The East Oregonian.

SATURDAY.....APRIL 21, 1877

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE

REDUCED!

The subscription price to the EAST OREGONIAN has been reduced to THREE DOLLARS a year when paid in advance. This step has been taken after much thought on the subject; and it is hoped that the conclusion arrived at will work to the advantage of both patron and publisher. Those who have heretofore declined to subscribe for this paper on account of the rates, now have an opportunity to prove the honesty of their expressions by subscribing, or the falsity of their pretentions by still reading the paper for which somebody else has subscribed and paid for. Remember, that the payment of $3 in cash or acceptable produce in advance secures the EAST OREGONIAN one year; if not paid in advance, $4 will be charged.

A bit of newspaper pasted on a postal card will cost the recipient five cents.

Grasshoppers east and drouth in California is rapidly increasing the population of Oregon.

Logging cattle are worth on Puget Sound $125@200 a yoke—so says Tom Merry in his Seattle Dispatch.

Col. H. C. Paige resigned his position as route agent for Wells, Fargo & Co's Express, and will hereafter take up a permanent residence in Baker city.

Dr. Loryea, formerly of East Portland but now of the San Francisco Turkish Bathe, is engaged to be married to a young lady of wealth living in that city.

The Mountaineer says a gentleman in Grant county lately paid up a delinquent subscription of $24. It takes capital to run a newspaper on that principle.

W. C. Morand accused of the muder of Thos. D. Davis, near Portland some time since, by writ of habeas corpus was re-examined before County Judge Woodard and discharged as innocent.

Hereafter a steamer will be dispatched from San Francisco for Portland every five days instead of every week as formerly. This will necessitate constant employment of three vessels, the "Geo. W. Elder," "City of Chester" and "John L. Stephens."

The Portland Oregonian spells Wallowa with an "i." The orthography of the word is as above. Please make a note of it We dont want any disputes of orthography in Eastern Oregon similar to that of Webfoot about "Willamette" and "Wallamet."

The Mountaineer says: Father Wilbur was in town the other day and arrested an Indian Chief belonging to the Simcoe Agency for refusing to remain on the reservation, and took him off to Fort Vancouver to place him in charge of the military. We are told that he will probably be sent to Indian Territory.

O. N. Denny, who for about two years has been Collector of Internal Revenue for this district, has tendered his resignation, to take effect as soon as his successor is appointed. The only reason for this action is that he wants to disprove the impression so general among people that office-holders seldom die, and never resign.—Bee.

The Southern Hotel in St. Louis was destroyed by fire early on the morning of April 11. Many women and children were burned to death. A large number jumped from the 4th and 5th story windows and were dashed into a jelly on the stone pavement below. The dispatch bringing the news says words cannot describe the frightful scene.

A serious stabbing affray took place at Prineville, in Wasco county, lately. A Mr. Allen attacked Bud Thompson, the former proprietor of the Salem Mercury, and Mr. John Jackson, when Thompson, drawing a knife, stabbed Allen in the left breast, causing what is supposed a fatal wound. Mr. Thompson is acquitted from all blame as he acted purely in self-defense. Mr. Allen was still alive when the mail carier left that place.

Jas. R. Farrish, editor of the Portland Commercial, is slashing around through Eastern Oregon and eastern Washington, to see with his own eyes and hear with his own ears of the wonderful resources of the country east of the Cascades. If a few of the men of Portland who have grown rich selling us needed articles would only do the same their voices, influence and capital might be brought to our assistance in opening up the Columbia or constructing a railroad, that we might, as a people, prosper.

Hayes sensibly says that his present course "tends to give good government to the South; tends to secure peace between sections and between races and parties at the South, and to secure the rights, interests and safety of the colored people. Therefore I am in favor of the policy. I do not know whether I shall succeed in carrying it out, because there are Northern and Southern men who, in various ways, may possibly thwart me, but of one thing I am confident, namely: I think it my duty to try to carry out the policy, and I am going to do it." Bully for Hayes.

The Supreme Court of the State of Pennsylvania, has "recently rendred a decision which declares that a sale of goods by sample is not a warranty; that is to say, the buyer and seller in business transactions must have a distinct understanding as to whether the merchandise is to correspond with the sample; nothing must be taken for granted; the sample, when no agreement is made, only regulates the kind and not the quality of the goods; and so long as the goods delivered are a merchantable article of the same kind as the sample, there is no breach of warranty or actionable variation from the contract."

Our Improvements.

The magnitude of the improvements now being make in portions of Umatilla county is almost beyond belief; and particularly is it so in the eastern portion thereof. In this article we can only refer to the enterprise, tact and use of capital by Dr. Blalock. The Doctor has purchased a large body of land in the vicinity of Milton, and is now in the midst of gigantic improvements; a saw-mill in the mountains is now cutting lumber with which he proposes to construct a flume about 12 miles in length, which will deliver fencing and other lumber adjacent to his immense field of 2,000 acres. He now has eight gang plows at work on this tract, and will thoroughly prepare 1,000 acres of it for planting this Fall with wheat; from which he will realize from 30,000 to 35,000 bushels. He will require lumber for 10 miles of fencing to inclose his field; and will have a sufficient number of artesian wells bored to irrigate the entire field if necessary; although heretofore the same character of lands have produced from 30 to 50 bushels of wheat to the acre without irrigation, when sown as they should be, in the Fall.

In connection with this subject it might be well to remark that no doubt exists as to the entire success of Dr. Blalock's attempt to secure flowing wells of water; and all hope to hear soon of his striking a never failing supply. If artesian wells prove a success in this county it will without exaggeration be the finest agricultural county in the State. There is several townships of rich arable land to the north of Pendleton, and the only thing that prevents their being settled upon is the scarcity of water. A flume could be built down the Umatilla river to float fencing etc. to points along the river of easy access to the lands in question. We think it would be a safe investment for some man of capital to bring artesian well-boring machinery on those lands. There is no doubt in our minds but that there is vast reservoirs of water lying perhaps not more than 150 feet below the surface awaiting the enterprise of man to relieve it from its prison, and start it on its upward bound mission to obey one of the laws of nature, that water will find its own level. The enterprise of Dr. Blalock will undoubtedly prove of vast benefit to our county, not only in dollars and cents, but in reclaiming as it were thousands of acres of seemingly desert land upon which the weary emigrant can settle in the full knowledge that time only will be required when he can sit under his "own vine and fig tree" and enjoy the fruits of his industry.

Butter Creek.

BUTTER CREEK, April 11, 1877.

MR. EDITOR—If we should attempt to write you a "newsy letter" at this time we would surely fail as quietude reigns supreme.

Farmers are through with their Spring crops and sheep men are too busy to think of news. We did think a few days ago that we had struck a "bonanza" of news, as a party of emigrants made a halt here and talked of buying stock and lands extensively. They went and viewed Camas prairie with the avowed purpose of bringing in a colony if it suited them. They were well pleased with the valley but concluded to take a look at the Palouse country before making permanent settlement. Among the party was a Mr. Cushman, but whether a relative of Samuel P. or not we did not learn. They were but a few years from the domain of Canada.

School commenced in this district on last Monday; Mr. L. W. Darling teacher. We congratulate the citizens on their success in securing one so well qualified to take charge of the school.

Samuel George returned home from the Dalles this week after an absence of nearly two months.

It is reported that there are plenty of crickets back in the hills and as they collect on the creeks in hot weather we may expect to fight crickets or do without vegetables next Winter.

Yours, very truly, ANON.

The Monumental.

The Portland Oregonian of April 12th, 1877, says the capitalists of that city who have purchased the Monumental mine have arranged all preliminaries.

At a meeting held on the 5th inst. to complete the organization and for the election of directors and officers of the company, the following named gentlemen were elected djrectors: E. J. W. Stemme, C. S. Miller, O. N. Denny, Wm. Grant, Dalles, and F. C. Sels, Canyon city. E. J. W. Stemme was chosen president, C. D. Folger, secretary, and C. S. Miller general manager.

The gentlemen comprising the directorship of this company are well and favorably known throughout the State, and their connection with the enterprise ought to inspire public confidence in it. A wise selection was made in the choice of our fellow-townsman, E. J. W. Stemme, for president. Mr. Stemme, in former years, done business in the vicinity of this mining district, and has great faith in its merits. C. D. Folger is fully qualified, and will make an efficient secretary. C. S. Miller, Esq., who has been appointed general manager, will direct all the operations at the mine. For several years past Mr. Miller has been actively engaged in quartz mining, having been superintendent of the leading mines in Nevada and Idaho. Besides being a practical miner he has a thorough knowledge of milling, assaying and, in fact, is thorough in the business in all its branches and perhaps no one on the coast is better entitled to the claim of being an expert. He has recently visited the district, and his report on the property of this company and the district generally is exceedingly flattering. He does not hesitate in saying that he considers it one of the most promising camps on the coast. The mineral belt, he claims, covers more ground than several of the mining camps of Nevada together, and while he does not claim that any one of the mines on Granite creek district will equal the famous Con. Virginia or California mine on the Comstock, still he maintains that the district in time will make a better showing on the capital required to be invested than even the Washoe district.

The property of the Monumental Silver Mining Company consists of 3,000 feet on the Monumental lode, 1,500 feet each over three other seperate lodes running parallel, and a tunnel right which covers all other veins or lodes on the mountain for a length of 3,000 feet from the starting point of said tunnel. In this corporation or company there is property enough, if the enterprise proves successful, to warrant the belief that the company will in time represent as much hard cash as the great bonanza kings of Nevada.

In addition to the intrinsic merits of this mine, it commends itself to the citizens of Oregon as a home enterprise, thus far developed by Oregon capital, and the great wealth which in all probability it will yield the people of this State will receive. The company have established an office in this city, rooms No. 11 and 12, Strowbridge building, First street, where can be seen specimens of the ore, and information furnished regarding the mine.

"Shep." of the Bedrock Democrat flaunts every week in his columns an insult (if insult it can be called from such a source) to every publisher who uses a patent outside. It would be spending time foolishly to write at length on this subject, so we will just remark that every man publishing a newspaper, whether he be a newspaper man or not, has a right to do as he pleases regarding patent outsides; and no man knowing his duty will open his "jaws" regarding it. So also Shep has a right to publish a so-called newspaper every week, which has the appearance of being printed with tar stolen from the axle of a freight wagon, and with a "roller" old enough to have been used by Ben. Franklin. How long is it Shep., since you ceased to use "patent supplements" from San Francisco as a sort of tail to your Bedrock? Shep. says a patent outside could not have printed John D. Lee's confession! Well, does it concern you whether they do so or not? As to that confession, it was in the hands of nearly every reader of the Bedrock before its appearance in that paper; for be it remembered that nearly every reader receives some coast or New York weekly containing such news; and they don't care to see space taken up in the home paper by the publication of such documents. They would prefer local items, of which none of us publish too many, and of which Shep. publishes altogether too few. Ah, pardon us; for that is none of our business. We drop the subject.

NEW TO-DAY.

☞ Those owing us will confer a favor by settling. Court week offers a splendid opportunity for so doing; and we need the money. ☜
