LIFE ILLUSTRATED

OUR NEW NEWSPAPER.

With the present number we inaugurate a New Weekly Newspaper.

It is not our purpose that this shall be a Monthly Journal. Those have been intimately connected with our special paper, too much beloved by our subscribers, to be dispensed with. But in these days of railroads, monthly visits seem insufficient. Our noble ocean steamers cross the Atlantic every month, and return between every issue. Besides, sufficient space in these Journals to give a full account of the doings of the world.

We have concluded, in addition to our monthly visits to those who may desire them, to make weekly visits to those who may desire them.

In these more frequent calls we shall confine ourselves so strictly to professional matters, as to leave time for the talk of the crops, the markets, politics, amusements, &c., and try to make it as agreeable as possible.

A GEM FOR THE HOME OR OFFICE.

Something new in the Literary World.

A MAMMOTH WEEKLY OF THE FINER ARTS.

THOSE desirous of procuring a weekly paper, conducted with the highest regard for the public welfare, will find in this paper a blend of instruction with amusement, that class of trashy "novelettes," "romances," &c., that tend to vitiate the mind, should be avoided.

AMERICA'S OWN WEEKLY.

EDMUND R. CHILD, EDITOR.

It is a paper of the largest class, and contains all the best literature of the day. It will be found gleanings from the best English and American Authors, Biographies, Historical Recounts, Moral and Interesting Stories, Sketches, Travels, Essays, Anecdotes, Articles on the Fine Arts, Mechanics, &c.

Particular care is taken to avoid those "fancy sketches" which please a hasty reader, but which are so disgusting to the refined taste.

The publishers do not adopt the quid pro quo system, saying that "it is the best paper in the world, and deserves premiums, of any description, in order to induce people to take it," but depend upon its own merits to give it a circulation. They give the disinterested persons whose extensive knowledge enables them to judge correctly of its value.

It is an excellent miscellaneous paper.
