was one proper stinking ... in the legislature, and one disposed to ... the old benefactor justice; and that ... was Orlando Humason, a member ... Yamhill county. Read the Home's resolution below, which was voted down by the progressives. It is sublime.

WHEREAS, The acts of Dr. John M'Loughlin, in regard to his treatment of the early settlers of Oregon, have, as we believe, been misrepresented; therefore,

Resolved, That the grateful gratitude of Dr. John M'Loughlin, in resisting the early settlers of Oregon, merits our warmest commendation. And as evidence of the high estimation in which his services are held by his fellow citizens, the thanks of this assembly be tendered to the aged Dr. John M'Loughlin.

☞ Charles Dickens computes that one-fifth of the English people gave their sentiment three weeks with the United States. Let the people of the United States make three cheers, and return with the six-fifth of the English people, for to get the best of two out! There is no market for the commodities elsewhere than in our United States, and England does not care enough about to deal in paper. The day will come when the United States will do its own manufacturing, and there are other things who will use it. Love Book.

Ah! confessing at last! Well better late than never. There is some hope of the democracy yet! the above is the knell of song we like to see the democracy singing, even at the late day of fanatic progression. But it is certainly an admission we did not expect to see in the Democrat. If the clergy had had their way the workings of England, many of them, would have been dressed up long since; and the doctrine put forth above is just what the clergy have been advocating for the last thirty years. Where the opposition come up so nobly to the mounts as the leading organ has we with pleasure give them all the encouragement in our power. Let them be heard on any upon this vital question. It is pleasure to see this exhibition of these other normal thought.

California Items.

We learn from the Alta that a new invention has been made by Mr. R. T. Shaw, of the Vulcan Iron Works, San Francisco, for raising brick buildings, en masse, by Hydrodynamic pressure. The machine has been fully tested, and the result has been highly satisfactory.

An attempt, says the Herald, was made to bribe one of the senators of that state by a rich banker of San Francisco. The bribe was $15000 for the senator's vote to bring in the U. S. Senatorial election the present senator; an additional $5000 was offered to the same person if he would influence the vote of another member from the interior of the state.

The news from Lower California is quite cheering to the filibusters. The President has issued his proclamation—military posts have been established, and the country is said to be quiet. Recruits are beating up in various parts of the State. Whilst many others have already left for the new republic to join the invaders. All are in high spirits and much elated by their temporary success.

The Herald complains of the scarcity of money. Goods are plenty and cash customers comparatively few.

The Sacramento Union telegraphed the President's message from San Francisco, at a cost of over $200, and published it simultaneously with the papers at the bay. This is we think, the greatest feat of enterprise that has yet been exhibited by the press on this coast. The Union is one of the A No. 1 papers west of the Rocky Mountains.

The steamer Columbia was dispatched to the mouth of the Golden Gate, which it was thought had become disabled in some way. She was, according to the latest advices, due several days. The Fremont took the Columbia's place on the Oregon route. Many fears were entertained as to the safety of the Golden Gate, and much anxiety felt by persons who were expecting friends and important letters.

The drooping spirits of the miners throughout the state were considerably revived by the falling of several copious showers of rain—a fall they had been long and anxiously waiting for.

REDUCTION OF PAY AND MILEAGE.—Mr. Walkup introduced a bill establishing the pay of members of the legislature, at eight dollars a day, and the mileage at four dollars for every 20 miles traveled to and from the nearest place of residence. The bill also directs that the sum of $120,000 be set apart at the commencement of each fiscal year for this purpose, to be called the Legislative Fund. The bill is not to apply to members of the present Legislature. The pay of members at present, is $12 per day, mileage 60 per 20 miles each way. The bill was read first and second times, and referred to committee on the Judiciary.

Local and Personal.

☞ A Convention of the Democracy of Multnomah county will be held at the Court House in this city, on Saturday, the 13th inst., at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of appointing delegates to the Territorial Convention to be held at Salem on the 22d inst.

A fine day is expected to-day. Let every Democrat in the city be present at the meeting of the Democracy.

Among the proceedings of the legislature we find the following resolution:

Resolved, That the committee to apply with Hendee with the view of ... proposal as to delay such ... until the end of the ... year.

All counties with the exception of Clackamas, Marion and Polk have been heard from. The Democratic majority in the State will be about 1,500.

☞ A Democratic Legislature in Oregon elected by a majority of 1,500 votes! In this the model land of equal rights and equal privileges! It will take one hour for "every man on the ship (Ark) preaching to the doctrine of his own conscience" in lovely Oregon, as well as elsewhere. What nothing a man epidemic! Is it not the consciences of the applicant with the laws of the country? Then, let us ask, what is Dr. John McLoughlin?—Is he not an American citizen? Has he not rights in common with native born citizens equally sacred? Has he not as much right to acquire property as any other man? And if he acquires it lawfully, is he not entitled to the full enjoyment of that property? Then why, we would further ask, should Dr. McLoughlin be singled out from among 50,000 people, and all his property confiscated and applied to individual and other uses? He is not a criminal, nor does he stand so charged. The late legislature, to compensate the Doctor for a wrong inflicted, through misrepresentation, by Congress, in removing his claim, took, or attempted to take, from him his every right. He petitioned and protested for the purpose by the people. The bill to be passed by Mr Carlton, the gentleman of handsome memory—a legislature and sentiment of this county and this city. He asks himself a democrat! Is plundering a man of his rights, democracy? If a man takes our property (if we had any) is he not a plunderer? Or if he takes away the property of any person, is he not a robber? Now we care not who the man is, if he has his rights or property legislated away, he is a plundered man, or we are ignorant of the term. Hope not, the end justifies the means. We are not a believer in that doctrine. We can never believe that it would be right to steal money to build a church or to forward any benevolent object. And this is the first instance of such democratic progression, we allow, that has taken place within the limits of our government. We have never heard of an instance of property being confiscated where there was not a well-sustained charge of high crime. Well, it rests on the heads of the democracy. They are responsible for the contract. If they can justify it, they state things very differently from us.

HEAVY-GROSS ACCIDENT.—On Saturday evening, just as the Pigeon had got over the Glackamas rapids, Mr. Bridges, the engineer, unfortunately got his right arm entangled with the machinery, which stopped the engine. He was really quite desirous how to remove the machinery so as to extricate his arm. The arm was shockingly shattered, but, notwithstanding, he walked the boat up to Oregon City, and walked to Dr. Barclay's office and had the arm amputated above to the shoulder joint. He stood the operation excellent, and has shown extraordinary nerve ever since. We are glad to learn that he is doing well, and hope he will soon be out of danger. It is unfortunate to see such an able mechanic as Mr. Bridges deprived of the arm—solid member of the body.

VERDICT GUILTY.—The murder cases returned this week. We shall present our paper next week in new type. An interesting story will be commenced with the new volume, and be continued for five months. This will be a favorable time for persons, who are not now subscribers, to enroll their names on our subscription list. Will our friends exert themselves to extend our list? The Spectator is the best local paper in the Territory, and is only an Oregon journal.

NEW FIRM.—The largest and best-assorted lot of furniture that has ever been exhibited in Oregon City is now to be found at T. Johnson's, in the old Hudson Bay building, on Main street. Mr. Johnson constantly on hand everything in the way of furniture connected with housekeeping. We call the attention of the public to the advertisement of Mr. Johnson, which will be found in another part of the paper.

LOCAL LAW.—We shall publish the local ordinance next week—the law taking the property of an American citizen and devoting it to the city, for school purposes. Who is to be the next victim of progressive democratic deplacement? The way we look at it, they might, with the same propriety, have taken our press and given it to the city for school purposes.

"HARPY KNOX."—We give this communication a place, but we do not endorse the spirit of the article. Criticism of this kind should be made with fairness and candor, without impugning the motives that actuate the actionist. As far as we are able to judge, we should be unwilling to ascribe any such designs to the author of the elder Knox.

WINDOW SMASH.—On Monday night a pane of glass was shipped out of the front window of the barber shop of Thomas Thompson (African) and two silver watches hanging up at the ending of the window were taken out. No trace of their whereabouts has, as yet, been found. Thompson is an industrious and well-behaved negro.

☞ There are to be two parties here on the 22d

☞ A Spanish brig Virgen, Capt. Quadrado, Nov. 28, stated that the Russians had gained five separate assaults upon Fort St. Nicholas, but were in every instance repulsed by the Turkish companies.

☞ A Russian steamer with 1000 men on board, was stranded on the 16th of November, on the Turkish coast. The people on board were saved by the Turks, and the men to Constantinople as prisoners.

☞ A dispatch states that the Turks had captured a Russian man-of-war in the Black Sea, and the crew had arrived at Constantinople. No particulars of the affair had been received at London.

☞ The latest advices from the East by that report that Dost Mahomed and all the Mahomedans are opposed to the Russians.

TURKISH EXCITEMENT.—The city of Constantinople was yet in a state of joyful excitement regarding the success of the Turkish forces. Fabulous were issued announcing the defeat of the Russians at Odessa, and stated that 50,000 Russians had marched against the Turks on the left bank of the Danube, where a conflict ensued and lasted six hours. The Russians were routed, and their numbers and composition were left on the field of battle. The number on the Russian side killed, was stated at 800, while the Turks lost only 15 killed and 72 wounded.

A treaty had been completed between France and England, guaranteeing the integrity of Turkey.

Prussia and Austria hold large forces which had been ordered to Hungary.

INVASION OF LOWER CALIFORNIA.—Reporting the invasion of Lower California El Bando says:

The faithlessness shown by the two English men-of-war, the steamer Virago and the frigate Amphitrite, regarding the filibustering forces who landed the port of La Paz ... and stated that of Guaymas, has created a great deal of indignation in Mexico. It seems that these vessels neither took any step nor made any movement whatever against the pirates, which they ought to have considered their duty, as we have by the letter received on the subject. The same letter adds, regarding the English ... in the French circle, particulars which we would rather not publish, they being greatly unfavorable to the good understanding of that nation.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

JAN. 26.

Mr. Humphrey, from committee on incorporations reported bill to charter Oregon City water company with amendments.

On motion of Mr. Kelly the bill was postponed till to-morrow.

Mr. Humphrey, from committee, reported a new bill to provide for the taking of the census, ordered to be read third time to-morrow.

Bill relating to taxation and municipal matters to State government, was passed.

Bill for relief of E. P. M'Laugh was passed.

The bill mandatory of fish hunting and fishing Published to Oregon City was read.

The council went into committee of the whole, Mr. Simpson in the chair, on the Oregon City claim memorial, and reported the same with amendment; amendment adopted and memorial passed.

Mr. Simpson, from committee, reported a bill relating to insolvent roads; laid on the table.

The apportionment bill taken up, and amendment opposed by Mr. Kelly, adopted.

On motion of Mr. Richardson, the bill was referred to committee of whole.

Bill to locate road from Salem to Washington Butte, ordered to be read third time to-morrow.

Bill to define southern boundary of Douglas county, read.

Mr. Richardson, from committee, reported bill for relief A. R. Flint and others, passed.

HOUSE.

JAN. 27.

Mr. Hadley, from committee on corporation, reported back, with amendment, the bill to charter a plank road through the

Hon. J. Davis—Sir of Congress

The confidence they repose this State is a ... and of the political ... and that ... are ... the ... to ... a ... ...

The ... ...

I love to get it against wrath,
For, if I'm his antidote—)
When my old child's come to time
He runs to ride to [illegible] home.

I love to see a good one (small) children
With yellow legs on them,
When holed up with a hand dumplings,
So sweet, and good, and fat!

Of all the things I love enough,
A Copper Penny is my pride;
For when I wish legs to walk,
Can I not jump on and ride?"

Hurrah.

For the Oregon Spectator.

Oregon City, Jan. 29, 1858.

DEAR SIR:—There was a gathering of some degree of its ... on the ... of January, and a few years from address which ... words, that you keep ... the question in the negative. I may ... what sorry ... I was your ... to the question, because I ... al who styles himself ... opportunity of ... ...