Honorably Acquited.

Mr. Frank Pike who resides in Cold Spring Canyon in this county was arrested at his home sometime ago by Deputy Sheriff Herren of Linn county, upon a charge of embezzlement and taken to Albany for trial. The cause was continued on the motion of the District Attorney and Frank gave bonds and returned to this county. At the March term of the court he again went down and this time succeeded in obtaining a trial. The state utterly failed to prove the charge and Frank was honorably acquitted, under the instructions of the court, by the jury without leaving the jury box, and that, too, without introducing a single witness on the part of the defence.

The prosecution was evidently malicious and without probable cause. The following we clip from the Albany Reporter.

"Mr. Frank Pike, charged with embezzlement, was honorably acquitted at the last term of the Circuit Court. Mr. Pike was charged with embezzling a check for a certain amount of money. As shown in the trial, the check was drawn in favor of a certain man, and that man assigned the check to Frank Pike, and as there was no evidence that the money was intended for any one else but Mr. Pike, the charge of embezzlement didn't stick however, it was in evidence that the check was cashed at a Portland bank, on a certain date, and that Mr. Pike's name was signed to it. Mr. Pike proposed to prove by the hotel register in this city, and by one at least of Linn's best citizens, that on the day in question, between the hours of 11 A. M. and 12 M. he was in the city of Albany, and therefore could not have signed the check or received the money. We are glad Frank has cleared up the matter so far as he is concerned so satisfactorily. We never could believe he was guilty of the charge.

Somebody evidently drew the money on the check, after signing Mr. Pikes name. No one, who knows him, in this country ever for a moment believed that he was guilty. The probabilities are that the parties who took such an interest in the prosecution know more about how the check was cashed than they would like to tell.

Indian Cruelty.

The Salt Lake Tribune, in giving an account of the late Long Creek massacre of Chinamen and the condition in which their remains were found, says:—Moving on through the ruins they found the naked body of an old man whom the savages had beaten to death. The body was placed on all fours and frozen in that position. Into his back a ten-pronged sluice fork had been thrust and a cross cut saw pushed in between the prongs and left there. Another body was found partly outside the door of the burning building, and the legs burned to cinder. The charred bones of the others were found in a pile in one of the burned houses. The fiends who committed this horrible deed are a tribe, or the remnant of one, called the Sheep Eaters. There are only ten Indians in the band, eight big bucks and two young ones.

MODESTO, CAL., APRIL 1st 1879.

EDITOR "E. O."—

I arrived here one week ago to-day; had a good trip down on the steamer Great Republic. We were detained one day at the mouth of the Columbia, the bar being so rough the commander would not venture out, saying: "If we cannot cross to-day we can perhaps to-morrow or the next day," I would recommend the Great Republic to the travelling public.

I found all my relatives and friends well. A great many I once knew are gone, "to that undiscovered country from whose bourne no traveler returns."

All here are apparently glad to see me and gave me a hearty welcome. Yesterday my brother Dick gave a dinner to celebrate the 76th birthday of our mother. Children, grand children, and great grand children, to the number of 25 or 29 were present.

This country has again been blessed with pleasant showers and the grain crops are looking fine, particularly in all that part of the country east of San Joaquin river. The area sown this season, however, is not so great as formerly by 29 per cent. On the heavy lands along the eastern foothills much of early grain rotted before sufficient rain fell to bring it up.

I do not know yet when I shall return to Pendleton.

From Fairview.

EDITOR "E. O."—

I will try and scribble you a few lines: Everybody busy plowing and sowing grain.

I think we have a reading neighborhood for everybody takes the EAST OREGONIAN or Independent or Weston Leader, so this speaks well for us as a community.

Plenty of Major Cornoyer's pets around. They had better look a little out, or some of them will come home to late for "muck a muck" this winter.

On the 22d as the writer was down in the Cold Spring country, two Indians rode up and wanted to know what he was there for. He told them he was hunting horses. One of them had a gun and rode off about 50 yards and the other one told me that I had better get out of there and to hi-ac, but when the writer drew a revolver the red devil "clatawad." The Indian raised his gun but did not fire. The Indians left for camp.

The Fairview Rangers, Company C, met yesterday and had company drill. They meet the last Saturday in each month. They have adapted a uniform—will consist of a blue shirt with red bosoms and the letter of the company C in the center of the bosom, a black hat and pair of black pants. We will have a company that our captain may be proud of.

There is a vast amount of vacant land in the Cold Spring country that can be settled yet. So, ye homeless, in search of homes, look that way before going further.

MAC.

Were you all at the entertainment to see the "Oh, what a fright!"

From "The Old Philosopher."

SPRING, SPRING, GENTLE SPRING.

Do not be alarmed, Mr. Editor, I do not propose to inflict your readers with a rhapsody of rhyme or spring, even if there were any hopes of a poetical effusion of mine being passed to print. But this terrible aching of my limbs, reminds me again that spring has come. The warm weather of the last few days, and the warm spring rains has been thawing out the frosts of winter in my bones. At least that is how I account for the SPRING FEVER.

It may be that old age is beginning to tell on me. I notice, friend Jim, that you also have been under the weather lately.

Not feeling well, I have not made the rounds lately, and consequently am not posted on the news of the day. I failed to attend the high school exhibition, and have not made any enquiries regarding it. No doubt it was a successful affair as the P-A-D-A-s did remarkably well. Diphtheria still "hangs on" in our midst, and frequently we learn that some little pet and darling of a household has fallen a victim to this fell disease. The last was the bright and intelligent son of our esteemed citizen, John Bean. We hope it will be a long time before you will be called upon to chronicle the name of another victim. Mr. and Mrs. Lehman Blum took their departure on Tuesday last for Portland. Mr. B. goes to buy an extensive spring stock, and Mrs. B. will extend her trip to her former home, San Francisco. We wish them a pleasant journey and safe return. Messrs. Henriyx & Spaulding have also shaken the dust of Pendleton from their shoes and have gone to California to be absent several months. Mrs. Hexter has gone to buy a new stock. Our friend Rothchild went early and made a flying trip.

Prof. Harmon gave one of his best entertainments at Milarkey's Hall on Tuesday evening. I attended, and although there were but few present, the professor gave an enjoyable entertainment. Everybody present "laughed and grew," and I take advantage of this opportunity to extend my thanks for on the occasion.

The Independent has a correspondent this week who styles himself the

YOUNG PHILOSOPHER,

Who proposes to wage war on all your correspondents. We advise the boy to dry his swaddling clothes before he undertakes such a course.

I see many persons in town this week attending county court, and trust they all may succeed in getting their

CLAIMS ALLOWED.

If just and proper.

Bad Bought, we are informed, has eloped with one of our fairest damsels,

MISS ANNIE REEVES,

and gone to Idaho in order to get the hymenial knot tied.

I see improvements still going on in our midst.

MATLOCK, JR.

Have, during the week erected an awning or porch in front of their "gin shop" that for beauty is not surpassed in town. Also Dr. Pruett has built in front of his residence a neat porch which makes it the most desirable residence in town.

Excuse a short letter, this time, Mr. Editor, my aches and pains as well as business of importance compel me to be brief. Perhaps your readers will not regret that for a change they are spared a long infliction. More anon. Yours truly,

THE OLD PHILOSOPHER.

From Little Franky Taliaferro.

J. H. TURNER, Esq.—

Dear Sir: A few days ago I had the pleasure of feasting my eyes on a copy of the dear old EAST OREGONIAN of which you have become the editor since I left those low grounds of sorrow. Well sir, it was a real treat, I read all the articles and devoured all the advertisements, and the idea occurred to me that I would like to try my hand at corresponding with your interesting paper and give you a mess of San Francisco news now and then. What do you say? Is it a bargain? I have never seen myself in print and I think I should like it and then I think that many of my old friends in Umatilla county would not be displeased to read a letter from me occasionally.

Then to occurrence:—I am about two years older than I was when I left old Pendleton and am groping along towards manhood. I have been going to school since my return here, trying to cram a little knowledge into my head. I am now engaged in perfecting myself as a mechanical draftsman, with a view of becoming a "patent lawyer" and if you or "Mamsey" should make any invention of a new printing press or some new machine to open up the Umatilla Reservation, I shall be very happy to offer you my services in the patent office at Washington in getting out your patents.

Just at present this country is all astir on the subject of politics that is on the "Chinese must go" question. We have had a constitutional convention at Sacramento to make a new political party, called the "Workingmen's party," that has been making a great stir for the last eighteen months. They carried the city last fall and elected a workingmen's delegate to the convention. The convention has done its work. They adjourned and now they are trying to carry the new constitution at the election to be held for that purpose on the 7th of May next. You will of course read about it in papers. It is uncertain whether they will carry it. Some say they will, and others say they will not. Some say that it is better than the old constitution, and others think it is not as good, but the workingmen are doing their best for it, because they think it will rid the country of Chinamen and break up the stock gambling and land monopoly. But this party, they say, will break up the democratic party because most of its members are old democrats, and for that reason I don't like it, because I think the democrats are the best of them all. They swindled Tilden out of the presidency, don't you think so Jim? Anyhow, I think the next president will be a democrat, if not the country's gone up.

I had the pleasure to meet my old friend Frank Gray, in a two-bit restaurant—no—a fine oyster saloon, sometime ago. He looked as natural as ever. I hope he has arrived back home all safe and sound, and will be on hand for the next party at Milarkey's Hall. Frank is a gay boy, makes a good saddle and sings a tasty bow on a fiddle.

We have had Mr. John Pruett down here for the last two years, and we have made a way-up doctor out of him and sent him back to you.

I see in your paper the card of Wm. Ewing, and I congratulate the young ladies of Pendleton upon his return and shall before long expect to see a blooming notice of a grand wedding party. Be sure to wrap me up a piece of the cake in an EAST OREGONIAN and send it by mail, as I shan't be able to come to the wedding. I always thought that fiddle of his would be the ruin of some young woman; "Won't you love me Katie darling," in his best style with the violin accompaniment is just too fine for any young woman to resist, and she must give in.

Send me a copy of the paper and I shall give you some more. My father is well and if he knew I was writing he would send you his respects, but he is too busy to talk to. Give my love to all the boys and girls in Pendleton, and tell them I am nearly 17 years and one of these days, if I live long enough, I will come back and visit Pendleton. But there is lots of sport in Frisco and if any of the Pendleton girls should come, I should be very happy to show them the sights.

Now the best in the world, but good enough;—"Oh, what a fright"

From Mississippi Gulch.

EDITOR "E. O."—

In consequence of the damp atmosphere, during the last few days, the wires have not worked well; hence our neighborhood telephones have been comparatively idle.

Thos. Robbins of the Meadows, has sold his ranch to a man from California for $3000.

William Mallough disposed of his claim to John Buark of Ritz Creek for $800.

Thus a good citizen comes among us.

Hillis Edwards and James Guinn traded farms, and now they both live nearer "pap."

Dr. Blalock has inaugurated another project, which, if a success, will be worthy of large comment. It consists in bringing water from the Walla Walla River near Milton, to his ranch, a distance of four miles, through wooden pipe; the contract for boring has been awarded the Magic Pump Company of Salem. No estimates of costs yet given.

Miss Lillian Ballou, recently of Prof. Dorin's high school of Santa Rosa, Cal., is teaching the Coss Creek school. We compliment that people on their happy selection, as she is the right lady in the right place.

On Saturday evening, March 29th, as Mr. S. P. Whitley and wife, were on their return from a social evening visit to M. Emrick's, on the Walla Walla River, they met with a serious accident. The recent rains had raised the river considerable, and as Mr. Whitley attempted to cross, at the ford near Ullsis Garrel's, one of the horses (being young) refused to go. The buggy, team, and Mr. Whitley were all carried down the current. The harness was cut, one horse and Mr. Whitly swam across and came out safe. The other horse was drowned, and the harness and upper portion of the buggy were lost. Mrs. Whitley fearing danger, had gone in company with others, and crossed on a foot bridge, below the ford. The river is almost beyond crossing.

Mr. Wm. White, Jr., and Miss Dolly Dorn, were united in the bonds of wedlock on Sunday, March 23d. Thus they glide along, and again we are made to lament our growing age, and lonely condition. But will never do to give it up, so, there's hopes as long as there's life, as "Pill Vender" says. COMPANERO.

RATHER LOW.—The expenses of printing for the school exhibition was just $3.

From Weston.

WESTON, April 2d, 1879.

ED. "E. O."

"Strike the iron while its hot." Now is the time for our citizens to agitate the Indian question. Why not do as the "E. O." suggests, i. e. send a good responsible man to Washington armed with all the facts. Let us do something now, or hereafter hold our peace. I had a talk a few days ago with an Indian that was out with the troops last summer after the fight on the reservation. I asked him if Moses would fight this summer. He said no, if he gets the reservation all will be quiet. Moses don't want to fight, he said. But Smohollas "Tum-tum" is very bad toward the whites. I do not know this Indians name. He is the one that had a needle gun which I did, and do believe is the gun I saw with O. McCoy the night he was killed. I do not know the No. of McCoy's gun. I asked him where he got it. He said he killed a Snake Indian and took his gun.

It seems too bad Union county should use E. S. McComas for the insignificant sum of $1,601 50, as everyone knows the Mountain Sentinel is opposed to corruption in all its forms. Furthermore Mac is a jovial good fellow and always in for something lively. To illustrate this I will state a little circumstance that happened last summer. Major Gro. M. Downey's command were up Snake river at McDowell's ferry about fifty miles from Boise City, looking after any straggling Indians that might be in that vicinity, as the main body of the hostiles had passed. But there were no stragglers left. Mac wishing to break the monotony of the scene and get up a little Indian scare, he offered a man at the ferry $20 to go out in the hills and find some fresh tracks and report the same so as to make things a little lively he said. Of course that would detain the command a few days. Mac furnished transportation hay and grain sometime. Major Downey with his usual foresight seen through the joke, as indeed he seemed to see through all Mac's little jobs, and pushed on in the hot sun and thick dust. J. M. KILLIAN.

The high school exhibition has started a publication to be issued monthly—pearlmonty.
