

An Interesting Meeting

A very remarkable and interesting meeting took place recently in Washington between two generals who had fought on opposite sides during our civil war. It was Gordon's (Confederate) command which struck the flank of the Eleventh (Union) corps; it is said, on the afternoon of the first day at Gettysburg, and by a brief though desperate onset broke its line, and threw it into irretrievable disorder.

A Hunt After Bats

One of the funniest games I have heard of for a very long time, says a writer for the London Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News, is my friend Mr. Eccles' description of how he caught innumerable bats one night. It was many years ago, when he was young in his profession, while on a tour with a provincial company, he had taken lodgings in a clean but rather dilapidated little house.

The Linn-Street High-School

"Dat's gwine ter be a pow'ful sarchin' in'quiry inaugurated round here," said Mr. Copernicus, last Monday morning, as he pulled off his gloves and rapped on the desk for books. "I'm makin' some remarks, young uns, and I want yer to hol' de flaps o' yer hands in perpendiculous perisasion. Stop dat snickering, Ben. Blackin'box, les' I put a box 'd five handles 'longside o' dat souse meat on de side o' yer head.

Peninsular Virginia

The soil of peninsular Virginia is rather kindly than rich. Certainly it has not that richness of virgin land of which it is said, "Tackle it with a hoe, and it laughs in a harvest," but light manuring produces a quick return and ample crops, and that considerably earlier than in other places north of Norfolk. There is still a remnant of the old style of farming to be seen, of which it was said that there were only three crops raised in Virginia—corn, hogs and niggers, of which the hogs ate all the corn, and the niggers devoured all the hogs. One of these "crops," however, is removed from the list.

A Man Who Had Time to Spare

Governor Dix was one of the most industrious of men, but was never so busy as to deny an audience. Some minor State officers in these piping times of peace are more puffed up and self-important than he was at the height of his military power. H. O. Houghton, of Cambridge, told me once that he had occasion to call upon General Dix in New York at a critical period during the war. Although the General was harassed and alarmed by the threatening state of affairs in the city, and was at the same time unacquainted with Mr. Houghton, the great publisher found him in citizen's dress and so unpretentious that he was charmed as much by his simplicity of manner as by the force of his character.

PACIFIC COAST.

A Monster. (SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.)—A horrible case of alleged rape occurred at the Mission yesterday, the accused being one John James McCalvey, a dress-maker and hat-maker and the complainant two little girls aged nine and eight years respectively, and belonging to most respectable families. The crime took place on Sunday a week ago. The little girls belong to different families, and told their stories in the presence of their respective parents, their narratives agreeing in all particulars. They were to the effect that the man enticed them into an empty car during the day time and succeeded as well as circumstances would allow in outraging the elder, confining himself with merely an assault upon the younger. He persuaded on them to keep the matter secret, and they did not tell the story until he met them near the close of last week and asked them to repeat the liberties. Upon information received an officer arrested McCalvey on seventeenth street yesterday. He was charged with rape and incest, and is held to-day he was held to answer on the two charges, the bail in each case being fixed at $10,000. McCalvey is about forty years old.

Gambling and Murder. (MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 26.)—A general occurred here Saturday evening between James Keif and Charles Redinger at a gambling table in Matheson & Parker's saloon, which resulted in the killing of Keif. They had been gambling during the afternoon, and a dispute arose about the division of money. Keif being the amount in question. A few words were exchanged when they rose from the table and Redinger pulled his revolver and caught Keif's right arm and placed his pistol near his forehead and fired, the ball entering Keif's brain, causing instant death. Redinger was immediately arrested, hurried to jail, and a warrant was issued for a crime committed at Sausalito. The citizens here were outraged, and had the costable been detained 10 minutes longer, the murderer would have been lynched.

Waiting for Coals. (BOSTON, Mass., May 26.)—A general occurred here Saturday evening between James Keif and Charles Redinger at a gambling table in Matheson & Parker's saloon, which resulted in the killing of Keif. They had been gambling during the afternoon, and a dispute arose about the division of money.

Wanted. (SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.)—At about 12:15 this morning some one called at the door of the court house and answered by Jailer Reed, who was requested to open the door. Mr. Reed refused, when the door was forced open and about 50 men entered. The jailer was ordered to show up his hands, which he refused to do. He was then manacled and refused search was then made and the keys found. The mob entered the cells containing Thomas and William Yokum, and lynched them by hanging them in their cells. Wm. Yokum was chained to the floor of the cell and shot in the back, which he refused to do. He was then manacled and refused search was then made and the keys found. The mob entered the cells containing Thomas and William Yokum, and lynched them by hanging them in their cells.

No Intermixture. (SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.)—It was announced officially this evening that the San Francisco Board of Health had issued a special order on Friday last, December 31, 1874.

Heavy Fines. (SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.)—An old established wholesale liquor dealer, 723 and 725 Clay street, is reported to have paid $20,000.

Troy Dye and Anderson Hanged. (SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.)—Troy Dye, formerly public administrator of Sacramento county, and his partner in crime, Edward Anderson, were hanged on the gallows today for the murder of A. M. Tallis last August. At noon the prisoners ascended the scaffold and white sheets were pulled over them. The clergyman read a statement concerning Anderson's spiritual condition, and also a statement written by Anderson, admitting the justice of the penalty and expressing a hope of redemption. Daybreak-time grew weak and pale and vomited twice, but remained quiet. The nooses were adjusted, the black caps drawn over their heads, and at 12:15 the drop fell. The bodies of both the condemned were taken away, and in 14 minutes they were pronounced dead. A post-mortem on the remains of Dye is now in progress, with a view to ascertaining the condition of his brain.

British Columbia Items. (VANCOUVER, B. C., May 26.)—John J. Jungermann, an old San Francisco jeweler, died suddenly last night.

Fraser River. (VANCOUVER, B. C., May 26.)—The jewels at Matsqui has given away and let the water on the prairie, which is now covered to a depth of two feet.

Engineers Have Arrived to Explore for a Line of Railway through the Peace river country. It is claimed that a line through that section would be 650 miles, and no other continental line now under way or projected.

An Idea for School Teachers. (BOSTON, Mass., May 26.)—A Massachusetts teacher writes to the National Journal of Education describing an experiment in the schoolroom which seems to be successful. Instead of facing his pupils he has his desk behind them, and thus overlooks them to great advantage. The naughty little ones, not knowing when his eyes are upon them, dare not whisper or play. "They have," he says "so frequently come to grief in attempting to calculate chances, that they have concluded to make a virtue of necessity and give up play in the schoolroom as unprofitable, costing more than it comes to."

Another decided advantage of this system is that it completely isolates classes reciting from the rest of the school, the recitation benches being in front of the teacher's desk, between him and the school, and the backs of the pupils being toward each other, communication by look or sign is out of the question. The only special rule is that pupils shall not look round."

At 20 you know everything, at 30 you have your doubts, at 40 there are some things you don't know, at 50 you are sure of your ignorance, and after that you read Mr. Beecher's sermon on everlasting punishment and hope he is right.

A bald Cincinnati woman does not cover the bare top of her head with false hair, or by combing her own hair over it, but appears to be proud of the distinction that it gives her in public assemblages, for she always removes her bonnet. The effect is striking.

A Row Among Congressmen's Wives.

Lovely woman at Washington is having a very unlovely contest all to herself. The custom has been to admit the wives of members of the House to the reserved galleries of the Senate upon a member's card, but the Senate ladies began to object to the crowd, finding that it didn't allow their new Spring toilettes to show off to advantage. They finally got things to suit them, an order having been issued from the Senate side not to recognize the cards of the members of the House.

Suffered Twenty Years. "I have suffered for twenty years with itching and ulcerated piles, having used every remedy that came to my notice without benefit, until I used Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment and received immediate relief."

JAMES CARROLL. (An old miner) Tecoma, Nevada.

Two surgeons, from the National Surgical Institute, which has a reputation, extending throughout the civilized world for success in the treatment of spinal curvature, paralysis, sciatic disease, club feet, dislocated joints, crooked limbs, piles, fistula and nasal curvature, will visit Portland, Oregon, at St. Charles Hotel, from May 12th to the 17th inclusive, and Walla Walla, W. T., at the Adams' House, May 22nd and 23rd, 1879. These surgeons will bring with them an extensive outfit of costly apparatus for straightening the worst deformities. This is an opportunity which should not be neglected by the afflicted. Examination free.

If you are going to paint your house, barn, wagon or machinery, the wonderful Impervious Mixed Paint is surely the best, for it is warranted by their agents in your own town not to crack, crack, peel or blister to cover better and work easier than any other paint. The Impervious Paint was awarded the 2nd premium over all other paints at the California State Fair, 1876, and the Gold Medal at the International Fair, 1878. It is a superior water proofing and wood preservative. Agents in each city and the wonderful efficacy of this paint will be shown to you at our place of business.

All Bitters are whisky in a disguised form. It is far better and more honorable for a man to "brace up" to a bar and call for whisky than to use the back door of his house with a bottle of Bitters under his coat. It is whisky in a bottle, all the same, as is shown by Dr. Funder's Oregon Bitters.

If any druggist will prove by analysis that our patent medicine on his shelves is a better remedy than Funder's Oregon Bitters, we will give him a $1000.00 reward. If he will send the formula to us.
