POPE SINKING MORE RAPIDLY

Bodily Functions Are Becoming More and More Inactive and Imperfect.

MANIFESTS REMARKABLE VIGOR OF RECOVERY.

Lost Ground During the Night—Another Operation is Needed But Will Not Be Made on Account of the Shock—Now Manifests a Desire to Live.

Washington, July 16.—The papal legation received from Rome the following: "The condition of the pope continues grave, but his wonderful resistance commands admiration."

Sinking Rapidly.

Rome, July 16.—From a bulletin issued at 9 o'clock it seems the pope is sinking rapidly. It reads: "The pope passed a very restless, sleepless night. The general condition of his holiness shows no modifications than greater inefficiency in respiration due to increased gathering of liquid in the pleura. Pulsation 88, temperature 36.3 centigrade, respiration 36."

Rome, July 16.—The pope visibly lost ground during the night. His breathing is more difficult and he kept in a reclining position constantly. He was faint toward morning. The increase of fluid in the pleura became apparent. It was at first decided another operation was absolutely necessary. As the exhaustion, however, the expediency of an operation became more doubtful, owing to the fear that the pope would be unable to stand the strain and would succumb.

"American Haste." Cardinal Gibbons, who is now en route to Rome is subject to criticism among the relatives at the Vatican for starting before the pope died. His action is described as "American haste."

Mass in honor of Our Lady of Mount Carmel was celebrated in the pope's apartment this morning by Bishop Piffer. The pontiff seemed to understand, but took no part in the celebration.

Extraordinary Heart Action. Rome, July 16.—His holiness' condition was unchanged at 2 p. m. No operation has as yet been performed. Kossini today says the pope's condition is progressive, but the heart itself is robust enough to continue action for four days.

Expresses Desire to Live. Rome, July 16.—At 3:30 this afternoon the heat is increasing the pope's difficulty in breathing. It has been decided to postpone a decision relative to operation until a consultation will be held. Cardinal Secretary Angelini said today he feared the pope would not last till night. His holiness is now manifesting an ardent desire to live.

Gibbons Was Summed. Rome, April 16.—At 3:30 the pope was respiring painfully as a result of liquid in the pleura, and is very near it. It is now stated that Cardinal Gibbons was summoned here by Cardinal Vanutelli, whom he will support in conclusion.

DIPLOMATIC TRIUMPH FOR THE UNITED STATES.

Indicates Increasing Good Will Between China and America and That Russia's Feelings Are Not Hurt Over the Protest About the Massacre of Jews at Kishineff.

Washington, July 16.—China has notified the state department that she intends to open several ports in Manchuria to the commerce of the world. The Russian ministry officially confirms this, and says the czar has no objections.

The state department considers the opening of the ports as a momentous concession to principles for which America has contended from the start. Minister Takahira, of Japan, called on the department this morning, but brought no news. It is apparent he was not given information.

This declaration of China, accompanied by the formal acceptance of Russia, means an additional victory for Hays' diplomacy in China, and will undoubtedly bind that country to America more firmly than ever.

Russia's acceptance also means that no animosity exists at St. Petersburg over the Kishineff petition, and it is probable some arrangement has been already reached on that point, although it is not officially disclosed that there has been.

CITY COUNCIL PROBING THE PRIVATE BOX EVIL.

Young Men and Women Hold Drunken Orgies in Saloon Boxes—Pratt Ordinance to Suppress the Box Is Tested.

Spokane, July 16.—In connection with the final consideration of the Pratt box ordinance, which is to come before the city council tonight, Chief of Police Woydt, Sergeant of Police John Sullivan and other officers of the police department, are to be asked to come before the council and tell whether or not the saloon boxes of this city are evil influences.

These officers are also to tell, if possible, specific instances where young girls and boy minors have been found drunk in saloon boxes. They are to tell whether or not thieves, hoboes and other criminals have their resort in the boxes of any saloons in this city.

It is also to be ascertained if the police know that any women of ill repute frequent these boxes and hold drunken orgies with men. If possi-

Famous Outlaw Broke Jail Last Night and is Headed for Old Mexico.

Stiles is Recognized as a Dangerous Character, Has a Record as a Robber and Killer—Was Formerly a Detective in the Employ of Wells, Fargo.

Tomahawk, Ariz., July 15.—Billy Stiles, the notorious train robber and outlaw, who was broken out of jail last night and is probably on his way into Old Mexico. After getting out of the jail he stole a horse and headed for the border. The horse was one of a band of fine animals kept in the edge of town. They were in a rope corral and in charge of a boy who was visited in the night by a Mexican woman who acted as a go-between for Stiles, telling the boy he would be instantly shot by a hidden foe if he did not at once saddle the best horse and accompany her. This woman, who is leading the horse, accompanied the woman to an arroyo, where a masked and armed man was in waiting. The latter mounted the horse and bade the boy return to town, which he did.

Stiles was indicted yesterday on three charges of train robbery. He recently turned state's evidence against Bert Alford, another bandit, accused of complicity in the same crime. As a result, Stiles himself was indicted. The woman who was terrorized a guard placed over Alford and secured the latter's release. Alford was then in jail as a result of Stiles' testimony. The pair have been partners in many other crimes.

Stiles has been a Wells-Fargo detective, and reputed by the company to be one of the bravest and most efficient men in the service of the company. He will be made to secure the cooperation of the Mexican government, as Stiles is the terror of all Arizona.

Another Seattle Tragedy. Seattle, July 15.—An unknown man, well dressed, good appearance, and about 35 years of age, was murdered on the railroad track four miles from Auburn on Saturday night. His body was found in a clump of bushes just off the railroad track, where it had been dragged. A mark of the heels of the unfortunate was visible on the main feature of the dirt, where inside. His pockets had been turned inside out, evidently for robbery, but if robbers accomplished their ends they covered three or four dollars that were in a vest pocket.

A bullet hole was found just back of the left ear. There was a slight warmth in the body when it was found, showing that death had occurred only a short time before. Some of the clothing was found scattered cut off not far away from the scene of the crime, and that they heard a shot in that direction about an hour before the body was found by the section boss. A close search was made for a pistol, some persons being of the opinion that the man might have shot himself. A bullet hole in his shirt, and another in his coat, were found. The bullet hole in the shirt is in such a position that the dead man could not have shot himself. There are four men taken on a grip filled with clean linen that had not been disturbed.

The officers are badly handicapped in this last murder mystery, or they say, the lead is to work upon the sheriff says he is certain that the person or persons responsible for the murder of the unknown man are near at hand. James Montgomery, Sheriff of Snohomish county, attempted to throw him on the deadly trail, but the Interurban railway, too same man, was murdered. After the death of a pope, the cardinals who are absent are immediately to be summoned to the conclave. The conclave is to be held in the cathedral college; the election to begin the tenth day after the death.

In whatever city the pope dies, the conclave will be held in the city in the 10 days the conclave must be constructed in the papal palace, or in some other suitable edifice.

The large walls of the palace are so divided by wooden partitions as to furnish a number of sets of small apartments, two for an ordinary cardinal, three for one of princely rank, all opening upon a corridor. Here the cardinals must remain until they have elected a pope.

On the tenth day, a solemn mass of the Holy Ghost is said in the Vatican church, and after it the cardinals form a solemn procession and proceed to the conclave, taking up the respective apartments as the lot has distributed them.

For the rest of that day, the conclave is open; crowds of persons flock to the conclave, and the cardinals and cardinals of foreign states, heads of the personal dignities, visit have not yet been obtained.

Howard was on the freight train. Reports late this afternoon were to the effect that Brownfield would recover.

Over 20 passengers were injured some of them seriously, but all will recover. The railroad property was damaged which delayed the passenger train and prevented it from reaching Schuster, where the two trains were to pass on time.

Kentuckians Put an End to Expense and Doubt.

Flemingsburg, Ky., July 15.—William Thatcher, a white prisoner, was taken from jail early this morning by a mob and hanged on a tree near the courthouse. They came from Foxport, where three years ago Thatcher killed a young man while intoxicated. Twice he was sentenced to life in prison, but gained a new trial. The mob was orderly and rode away after the execution.

TWO MURDER MYSTERIES

Expose of a Murder in New York Leads to Discovery of Another Killing.

Second Homicide Was Done to Hide the First.

The Sound Country Is On Hand With One of Its Periodical Tragedies, a Brutal Murder for Money—No Clues. Though Body Was Found When Warm.

New York, July 14.—In the opinion of the police, the murderer of Charles W. Roxbury, the tea expert, who was fatally beaten last Friday, near his home in the Bronx, concluded his line by putting his woman accomplice to death. That a second crime, and one of a revolting nature has been committed, the officials say there is every reason for believing.

A careful search of the entire city is being made to discover whether any young woman is missing.

There is but a vague clue upon which to base a search for the woman or her body. This is the description furnished by the young woman with whom Roxbury was walking when he was assaulted: "She was a woman of about 25 years of age, with dark hair, wearing a blue dress, and a white blouse. She was carrying a bag of clothes, and was walking in the direction of the city hall."

The body of the woman was found in a clump of bushes just off the railroad track, where it had been dragged. A mark of the heels of the unfortunate was visible on the main feature of the dirt, where inside.
