DEATH OF H. B. NELSON.

Well-Known Manufacturer Passed Away Saturday Evening.

Mayor H. B. Nelson, of Weston, the pioneer brickmaker of that city, and one of the prominent men of Eastern Oregon, died at his home in that city on Saturday last at 8 o'clock p. m. His illness dates from a slight stroke of apoplexy about five weeks ago, followed by an attack of asthma, superinduced by acute rheumatism.

The funeral services were conducted at the house yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, by Rev. W. E. Potwine of the Episcopal church, The Knights of Pythias, of which order Mr. Nelson was an old member, formed an escort of honor and conducted the services at the grave. The Odd Fellows also sent an escort with the body to its last home.

Mr. Nelson was one of the pioneer residents of Weston, having been there for nearly 30 years. He owned and operated at that place one of the largest brick yards in the inland Empire, and was a man well and favorably known in the business and social world.

Mr. Nelson leaves behind him a widow and two children: Mrs. J. V. Chastain, of Milton, and Clark Nelson, who was formerly a deputy in the office of County Assessor Strain.

ADVENTISTS CAMP ENDED.

Twenty-Six Additions to the Church—Protracted Meetings Later.

The annual camp meeting and conference of the Adventists closed last evening at Evers' grove after two weeks of very successful meetings. At the meeting Saturday evening there were 26 additions to the church, and there were many more scattered throughout the duration of the meeting.

It was like the breaking up of a small army when the people camped in the grove dispersed. The streets of tents were folded away and soon there had been a city of white stretched the bare expanse of the ground, strewn with the litter of a deserted camp.

The elders of the church are contemplating a protracted meeting in Pendleton. If the meeting is held, one of the large gospel tents will be moved to a convenient place to the city and used at the place for holding the services. If this plan is carried out the public will be notified by the elders in charge as to the time and place of meeting.

FORMER PENDELTON BOY.

Son of Hon. W. M. Ramsey, a Former Resident of This City, Attains High Honor.

The following notice of the advancement of former Pendleton boy by the La Grande Observer, will be read with interest by his many friends here:

The Rev. Horace M. Ramsey, M. A., son of W. M. Ramsey of this city who has been pursuing post-graduate studies at Columbia University and recently the University of Chicago, New York City, the past year has recently been appointed instructor in Semitic languages at the latter institution. This is quite a compliment to a young man of 22 years. He graduated at the Pacific University in 1899, receiving the degree of B. A., and then took the theological course in theology at the seminary of the Episcopal church in California and did one year's graduate work at the University of California, where he received the degree M. A. last year, he being Temple Emanuel Ell Fellow at the university there last year. He was elected Elgenbrodt Fellow of the General Seminary last summer and has been re-elected to the same fellowship for next year and this is followed by his election to the position of instructor in Semitic languages at the seminary.

The Rev. Mr. Ramsey above mentioned was formerly a member of the Sunday school of the Church of Redeemer in this city, under the present rector, and is remembered as a very promising pupil. His rapid advancement in high literary circles confirms the former estimate of his probable intellectual attainments. Another and older son of Judge Ramsey is an officer in the marine corps of the United States.

CALIFORNIA RELICS.

Prehistoric Utensils Unearthed in Shasta County.

The paleontologists of the University of California sent to delve into the pottery in Shasta county have been very successful in their researches. The first report from the exploration party which has just reached the university shows that the caves are a rich field for investigation for in the brief time the party has been there many valuable specimens of bones of extinct animals have been unearthed. Altogether 4000 specimens were unearthed, most of them in a good state of preservation. Seventeen species of animals found interesting the extinct kind. The most interesting discovery were traces of prehistoric man. They consist of a number of polished bone and stone implements, which might have served early mankind as utensils or weapons.—Exchange.

Will Present President Roosevelt With a Pendleton Blanket.

Misses Myrtle Dineen and Mabel Reynolds, and Se Williams and Furnish Slater, chaperoned by Miss Mary Jitner, of the Pendleton high school, left this morning for the city of Spokane, where they go through the courtesy of the Peoples Warehouse to attend the celebration in honor of the president of the United States. The students are accompanied by representatives of the spokesman-Review, who have arranged for their entertainment while in the city.

The party, acting as a committee in and behalf of the high school, is a body, will present to President Roosevelt a Pendleton blanket, a very handsome and costly souvenir rug, the product of the Pendleton mills. This gift will be expressive of the good will of the school children in particular and the people of Pendleton in general. The rug is the finest specimen of work to be found in the stock of the mills, and will be a most significant and valuable souvenir of the inland Empire, as the wool from which it is made was grown upon the Oregon range, prepared by the Pendleton Scouring Mills, and dyed by a fancy design by the Pendleton Woolen Mills.

HON. THOMAS B. KAY IN CITY.

Chairman Ways and Means Committee Last Legislature.

Thomas B. Kay, of Salem, was a Pendleton visitor Sunday. Mr. Kay was the chairman of the ways and means committee of the last legislature, and by his untiring vigilance, aimed the nickname of "the watchdog of the treasury." He believed in conducting the business of the state in a business plan, and did not think that sentiment should enter into the matter; for that reason he opposed the large appropriation for the Indian war veterans and many other like measures.

Mr. Kay is the manager of the Salem Woolen Mills Company, and is one of the most successful mill men in the West, having learned his business on the other side of the water with his father, the Hon. T. B. Kay, lately deceased.

MEMORIAL SUNDAY

EXERCISES ATTENDED BY A LARGE AUDIENCE.

Methodist Church Was Beautifully Decorated and the People Listened to Excellent Music and a Very Interesting and Instructive Sermon.

The veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic gathered at the Methodist church yesterday morning in observance of the memorial services as regularly held the Sunday before Memorial day. The rostrum was draped with bunting and the flags and banners of the post, while under their folds the old veterans sat in a body in the central part of the auditorium.

The services were opened by an organ voluntary, following which the congregation united with the choir in singing "America."

Rev. G. W. Rigby, the commander of the Pendleton G. A. R. organization, offered the opening prayer. Mr. Rigby offered an eloquent and a touching appeal, praying for the continued prosperity of the nation and the advancement of the Republic, asking that the old veterans who were so rapidly slipping away from the scene of life's toil and struggle be led, when their work on earth is finished, into the presence of the Almighty, there to receive their crown and reward for a fight well fought.

The choir sang an old war song of lament, entitled, "They'll Never March Again," and Rev. Warner followed with the morning lesson from the holy word.

Before the sermon the choir sang another touching ballad, "Dropping From the Ranks."

The Memorial Sermon.

Rev. Warner, though he confined himself to no set text, used as a theme for his discourse the statement of Paul the Apostle, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my race, I have kept the faith." We are the pastor said, "in the habit of commemorating each year the deeds and cause of the old soldiers of our civil war and of all our wars, and it is right and good that we should have our minds kept before the cause they upheld, we keep before our minds their deeds and hold ourselves more and more in awe of patriotism and good citizenship."

"In order to more fully realize why the great war was waged, we must glance at the history of the civilization of the world. The history of all Christian progress was built upon the principle of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. The Greeks with all their advancement had not that idea, for it came with the cross of Christ, and as struggled through the dark times of persecution and heathen barbarism. The ancient heathens could banish the early Christians, and separate him from his native land, but they could not tear him from his God, so from the forests of Germany and the haunts of the wild beasts, he spread until it leavened the world. Columbus by his discovery of the new continent, gave the persecutor a refuge, and here they planted the spirit of freedom and the principle of brotherly love. By their might and their determination they overcame the antagonism of the old world and laid the foundation for our great nation.

"The first part of the war was for the preservation of the union alone, and the great question was whether or not, an undercurrent in the stream of events. At the darkest time, when defeat had torn our banner, the great mind of Lincoln anchored the proclamation of emancipation and the basis of the war was changed, and with that change came a change in the result. Lincoln favored on the strife, and gave us success.

"The civil war was the greatest of the world and the old veterans were the greatest soldiers, for they established the greatest principle of the world, the dream of the ages, the liberty of man. No eloquence in history is in the observance of this day. The Roman orators with all their eloquence could not win the people to their cause, an old Roman soldier stepped to the front and held aloft the standard of his army, giving to the service of his country, and stirred in our endeavor to live worthy American citizens, an honor to our country, a mainstay to its flag. The old men are passing away, and upon the younger generation is falling the burden as they lay it down. It is for us to perpetuate the liberty they have won, to carry to the burden of their achievements. Conditions will arise in the past, so it is useless to strew flowers upon the graves of those who are gone unless their memory inspires in us a spirit to carry out the work they have begun for the glory of our nation and the salvation of mankind.

DROWNED AT WALLA WALLA.

Son of Professor Schnepfer Meets With Fatal Accident at College Place.

Walla Walla, May 25.—Hugo Schnepfer, 14-year-old son of Hugo Schnepfer, professor of German and a member of the faculty of the Walla Walla college, was drowned in the eyes of several companions in Garrison creek yesterday afternoon at a point several hundred yards south of the town of College Place.

The boys from College Place were enjoying the first swim of the season. When suddenly the unfortunate lad was observed to sink below the surface. Becoming frightened the other boys made an effort to reach him with branches of trees but were unsuccessful.

The pool was about 10 feet deep, and neighbors who were immediately summoned had considerable difficulty in raising the body to the surface. Dr. Stiles was called from town and made an effort to resuscitate the lad.

The boy's parents were at Pendleton at the time of the drowning, returning home last night. No funeral arrangements as yet have been made. Coroner Smith was undecided this afternoon whether to hold an inquest or not.

Ruckman about the large traction engine he has for sale for plowing. This engine is 30 horse power, and if Mr. Fox can get it, there will be a new departure in lumber hauling at Elgin.

Husband—Perhaps they're large enough.—Puck.

SPLENDID CONTEST

BAKER CITY IS THE WINNER LEADING BY TWO POINTS.

Beautiful Weather, Perfect Track, a Thousand Spectators and Very Interesting Work by Fine Teams—Union Left Far in the Rear on Points.

A thousand people gathered at the Simpson-Perringer track on Saturday afternoon to witness the interscholastic field meet between the Union, Baker City and Pendleton track teams. The day was an ideal one for the start, and flags, school colors and bunting fluttered in the breeze which tempered the sun.

Class yells and school yells and just old-fashioned American cheers made things lively and gave courage to the boys who strove to win laurels for themselves and victory for their school. The track was in perfect condition and the men were evenly matched, making a contest well worthy the time of the spectators and the efforts of the contestants.

Cronin with one first, four seconds and two third places, was one of the stars of the day. Kelly, of Baker City, was the point runner of the day with four first and one third place. To him as a reward for his excellence goes the special gold medal awarded by Louis Hunziker, of this city.

Not until the late event was the winning run scored, and that was in the mile relay race, when Brown, of Baker City, beat Pierce, of Pendleton, in his hardest fought event of the day. Pendleton's plucky runner kept his feet and stride until the tape was reached when he collapsed. It is such effort as that which makes the point winner in a field meet.

The events were all good and when the colts of Saturday got to college. The express charges on the rabbits from Echo and other points from which they might be shipped, would be very light and the output could be handled and marketed from Pendleton to a much greater advantage than at Echo.

The company feels greatly encouraged at the favorable consideration it has received from Pendleton capital, and the entire business may be transferred to this city in the near future.

MAY COME TO PENDELTON.

American Hare Packing Company Figuring on Change of Location.

W. D. Fletcher, who is looking after the interests of the American Hare Packing Company here, gives out the information that the encouragement given the company in this city is so great that the plant may be built here instead of at Echo.

Mr. Fletcher has conferred with the Pendleton Cold Storage people and finds that his company can secure sufficient room from them in which to handle the cannery output and it is quite probable now that the cannery plant will be built in this city.

The express charges on the rabbits from Echo and other points from which they might be shipped, would be very light and the output could be handled and marketed from Pendleton to a much greater advantage than at Echo.

RAILROAD TO BURNS

LINE FROM SUMPTER MAY EXTEND SOUTH.

Major Bonta, of Philadelphia, Has Two Parties of Surveyors in the Field—Bonds for New Corporation Flouted in the East.

E. E. Cleaver, auditor of the Standard Consolidated Company of Quartzburg, and E. A. Hutchins, mining and electrical engineer, in the employ of Major J. W. Bonta, of Philadelphia, were in the city last Friday on business, says the Grant County News.

Mr. Hutchins was contracting for a third crew of surveyors to be put in the field this week, for the purpose of rushing the work of survey on the electric road from Baker City to Prairie City. Two crews have been in the field for several weeks, but as the survey had to be completed by a certain date, it was necessary to secure the services of a third crew.

The bonds of the company, amounting to $2,900,000 were flouted in the East by Major Bonta last winter. It is reported that Sumpter capitalists offered to take up $250,000 of the bonds after Major Bonta's return, but the money having already been raised, the offer was refused. Although the objective point of the electric road is Prairie City, it is thought that it will eventually be extended to Burns. A delegation of business men from Burns has been selected to consult with Major Bonta in regard to the extension of the line to Burns.

Engineers hereinafter stated to a News representative that on January 1, 1904, the road would be completed to Prairie City. The rails have been ordered in Europe and will arrive in Portland on the 15th inst. It is necessary to place this order in Europe as the factories in this country could not supply them for at least two years. All of the rolling stock has been ordered in the East and will arrive here during the month of August.

Major Bonta's company own the Oregon Wonder and Will Cleaver group of claims on Strawberry mountain.
