Know the cat Kamela. The first snow of the season fell at Kamela last night, on the summit of the Blue Mountains. TO START ELECTION OF QUEEN IMMEDIATELY.

Tickets Will Be Sold at Five Cents Each—Ballet Boxes to Be Placed in Different Business Places About the City—Arnold Will Give $100 to Queen.

E. J. Arnold, the carnival man, is in the city today looking after the work of the carnival. Already many arrangements for the opening are being made and by the time the carnival leaves again the detail will be well under way.

One feature of the affair will be the music for the week. Mr. Arnold, in communication with the Chemawa Indian band and has about closed with the aggregation to come to the city and furnish music for the five days of the show. This band is the best in the western part of the state, and there is none better on the Western coast. They toured the Northwest in the first days of the season, and made a great success. If they come here the people who attend the carnival will be assured of the best music that can be produced in the West.

Mr. Arnold is anxious to get the election of the queen started, for after she has been elected it will take some little time to get her outfitted. And in order to have the matter started, tickets will be printed at once and voting boxes will be placed in all of the stores of the city. The tickets will be sold at 5 cents each. It is the intention and promise of Mr. Arnold that the queen shall be royally outfitted and taken on a tour during the week. He himself will deposit $100 for the purpose of buying the robes. Besides the outfit, Mr. Arnold will see that the queen has a carriage for herself and court during the entire week, always at her disposal. In fact, everything will be done to make the queen the envy of the ladies of the land.

John Halley Jr., who has charge of the stock exhibit, will leave in a short time for the interior of the county and will make every effort to arouse interest in the stock and fruit exhibit. He will not only advertise the matter in the papers, but will make a personal canvass among the growers, asking them to bring their stock here for the competition. It is thought, and some encouragement has been given, that the exhibit will be a good one and will be the stepping stone for a county fair here in the years to come.

The success of the carnival is assured and since it will give an added impetus to the inclination for the farmers to come here, there is great hope that there will be a good exhibit from all of the industries of the county.

STOLE AN OVERCOAT. F. P. Rea, of St. Louis, Says He Lost His Garment at the Pendleton.

Yesterday afternoon or evening an overcoat belonging to F. P. Rea, of St. Louis, was taken from his room at the Pendleton, he says, and at this time there is no clue to the thief. Mr. Rea came to the hotel from the afternoon train and went to his room, where he left his things, and returned to his dinner. While he was gone some one entered the room, though it is said the door was locked, and took from it the overcoat. The thief was among the other things in the room.

The overcoat was a valuable one, having cost $150, and was made by a tailor in St. Louis. It was a light brown top coat, lined with brown fur and silk, and the cloth was in a soft finish with a very slight nap. There is no clue to the man who took the coat, other than that a small man in common clothes was seen to knock on the door of a room on the first floor, but receiving no answer went up on stairs. Whether or not that was the man it is not known. A reward of $10 will be given for the recovery of the coat or the conviction of the thief.

WILNER MARRIED. An Old Baseball Standby Returns to Make Pendleton His Home.

Robert Wilner, the old standby of the baseball men of the city, is here after having spent the winter at the coast and the Sound. Mr. Wilner left Pendleton about the time the baseball team disbanded and has been away all summer. He expects to make this his home.

During the summer Mr. Wilner was married to a Pendleton girl, and until this time it is not generally known who the lady is, in fact, that he was married at all. His bride was Miss Bell Murphy, the daughter of Mrs. Mary Murphy, and a sister of Mrs. Darr Phelps. Mr. Wilner claims that it is now too late in the day for him to buy cigars, but undoubtedly his friends will think otherwise.

Takes Special Examination. Miss Amelia Dobson, of Athena, is taking a special examination at the office of the county superintendent of schools this afternoon for a temporary certificate allowing her to teach in the public schools of the county until the time of the next regular examination. Miss Dobson was not able to be present at the time of the last examination and is preparing to teach by taking this examination.

The firm had one of the machines at Moro and Mr. Clove went there to see how it had been during the harvest. He found that the work was satisfactory and while in the county took contracts to furnish five of the farmers of that county with machines before the coming harvest.

Watermelons Very Plentiful. Sam Lynde, of Milton, is in the city today with a wagonload of watermelons, for which he finds a ready market. Mr. Lynde raised 12 acres this year and says the crop is excellent, both in quantity and quality. The soil and climate at Milton and Freewater are peculiarly adapted to the growth of sweet, well flavored melons of large size.

To Attend Pendleton School. James Williams, of the Cold Springs country, has moved into the city with his family, and will send his children to the public schools here this year. Mr. Williams will reside in the house formerly occupied by E. K. Lyons, which has been moved onto a lot near the power house on Thompson street.

RANS HURT WHEAT

HAS INJURED STANDING GRAIN FOR MARKET USES.

There Are Large Quantities Near the Mountains That Has Not Been Cut—Will Have to Be Used for Feed—Farmers Are Rapidly Hauling Sacks to Warehouses—Export Prices.

The rains that have come over the country during the last part of the week have made a big difference in the value of the wheat that is yet in the fields. Throughout the country there is much wheat yet standing that one man would want to lose. It is reported that Purl Bowman, of this city, has 400 acres in one field that has not been cut. The Laing and Hartnett have four or five days' combine work yet to do. This is all in the close vicinity of Pendleton, and the farmers get a better price for larger quantities of it than has not been cut. However, not a great loss will result for if there is a little dry weather the standing grain will be useless for feed and the only use will be no great marketable value it will be good for use.

The price at the mills is about the same as it has been for some time, ranging from 69 to 70 cents for the common run of the crop, while for the best quality of hestmost as high as 75 cents. The price of the grain at the high prices, at least from the Chinese trade, for the price of flour is pretty high for them at 70 cents a bushel for the wheat. There is a good deal of speculation among the buyers and the growers alike as to what altitude the market will reach in the future. If it rises at all, some of those who are handling grain and seem to know something of the conditions that govern the market, think that it is at a point to rise, but it will not change to any great extent during the rest of the season.

Corn Damaged by Frost. The reported extensive frosts in the corn belts of the Middle East, which have been reported for some time here, who say that if the corn is damaged by the frost it will have a tendency to raise the price of Western corn and that the wheat will be hurt to some extent. It is claimed that the corn is too far along to be hurt to a great extent and that if the grain was damaged the feed quality would be better. The price of the corn is expected to rise to the extent of raising the prices of the crops of this part of the country.

Farmers Will Hold. But whatever the outcome of the market, many of the wheat raisers of the county are holding their grain for a raise in price and will either lose or make in the coming winter. If the price does rise it will have to come from the growers to cover the cost of insurance and storage and winter hauling, before there will be a profit in the tardy selling.

PACKING FRUIT EXHIBITS. Hood River Expert Preparing Umatilla County Fruit for Shipment.

C. H. Castner, of Hood River, is in the city today preparing the Umatilla county fruit exhibit for shipment to the Ogdin Irrigation Congress.

Mr. Castner was sent here for this purpose by the industrial department of the O. R. & N., at the request of Pendleton citizens. He is an expert fruit man and has selected nothing but the best percent of apples for the exhibit. The fruit is now packed and will be shipped by express to Ogdin, where it will be placed on exhibition to the general public by the Umatilla county delegation.

The exhibit consists of winter apples, pears, silver pears, German prunes and peaches, and while it is not as large as it should be, it is made up of elegant specimens. The fruit in the exhibit prepared here, comes from Echo and Milton.

Extending Creamery Limits. The Union creamery this week established a skimming station at Medical Springs, 20 miles east of here, thus adding the milk of about 100 cows to the creamery. The residents of Medical Springs offer substantial encouragement to this enterprise, having agreed to take the butter, furnish fuel and deliver the cream to Union—Union Republican.

Nine Cars of Fruit. Friday The Dalles Fruitgrowers' Union finished loading the ninth car of fruit for shipment East this season. Besides the carload shipments, the union has shipped a large quantity of fruit by express. Mr. Weber, manager of the union, expects to ship two more full cars this season.—Times-Courier.

Who Can Beat This Record? John McPhail finished up threshing Saturday. He made a run of 27½ days and threshed over 34,000 sacks, making an average of 1,250 sacks per day, including all time lost in moving. In one day the machine was moved and set eight times and threshed 1,150 sacks. Next—Adams Advance.

AMERICAN HARE PACKING COMPANY TRIES EXPERIMENT

Will Probably Place 200 Bees in Cold Storage in This City if the Plan is Successful—Cannery at Echo Will Start Immediately—One Thousand Fruit Cans Received.

H. C. Willis and C. H. Bartholomew, of the Echo Cold Storage and American Hare Packing Company, are in the city today for the purpose of making arrangements with the Ross Ice & Cold Storage Company, in regard to the storage of the products of the hare cannery, in this city.

The gentlemen placed two beehives in storage today, the first parties outside of local butchers and dealers to patronize the cold storage in this manner, and if space can be secured and the experiment of marketing cold storage meat by the cannery people, proves successful, arrangements will be made immediately for the storage of at least 50 head of beef and a large number of sheep.

Mr. Bartholomew has about 200 head of which he will be a successful butcher and store, if the plan proves successful, and will have them ready for the winter market, while his supply of hay now on hand will be fed to calves and feeders for next year's output.

It is the intention of the cannery company to keep a large amount of meat on hand in this city, ready to fill its orders on short notice and thus save charges of the commission man and the freight charges on the live animals.

It only requires about 25 live animals to make a carload, while a 30-ton refrigerator car will hold about 100 dressed animals. This method of handling the beef output will enable the stockmen interested in the concern to handle more stuff each year, while the farmer will be able to range, while it is in prime condition, and the supply of hay used in feeding more calves for next season's supply.

The cannery company has leased extensive grounds near the cannery building for slaughter houses and corrals, and will begin operations as soon as the engine is installed. A shipment of 1,000 fruit cans was received yesterday by the company and this number will be filled immediately. The cans are of the best quality and probably as many more ordered before the fruit season is over.

HOME INDUSTRY. Rigby-Clove Company Expects to Turn Out 15 Machines This Season.

The Rigby-Clove Combine has given great satisfaction in Sherman county, where one was placed at the beginning of this season. The result of the work done, the firm of Moore Brothers & Ginn, of Moro, has asked for the agency for the coming season, and have agreed to take five of the machines, which will supply the farmers of that section in the harvest to come.

It is the intention of the foundry to turn out about 15 machines between now and the time of the next harvest. If as much interest is shown as has been in the past it is possible that the number will be increased.

After a few oversights on the part of the men who put the machines together, the work has been corrected, there was no difficulty experienced in their operation and it is thought by the builders that all of the combines now in the field during the coming year will work well from the time the horses are first hitched to them.

USING OLD HEATERS. Steam Heating Plant at the Court-house Will Soon Be Completed.

The heaters for the remodeled steam heating system of the courthouse are being overhauled and made ready to put into place. The heaters are the same that have been in the houses in the past. They will be renovated and differently connected. In the past the feed pipes that conveyed the steam to the heaters were hung on the walls. They are now employed in attaching larger pipes. In a short time the pipes will be connected throughout the building.

Dam Washed Away. La Grande, Sept. 11.—The sugar factory's dam, about a mile beyond the Electric Light Company's power house, a mile west of here, washed out about 3:30 o'clock last night. The water came down the river in great torrents, which leads to the supposition that a large quantity of water had been turned loose at Perry or some point above.
