MAN AND OVERS CORPORATE PRIVILEGES

Judge Grosscup of U. S. Circuit Court Sees Danger in Savings Bank Hoardings.

HAD BETTER BE IN USE THAN LAID AWAY IDEL.

He Sees in Federal Supervision of Monopolies the Only Hope for the Nation—Has Joined the Ranks of Alarmists and Sounds a Vigorous Note.

Dixon, Ill., Aug. 15.—Judge Peter Grosscup, of the United States circuit court, in an address here before the Lutheran Assembly, expressed his belief that in the supervision of monopolies by the government lies the only hope for the perpetuation of the American Nation.

In the fact that within the last few years the deposits in savings banks have increased from $2,000,000,000 to $10,000,000,000, a statistic rather than a sanguine meaning was traced, the judge declaring that under normal conditions this vast amount would have been invested in the laboring classes, but that it was lying idle "because polite swindlers and high-up rascals were able to subvert the masses and give to stocks a value which they do not really possess."

"We can never go back to the days of our boyhood," said the speaker, "but we can go back to the days when the law did not have to be hoisted or intruded into his neighborhood for safekeeping, but could put it into industries, sure that it would return with earnings."

"What should be done? Change the laws so that no set of men can organize a corporation except on a strictly legal basis. Then put it under such supervision as the National Banking act provides, and I believe that little by little this immense hoard in the savings banks of $10,000,000,000 will be trickling into enterprise again."

"I say nothing against the man who makes his fortune honestly," said Judge Grosscup, "but when I see the laws of my country introduced to consolidate money for the benefit of the few, turned into the excuse for swindles that should land the promoters in the penitentiary, I believe that the time has come when the universal history of corporations, every drop of my blood boils with hate and revenge."

YAKIMA LAND SCHEME.

New York Capitalists Engaged in Surveying Desert Tract.

Senator A. J. Spaw, of North Dakota, who represents the Pritchett district in the state legislature, has been in Spokane for the past two days in the interest of the state fair for the most of the afternoon.

"Our fruit yield this year will net our people $1,000,000, several hundred thousand over any previous year," he said.

"Three corps of surveyors are now at work on an irrigation scheme, which, if successful, will open up a million and a quarter more acres to cultivation."

The representatives of the Yakima valley, who have returned to New York after investigating a railroad scheme which will open up to transportation three of the most fertile valleys of the state.

The report will be in three divisions, totaling 75 miles in length.

Senators Spaw is a rancher owning about 3,000 acres of land, upon which he raises famous Hereford cattle. He is a democrat and was elected in the face of an overwhelming republican majority, of which fact he is justly proud.

HEARST INDORSED AT DENVER.

Building Trades Council Favors Him for President—Also Favors the Autonomy of Different Industrial Organizations.

Denver, Col., Aug. 14.—The National Building Trades Council convention today, after a spirited debate, indorsed congressman-elect William Randolph Hearst, of New York, for a Vice President of the United States by a vote of 19 to 18.

After the vote had been taken, the opponents of the resolution withdrew their objections, and the indorsement was unanimous.

Resolutions were adopted, committing the council to the principles of strict trade autonomy and absolute rights of any or each trade to their own separate and distinct organizations, without hindrance or interference from any other organization.

A resolution was adopted that amended the constitution so that all local unions or crafts, whose national or international organizations are affiliated with the National Building Trades Council, shall be required to affiliate with local building trades councils of their locality.

NOT BADLY HURT.

Corbett Recuparates Rapidly—Will Go to St. Louis Soon.

San Francisco, Aug. 15.—Corbett was driven direct from the fight to the home of his mother, Harry.

He slept well and arose at 10:30 in good spirits and showed no bad effects of the blow which did the business. He leaves next week for St. Louis, where he opens the theatrical season at Highland Park. Jeffries spent part of the night celebrating with friends, leaving on a late hour for Oakland.

Receipts Over $62,000.

San Francisco, Aug. 15.—The receipts of the fight were $62,340. The fighters got $43,738; Jeffries, $32,803; Corbett, $19,954. The reason the receipts were not more, the prices for the seats were much lower than usual. The attendance was 10,669.

Taft in the Cabinet.

Washington, Aug. 15.—A high official is authority for the unequivocal statement that Commissioner Taft has been offered and accepted the war portfolio.

It is believed that not in the known history of the world has there been in the same length of time as many slight earthquakes, so widely distributed, as during the past six weeks.

SURVEYORS NEAR THE DALLES.

Railroad Engineers Are Supposed to Be Employed by Northern Pacific.

The Dalles, Aug. 14.—A camp of railroad engineers, established about five miles above the Dalles, giving considerable uneasiness to railroad men interested in that section of the state. Both the O. R. & N. and the Columbia Southern, having interests in the country which the party is working, are watching the progress of the surveys closely.

Through nothing has been done thus far to indicate the road interested in the surveys railroad men believe that the Northern Pacific is behind the work. That neither the O. R. & N. nor any of its allied corporations has undertaken the work seems certain. The Northern Pacific is the only other line near enough to this territory to be seriously considered in the speculations.

The interest of the Northern Pacific in such a survey is explained by railroad men to be the same as that which induced the Metropolitan system to survey a line down the north bank of the Columbia river. At present the Northern Pacific line is but 40 miles from the point where the surveyors are working, and a line down the Columbia would bring them much closer.

Just above the Dalles there is an ideal place for the construction of a dam which would allow the Melien line to put in a substantial bridge. Natural abutments are to be had on each side of the river and the cost of building a bridge would be light.

Based on their predictions on the assumption that the Northern Pacific is now to build a road north bank of the Columbia railroad men insist that it is most likely this road has sent the party of surveyors into the field which is working above the Dalles. It is feared that the road, looking over the Eastern Oregon country having in view the possibility of entering that district when its other system is completed.

Every photographer who is a specialist in Indian pictures, every dealer in bric-a-brac and souvenirs, and all camera clubs in the state will receive a similar invitation soliciting assistance in making an exhibit for the World's Fair at St. Louis of typical Oregon as she was and Oregon as she is. Novelties, of course, are in demand, and while the state commission expects to be asked to pay some things worth of exhibition, the commission expect the exhibitors to do something for the pride of the state and vindicate the hope of Oregon.

Most important, however, of all are the manufacturers within the state. The matter is to be taken up at once and every industrial enterprise, it is hoped, will have a contribution, for it is the desire of the manufacturing committee of the commission that as complete showing as possible be made of the industrial goods of Oregon.
