Entered at Pendleton postoffice as second class matter.

"Robbed in daylight," "robbed and murdered," "sandbagged and robbed," "robber shoots a man," "car held up," "safe blown open," "clerk takes money and disappears," "forged a check," "arrested for getting money under false pretenses," and a hundred other such chilly headlines decorate the pages of newspapers to-day more frequently than ever before. What is to become of the country and the people? What will this wholesale criminal activity end in? The community is not safe from the thug, at any time of day or night. The innocent man who is working to support a family on his savings, is subject to the attack of a murderous robber at any time. What will be done to check the increasing carnival of crime? Is the law powerless to reach this class of ruffians that prey upon the community? Is the official helpless before the skulking thug who lays in wait for a victim in the very heart of the populous cities? Penalties seem to be unavailing in the task of reducing crime. The people will be driven to lynch law in self defense.

Corporations are not all soulless, all the time. One of the most commendable acts yet reported as an aftermath of the Heppner disaster, has just come to light. The O. R. & N. company has taken charge of the orphan children of J. N. Kernan, the company's agent at Heppner, who lost his life remaining a moment too long in the office building, while sending a warning message to Lexington and lone, and will educate the children and care for them until they are grown and of sufficient age to make their way in the world. This touching instance of true human feeling flashing from the cold business nature of a railway company, gives a brighter color to the cause of human brotherhood and silences for a time those who have nothing but criticism for the acts of corporations.

The Hawaiian legislature has passed resolutions, asking congress for federal buildings and also one in favor of the claims of ex-Queen Liliuokalani. Honolulu may be entitled to the federal building, but the ex-queen cannot expect to secure a whole province of American territory for her personal use in propagating the old fallacies of barbarism. Chief Peo, of the Umattilas, is content with his allotment, and Queen Li being in the same class, must conform to the same limitations.

G. W. Colvig, representative from Douglas county to the legislature in 1901, who was appointed consul at a Colombian port as a reward for turning the Harriman forces to Mitchell, in that memorable fight, has given up his post and come home, on account of the hot climate. Hot weather of any temperature shouldn't affect a man who went from the Oregon legislature of 1901 to no hotter place than the equator.

The politicians are wandering why the president holds up the appointment of Knowles, as register of the La Grande land office. It is a compliment to the nerve and good intentions of the president that he holds up the appointment of an unfit man, even at the peril of party disruption. There are plenty of capable and clean men for this position.

FLAG DAY.

In 1897 the American Flag Association was organized. June 14 was fixed as Flag Day, because on that date in 1777 the American congress declared that the flag of the 13 United States be 13 stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be 13 stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation.

The number of stripes having been increased by the admission of new states, our sure to be expanded flag, under our fathers and the original 13 stripes were unchangeably restored by act of congress on April 4, 1818, when it was enacted: "That from and after the 4th day of July next, the flag of the United States shall consist of 13 horizontal stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be 20 stars, white in a blue field, and that on the admission of a new state to the union, one star be added to the union of the flag; and such addition shall effect on the 4th day of July next succeeding such admission. Since 1818 25 stars have been added to the flag. Owing to the fact that the flag of the United States on Sunday, July 16, was generally used throughout the country on Monday, June 15.

CUP IS COSTLY.

Sir Thomas Lipton caused considerable surprise when at a luncheon held at the Washington city hotel he said that if he should win the American cup in the coming race, it would represent to him an investment of not less than $2,000,000. The Washington correspondent for the Milwaukee Sentinel, referring to this incident, explains: "Sir Thomas Lipton would cost him little more than $100,000 to compete for the cup this year. This was partly due, he explained, to the fact that he had brought over his two challengers, Sir Thomas and the late Shamrock III cost him to build, but intimated that it was close to $500,000. The combined expense of his trial foot up this year, Sir Thomas said, is $1,000,000, and probably more. In contrast with the cost of the challenger, it was stated by one of the members of the syndicate that the syndicate had invested only $300,000 in the defender, and that this amount was expected to cover all expenses.

NOVEL HOUSES.

A city where the people live in street cars is the unusual sight the visitors see in one of the suburbs of San Francisco. When the old cable cars are worn out the company, R. C. Neer, a Portland architect, has designed a new type of car, and these are moved to a location where land is cheap or can be had for a rental of a dollar or two a year. A small family finds shelter in a single car, but frequently a more pretentious residence is secured by placing two cars together. The occupant of the car, who is a member of the settlement, which consists of the poorest class of working people—Exchange.

"I thank Dr. Pierce for the kind advice he gave when I wrote to him."

"I am thankful to the friend who first recommended to me Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I have been suffering from a severe case of Female Weakness, and I have had five children, and before this I had a severe time, having two miscarriages, and the time was only one week for about two months afterward. Now I am doing all the work for four children."
