LOCAL AND OTHER INTELLIGENCE.

Improvements all the go in Pendleton, despite the kicks and growls of the Weekly Ponake.

We print this week, a full account of the proceedings of the Circuit Court and Grand Jury. Read them.

We notice there is a "Child-like and Blind" discussion going on over in Union, and the Sentinel publishes it.

Mrs. Hester's millinery store, has in connection with it, the most fashionable dress making establishment in East Oregon.

We received a very interesting article from our correspondent from Weston, but lack of space precludes its insertion this week.

THE LADIES BAZAR—Still maintains itself as the most popular resort for ladies, in quest of millinery and dressmaking in all its varied styles.

Adolph Lang, the invincible dutchman, is with us again and has opened a new beer saloon in the upper part of town. If you are thirty go see Adolph and get a good drink of beer.

Robt. Lane, the artistic painter of Pendleton, inserts here under "New Today," Bob can do all he claims for himself, and more too, if any one wants a good job of painting done, call on him.

Cass Matlock, has gone to Heppner to remain and sell his saloon. He took along with him J. Lane, one of Pendleton's painters, who has beautified so many dwellings in town within the last year.

FIRE—Notice to members of Pendleton Fire Co., that all members not present at regular meetings, without lawful excuse, will be fined hereafter.

CLOED BURN—A waterpump occurred on or Five Mile creek on day last week and covered the beautiful garden of R. S. Thompson with sediment to the depth of two feet. Had it struck his house it would have made a wreck of that handsome structure.

The District Conference, Walla Walla District, Columbia Annual Conference, M. E. Church, South, will convene in Walla Walla, on Thursday, May 27, '80, and run over the 5th Sunday. All official members desired to be present.

E. S. McCOMAS—Has severed his connection with the Mountain Sentinel. He wielded a fluent and ready pen, was always on the aggressive, but he made the Sentinel a paper that had to be respected. We have spent many pleasant hours reading his editorials. Farewell.

FIRE ENGINE—The engine purchased by Mr. Rothchild, in Portland, was shipped for this place last Monday. We now begin to think we can put on our city a fine engine and hook and ladder outfit and have a well organized company to run with the machine. We certainly have some protection from fire at last.

Go to G. W. Webb's hardware store and see the stock of goods combined and examine his large stock of hardware, cutlery, and other goods. He is a first class dealer and has a large stock of goods at greatly reduced rates for the next sixty days.

BAKERY AND RESTAURANT—Opposite the drug store, kept by J. P. Dunn, is one of the best ordered institutions of its kind that ever appeared in our town. Mr. Dunn comes well recommended as a first class caterer to those who desire and desire a first class meal. We are sure he will be liberally patronized. Go and see for yourselves.

THE HOOK AND LADDER CO.—Is now thoroughly organized. The iron work was done at Marshall's shop. Everything is now in readiness, but we hope the company will never be called upon to extinguish a fire in our town. Too much praise cannot be accorded to protection No. 1 for the energy displayed in organizing and equipping, to be ready at any time, to fight the fire.

BOB ADAMS—Is around again after an absence of four years. Bob commenced in 1873 driving cattle from Grand Ronde county to the Sound, emptying the Sound county and Vanderwall county. Then he commenced driving from Umatilla county to California, after resting for 4 years he is again among us to take a large band of cattle and horses to the States. We wish him good speed and plenty of good luck. Good bye, old boy.

THE FRONT—The headquarters of the O. E. S. Co. at John Day bridge where the girls are playing the water polo at the upper end is in charge of Julius Thielken, who is rapidly moving this way. George Johnson, who was formerly purser on the Ajax between Portland and San Francisco, is stationed at Celilo for the purpose of supplying for the company and he is kept busy all day and part of the night. —Landed Empire.

WOOL, WOOL—The crop of wool is now being harvested, and the lucky wools men have put on a smiling pliz. Loads of wool are passing through town every day for the Portland and San Francisco markets. Ten years ago the wool crop of Umatilla was counted by the thousand pounds, but now by the million. The grades of wool are equal to any in the world, and the interest to any of the greatest money interests in this country to day.

COTTONWOOD PRIMER, Oregon, April 27th, 1880. Ed. "E. O."—I take the pleasure of presenting question upon a gradually passing away, and by the 7th day of June will be no more. The bogus Division ticket will not get 25 votes in this precinct. The legal voters now see that holders and sellers cannot be trusted. The time has come to stand solid and not allow a division in the ranks to cause a defeat and elect a ticket composed of bullies and scoundrels. The division ticket is a weak and sickly youngster, composed of material rotten to the core. The good citizens are convinced and satisfied that no good can be had at the hands of those that try to carry their election by sowing Division seed, so cause discord in the ranks of the party, and elect a bogus ticket.

The only proper way to divide our county is through petition to the legislature. We would then know the wishes of our citizens whether they wish our county divided or not. We have full confidence in our Democratic nominees, believing that they will prove for dividing our county in a proper way if the majority wish it. —Voter.

To the Public.

On the 23rd of December last I had an unfortunate difficulty with Harry Strode. A coroner's jury was empaneled of six good men as we have, who exculpated me from all blame. I then surrendered myself to a magistrate and had an examination before Judge Yorkston, County Judge of this county, and was by him discharged. At the ensuing term of the Circuit Court the matter was specially referred to the Grand Jury, who were instructed by Judge McArthur to inquire into the matter fully and carefully. This was done, and the special report of the Grand Jury again exonerates me from all blame. I have a few enemies who have been busy in circulating false reports of the case, and in the meantime, tending thereby to injure me. I hope all such are now satisfied. Some, and I know who they are, have even written letters to the Portland City, wholly false, for the purpose of causing the readers of that paper to feel that I have done nothing, preferring to wait until the matter was thoroughly investigated and the public could have the facts as they were, and from such facts make up their verdict. To my friends, those who were disposed to rescue my judgment until they knew the facts, I tender my thanks, and to those who, in order to injure me to the face of the facts and have circulated these false statements, I tender my sympathy. For the particular I refer to the special report of the Grand Jury in another column.

J. H. TURNER.

FOUND DEAD—Last Monday, says the Walla Walla Watchman, Sam Rice while out hunting, found the dead body of Ed. Roke, a boy a little over 15 years old, and the eldest son of Mr. Pat Roke. It seems he was on the river bank, holding a stick, about 100 miles northwest of here, at a place called Crab Creek Bluffs. He was riding along the edge of a high bluff, when his mule slipped and both fell off, and a bright light struck both. We don't think the boy knew what hurt him, for he evidently fell on his head and died instantly.

CHARLEY PRIDE, who formerly worked at the Pendleton Hotel, but now in the employ of the O. S. N. Co., was in attendance upon the Circuit Court. While here he took part with Charles Brannan Company in several of their exhibitions, as Jacob Twig in "Black-eyed Sam," and Blinky in "Lost in London." He was a complete and happy success. Success to you, Charley, my boy. We should not be surprised if he came back again to these parts, as we noticed him looking sweet at one of the Pendleton girls.

AL THURMAN, Frank Alfred and Lou Snyder, of Baker City, passed through town this week, loaded with freight for the first time. They have been over on this side the mountains for two months past, but now have got so anxious to see the "younger side" girls that they could remain no longer. These boys are the boys for freighting, and can do more of it and on better time than anybody else.

NEW FIRM—The old and well known law firm of Turner & Bailey has grown, and D. M. Conley has added his name to the first. The new firm is now in business, and it will be driven by steady hands, we predict they will always go into court well armed with action and suits. Their address under "New Today."

RIDGEMONT BROS., of Cold Spring, have 400 acres in wheat this spring, all of which is looking well. Emuley was in town this week on business and gave us a friendly call. He is as happy as a clam, and announces himself a candidate for matrimony, and as this is his last year we advise the girls to go for him.

HABITUAT CONSTIPATION. Bilelessness and those fearful headaches so prevalent in this climate, are positively cured by that great regulator, DOCTOR HYDE'S GOLDEN BLEND SYRUP. Our dose will convince you.

HIGH WATER—The Umatilla had run to the top of its banks for several days, when at the highest a snow-capped mountain seemed to follow up the river to the mountains. As if by magic, the river commenced falling immediately, and has continued to fall since.

MEMORANDUM IN JUST—The Indian who was supposed to have murdered Lisban, is in jail, waiting for the next Circuit Court. A true bill was found against him for murder, by the last grand jury.

We publish below the first run of Spring poetry. This batch lets us out:

CENTER VILLAGE April 27, 1880
Wrote for the EAST OREGON a young man came to this country and taken a farm on the wild horse creek and when he had this done, he thought he would take his wife to help him along as life there came a beautiful dream from heaven with him brother in law and settled near him by which he seemed to live with and was some male man and wife, he was pure but willing to work, his relatives wanted her to marry one that was rich and then they told him he had to live in the house and a half has past and has his corn piled to depart from his loved one.

Do not I love the a my dayne take hold my heart and see, and turn each looker out their dates to tell these, do not I love thee from my sole, then let me no on for forded is my heart to every joy when Jane can not move, is not the name melodious still to mine attentive ear, do not each pulse with pleasure land, when my love twice hear, would not my heart pore forth his blood in honor of her name, the most I love I desire for far from the Spheres of mortals joy and learn to love three more, blessed the clear, untiring love that will not let us part, so let me may far remove we are still one in heart, closer let us cleave to our beloved embrace for we are the same in heart but let us hasten to the day which shall our flesh restore, when each shall be done away and bodies part no more, I long to see the day when trouble be no more for I am tired of living a mong the daises and grass and listening to the braying of howdy Shells as, for I have got to believe in the neighbor hood at last. Some of these rase puts on lots of stile, but when three dais is paid they will have no more than some of the rest, your gold will wait and your Silver will die in time you will have to more than I, well I have done the best I can do to live in peace with my loved one at home, but there was some one to talk so kind and good, that my words was of no use, so well haft to give way to them, I feel like an old cat that is all tattered and worn but not left, in this wide World to mourn for a girl in her teens or any other age, weep not for the loved one that is gone for the one that lora you will live in time to come, but you must know that I her fun and friends while every where that I go.

THE OREGON KIDNEY TONIC.
Read the following testimonials, not from persons known to me, but from well known and trustworthy citizens of Oregon, whose names are written with their own hands, can be seen at our office:
PORTLAND, Oregon, January 12, 1880.
Having a severe backache last January, I tried the Oregon Kidney Tonic. I used one can, which effected a radical cure. I would recommend it to all who are afflicted with any kind of kidney trouble.
PORTLAND, Oregon, February 1, 1880.
Having suffered for years with pain in my back, I tried the Oregon Kidney Tonic, and found immediate relief. I am now in perfect health, and I heartily recommend it to all afflicted in like manner.
MRS. L. COHN.
