Democratic State Central Committee.

A meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee is hereby called to meet in the city of Salem on the 8th day of January, 1880. A full attendance is requested.

JOHN F. MILLER.

Monumental Mines.

At last we have seen it. Sam Parrish, Messrs. Villam, Folger and Pinnock, arrived in town last Friday with one silver brick, the worth of which was $976 06 silver, $55 20 gold. After exhibiting it at Rothchild & Bean's, then at R. Alexander & Co.'s, they took it to the Bon Ton Hotel where the host had prepared a sumptuous repast, placed the brick in the center of the table and commenced operations. Curiosity hunters arrived on the scene, and it was a hard matter to decide which was the most coveted, the brick or the dinner. The party left for Umatilla that afternoon on their way to Portland. The amount of salt required to work the mineral is enormous, and the Monumental Company will no doubt have to keep the road open during the Winter from Umatilla to the mines. We learn that John Hailey & Co. will take advantage of it, and run some passenger coaches from Pilot Rock to the mines during the Winter—and no doubt the mail will be increased on this route to tri-weekly. Thus we see the resources of the southern portion of this county slowly but surely developing.

Division or no Division.

The Weston Leader came to us last week with the announcement that it would still advocate the division of the county. Now we have to propose to the Leader to put its proposition in some tangible form, so that we can either agree or disagree with him in the premises. Now there is not a man in the county but what would be willing to divide and re-divide, providing he could see money enough in it. If the county should be divided, let us know as a first proposition, where it is to be divided; whether it is to be divided into two counties or into six. Take a map, friend Black, and after you have studied it thoroughly, draw the lines and then it will be time for all citizens to consider whether a division would be subservient of the public good or not. To say you are in favor of division without first saying where and how you would divide, would be about like a half-dozen men agreeing to divide a beer that was the common property of all, and when all had voted for division the majority agreed to take all but the tail and let that be divided among the minority. Come out square Mr. Leader, and we will let you know where to find us.

The Dividers Divided.

With last weeks issue of the Leader Paul d'Heirry severed his connection with that journal. He is one of the most persistent dividers ever known. In the first place he divided his hair in the middle, then his name, next the State, then the county and lastly the Weston Leader. Well, Paul has some ability and was a fair writer of a factious kind, rather over-estimating his ability. But let the boy down gently, he did no very great harm, and we feel sure the world will continue to revolve, notwithstanding the fact that he has retired from the Leader. Mr. Black will continue the paper and we feel confident under his sole management the Leader will regain its former standing among its contemporaries. If he follows out the programme laid down in his last issue, and discusses all and every subject in a courteous, gentlemanly manner, he will command the respect of his readers and contemporaries, and will soon regain what was lost by the contumelious style of his late partner.

HEARD FROM.—The following we clip from the Oskaloosa Herald. We think Bill has thrown off on us or he would have sent us some of that corn-pone, for he knows we have a weakness for such:

Last Saturday there was a grand gathering in the southeast part of this county and as we were there we give some particulars. In 1852 Mrs. Ellen Lee and her husband came to this county and settled in the south part of Cedar township, Mr. Lee entering a large tract of land. In 1865 the husband died. Eleven children had blessed their union and the gathering we speak of was a re-union of the children, grand-children and great-grand-children of the venerable old lady. It was held at the house of G. L. Phillippe and was in honor of two events. The return from Oregon after a twenty years' absence of a son, W. M. Lee; and the completion of a very fine house by a grandson, G. L. Phillippe. There was present seven children—J. M., W. M., M. B. and N. M. Lee, brothers; Mrs. Xantippe Harker, Mrs. Failyer, and Polly Everson, sisters. Aside from these there were Alonzo Harker and wife, G. L. Phillippe and wife, John Whitmore and wife, Jas. Harker, Rev. J. Furguson, M. B. McClune, Jas. McClune, Zacharish McClune and wife, all related. L. B. Buskirk and wife, neighbors, and the writer were the only persons in the merry company who were not related by the ties of blood. There were seven children, twenty grand-children and four great-grand-children. The mother of this family is sixty-nine years old, is hale and hearty, full of life and with scarcely a grey hair among the bountiful black locks that cover her venerable head. The dinner was one of excellence and abundance. Almost everything that could be desired was there. One dish that elicited much praise was a corn-pone baked by "grandmother" Lee in the old dutch oven brought to the country years ago and which served the early settlers for oven, kettle, pot, stew-pan and skillet, before the "new-fangled" ides of stoves came into vogue. It has seldom been our lot to be in a happier company than the one we speak of. All were there to enjoy themselves—and did so. The house at which the party was held is a fine one, just finished. It is a frame 31x56, two stories, with an addition or ell, 40x16. A very fine cellar under all. It was built by John H. Switzer who thereby proves himself a good workman. It is situated on the highest point of ground in that neighborhood and commands from its top a magnificent view of all the surrounding country. Its cost was $1800. Mr. Phillippe has 160 acres of fine farming land here and with this excellent new house, a large barn previously built, and the other necessary improvements is in good shape for making success of life.

Subdued Hostiles.

Commissioner Hayt says, concerning Indian prisoners of war taken to Yakima Agency last Winter, that they have received a very careful training and have been improved in every respect. He adds that Indian civilization is carried on at the Yakima reservation on business principles. The end and aim of the service is kept constantly in view. No time is lost in theorizing, and every Indian is put to work to earn his own substinence and work out his own civilization.

This looks well on paper, but a person should take into consideration the difference between a band of Indians, who have lost all in war with the government and our Cayuse who counts his horses by the thousands. One is out of his own county and has to work or starve, the other is living upon Umatilla reservation, is rich, proud, insolent and is deadly opposed to all kinds of work that can't be done on horseback. A few, very few exceptions to the above can be found on this reserve, and we predict that so long as they can enjoy these lands the civilization process will run on indefinitely.

Cruzan Again.

On Sunday evening Mr. Cruzan lectured at the Congregational Church on the subject of "Impure Literature and the Scurrilous Press." As the walking match exhibitions were closed there was a good attendance at the church to listen to the mountebank, who, under the thinnest disguise of Christianity, shows himself to be both a knave and a fool. He, finding it impossible to get any decent paper in the city to publish his "re-hash" sermons, empties the vials of his wrath on the daily city press and denounces it as a "cheap imitation of the metropolitan sensational press, but without the ability." This reverend humbug has been trying hard to have the press in this city notice him and his sermons, and this paper in the interests of decency did so, and for which it has received the approval of the public. Mr. Cruzan does not hesitate to publish his church notices in the "scurrilous" city press, and after having done this advises the people to withdraw their patronage from these papers and procure clean papers and books for reading. His ravings on Sunday night are on a par with his sermon on "Working Women" who he claims could not be virtuous and receive only six dollars a week for wages, and then, when a poor woman offered, in her poverty and distress, to work in his family for three dollars a week, refused to pay her more than two-thirds that pitiful sum. The woman was compeled to toil and drudge night and day and in the end had to leave being unable to do the work that was piled upon her. Mr. Cruzan would do a great deal better earning his living by shuffling a deck of waxed monte cards on a greasy blanket than by trying to palm himself off on the people as a reformed sinner called to lead the people to the Great Master's throne of grace.—Standard.

Accidently Killed.

[Special to the Oregonian.]

HEPPNER, Dec. 3.—While Mr. Cupple and his brother, a boy of 19, were hunting in the mountains a few days since, the gun of the former was accidently discharged and the bullet passed through the body, breaking his back and killing him instantly. H. H. HALLOCK.

SMALL FIRE.—About three o'clock yesterday morning a fire broke out in the Congress saloon, owned by Thomas Niben. An alarm was sounded from box 12, which was responded to very quickly and the flames extinguished with but slight loss. Niben loses about $150 which is covered by insurance. The boys have showed admirable alacrity of late in getting out at night and have done excellent work when they got to the fires, and yesterday morning was no exception.—Oregonian.

This brings to our minds the danger of fire in this town, and the sooner a fire department is thoroughly organized, a good hook and ladder company and a good fire engine is obtained, the better for all householders in town. Had this small fire started in our town at 3 o'clock any morning there would not have been a vestage left on Main street. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

Bloodshed in New Orleans.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—A Democrat special from East Martinville says Emil Detoge, Republican candidate for sheriff of this parrish, has killed two De La Sonnage brothers—Ernest and Onizipher, Jr. The belief is the trouble will not end here, as Detoge has gone home, said to be mortally wounded.

Specials from 27 parishes, not including New Orleans, gives the Democrats 13,215 net majority. The Democrats claim the election of Wiltz by 20,000 majority. The new constitution was adopted by a large majority.

Had the murdered ones been Republicans every Republican paper in the United States would have commented on the event. As it is, we do not expect to hear of it from any of them except as telegraphic news.

Trials of Speed.

Purses Offered as Premiums to the Successful Flyers at the Next State Fair.

The following purses have been offered by the State Agricultural Society for the successful horses in the races as below announced:

TROTTING.

Post stake, for three-year-olds; $30 entrance, half forfeit, $500 added by the Association; first horse, two-thirds of stake; second horse, two-thirds balance, and the third horse the remainder; free for all other than thoroughbreds; entrance closes May 1, 1880.

Purse $300, free for all Oregon, Washington and Idaho bred horses, three-quarters of a mile.

Purse $500 free for all, mile heats, three in five; $400 to first horse and $100 to second.

Purse $500, free for all, two miles and repeat; $400 to first and $100 to second horse.

The O. S. N. Co. will soon, says the Mountaineer, employ 200 hands as shipbuilders, carpenters and laborers. It needs all they can do in building boats to keep up with the amount of grain that will be ready for market next Autumn from Eastern Oregon and Washington.

The great trouble and hindrance to the settlement of the country lying between the reservation and the Columbia river is the want of timber for building and fencing purposes. There is in that scope of country many thousand acres of as good land as the world affords, which is unsettled, simply because there is no timber accessible to the settler. Much of it has been taken within the last year, but principally by speculators, simply because the honest, hard working settler is unable to cultivate it for the want of means to fence it.

The only way that timber of any kind can be got on to the land is by bringing it from the public, government lands across the reservation. We were all led to believe that that draw-back would be greatly lessened by the prospect we had of the Farrow Bros. being able to furnish timber by bringing it down the Umatilla river and furnishing it at greatly reduced rates. But no, in this we were greatly mistaken, we find our hopes once more blasted, just as soon as they complete their arrangements and have everything in readiness to supply us, some officious government official at the instance of some secret scalawag informer, causes their arrest for cutting timber on the public lands, and we are again left almost without hope. The government was petitioned for the right to bring timber down the Umatilla river across the reservation; the Indian chiefs all joined in such petition, but no, this privilege is denied by the department who know nothing of our situation and care less. There is timber enough in the Blue mountains to supply the country for hundreds of years and much of it going to waste, lying there rotting on the ground and our government prohibits its subjects from using it, when they are suffering irreparable loss for the want of it, simply for fear the rights of its wards, a few dirty Indians, will be affected thereby.

The people have a right to this timber, the demand it, and we trust that our members of Congress will see to it that arrangements are made whereby we can at least have a sufficiency to supply the demands of the country and enable it to settle up. The people should meet and petition Congress to amend the laws relative to timber on the public lands so that it can be taken for the purposes of building, fencing, etc. The lands should be surveyed and then they can be taken in some way and titles obtained by the settler from the government; we can neither obtain titles to the land or get the timber for our use on other lands. We must either have access to this timber and be permitted to use it or quit the country, and the latter will not be done, so give us the right to use the timber.

UMATILLA, December 3, 1879.

ED. "E. O."—Last evening the ringing of bells announced to the citizens of this burg that the celebrated Maguire Pianoforte Company would give an entertainment at this place; a goodly number of the citizens wended their way to the school house, expecting to listen to a musical treat. Expecting to, to meet a company of ladies and gentlemen; judging from the quality of the former and actions of the latter, we were grievously disappointed. I think the more proper name would be the Molly Maguires. Mr. Editor, I do not wish to do injustice to any one; the above does not include Miss McClellan, who recited "Beautiful Snow" in a very impressive manner. The singing of Miss Edgar was very pleasing, quite in contrast to the braggadocia manner of one Professor.

ACCIDENT AT THE CASCADE LOCKS.—A few days ago J. H. Hall, a laborer at the Cascade Locks, was preparing a charge of giant powder, and was standing on the rock to be blasted, when the charge exploded prematurely. Hall's arms, breast and face were lacerated, and it is thought his eyesight is destroyed. He was conveyed to this city and taken to St. Vincent's hospital, where he receives the best attention and most careful nursing. Hall bears his intense pains with the grit and fortitude of a soldier, and says if his eyesight is not gone he will be back to work before the end of the month.—Ex.

ED. "E. O."—The dreary days of winter seem near at hand. The dark, chilling fogs, which have hung over this section of country for some time past, have passed away, and in its stead we have cold, rainy days and frosty nights, just cold enough to stop the plows. Times are dull since the law-suit between two law-abiding citizens, which left one party sad and the other sadder. One side was ably defended by Hon. Rube Basket, and the other by Fred. Page-Tustin; Mr. R. Eastland Esq., judge. He decided the case and neither party called for a jury. Thanksgiving passed off quietly. There was a surprise party a few evenings ago at the Bachelor's Hall, which is said to have been a complete failure. Our school is progressing nicely, with Mr. Chrisinger as principal. Miss Anna Cochran has been quite sick, but is convalescing we believe. Miss Alice Cochran will take her departure for Pendleton in a few days for the purpose of attending school. Miss Lilla Baird took her departure for her home at Brownsville, Linn county, in company with W. Blakely, who goes to visit the home of his childhood and aged parents. The Wild Horse Rangers met a short time since and decided to have a Christmas tree, and appointed as committee of arrangement Mrs. R. Ferguson, Mrs. L. Rothrock and Mrs. M. Thompson, which we think is a splendid selection. Under the management of these ladies it will no doubt prove a success. There will be dancing after the presents have been distributed. M. Ferguson is building a new house which will be dedicated next Firday night, the 12th, with a grand ball—a general invitation extended. Mr. Waiten's house is nearly completed, and when finished will be a fine residence. Miss Anna Blakely is expected home about Christmas on a short visit. The children are all in for the Christmas tree, with the expectation of seeing Kris Kringle and being benefited by his visit, in the shape of horns, whistles, drums, etc. Hoping they may not be disappointed, we remain as ever, MINNIE MYRTLE.

TO TELL A HORSE'S AGE.—After a horse is nine years old, a wrinkle comes in the eyelid at the upper corner of the lower lid, and every year thereafter he has one well defined wrinkle for each year of his age over nine. If, for instance, a horse has three wrinkles he is twelve; if four, thirteen. Add the number of wrinkles to nine and you will always get it.—W. Farmer.

The Jury in the case of the State of Oregon against Bernard & Fairchild, indicted for the murder of Mrs. Hagar at Oregon city, failed to agree and were discharged. The jury stood eleven to one for conviction.

The citizens of the Dalles must feel relived. The contention about the real estate at that place, has long been in dispute. The M. E. Church claiming it as a donation claim. Many persons have bought of the Church and paid for their lots, in order to quiet the title, others have fought the matter through the courts, and at last have got a decision from Judge Deady, that the title does not now, and never did lie in the Church. Where the old barracks are, at the Dalles, the government bought their right from, and paid to the M. E. Church, $20,000, many years ago; but that was not enough, and the Church attempted to extend their claim over the town of the Dalles. We are glad Judge Deady rendered so righteous a judgement in the matter, and that the citizens of the Dalles have obtained their rights. N. H. Gates, attorney for the citizens, was called out and serenaded, as soon as news reached the Dalles of the judgement rendered.

Ex-Senator Mitchell, who has just returned from the East, in an interview with a Bee reporter, gives very encouraging news to the people of Oregon. He says: "I confidently expect within three years from this date to see a continuous line of railroad from Portland, Oregon, by way of the south bank of the Columbia river, Eastern Oregon, Idaho and Ogden, to New York City.—Ex.
