

BABY'S ECZEMA

Top of Head Covered with Scales
Which Pealed off Taking Hair with Them.

CURED BY CUTICURA

Now Six Years Old with Thick
Hair and Clean Scalp.
Cure Permanent.

"My baby was about six weeks old when the top of her head became covered with thick scales, which would peel and come off, taking the hair with them. It would soon form again and be as bad as before. I tried several things and then went to the doctor. He said it was eczema, and prescribed ointment, which did not do any good. A friend spoke of Cuticura Soap. I tried it and read on the wrapper that Cuticura Ointment was a remedy for eczema. I bought a box and washed her head in warm water and Cuticura Soap and gently combed the scales off. They did not come back and her hair grew out fine and thick. She is now a year and a half old and has no trace of eczema."
—MRS. C. W. BURGESS, Irwin Ave., Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 21, 1898.

Mrs. Burgess writes Feb. 28, 1903: "My baby who had eczema very badly on her head, as I told you before, after using the Cuticura Remedies was cured. She is now six years old and has thick hair and a clean scalp."
Instant relief and refreshing sleep for skin-tortured babies and rest for tired, worried mothers in warm baths with Cuticura Soap, and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, purest of emollients and greatest of skin cures, to be followed in severe cases by mild doses of Cuticura Resolvent. This is the purest, sweetest, most specific, permanent and economical treatment for torturing, disgusting, itching, burning, bleeding, scaly, crusted and pimply skin and scalp humors, with loss of hair of infants and children, as well as adults, and is sure to succeed when all other remedies and the best physicians fail.

SHEEP PROMISING

PASTURAGE IS BETTER THAN USUAL IN JANUARY.

Sheep Are Fat and Growing Fine
Fleeces—Plenty of Dry Feed in the Country, and a Heavy Snow Would Have Its Advantages—Sheep Market is Dull Because of High Local Values.

James Hackett, the sheepman, has returned from a visit to his sheep on Spear's canon, and is very much pleased with the appearance of things not only among his own sheep, but among those along the road to and from his holdings.

Judging from what he has seen of his own and other sheep, and from what he has heard from those coming from different sections of the county, the sheep of Umatilla are in better condition this year than they were at the same season of last year. All of the flocks are fat and in good condition, and the wool is heavy and growing fast. The ewes are giving promise of yielding a good increase this year, as taken although the situation is decidedly encouraging to the sheepman.

Good Pasture.

The pasture is good, the grass being strong and plenty provided. Owing to the favorable weather that has been in evidence during part of the winter that has past, there is more grass than usual in the country, and the sheep are taking advantage of the abundance to put themselves in as good condition as the grower could wish.

The crisis in the sheep situation is now practically past, for the pasture has been so good that the growers have not been compelled to feed a wisp of their hay throughout this county, and now it is so late in the season that if there was a long and hard snow to come, the sheep would benefit to the growers rather than the reverse, because it would rest the pasture and compel the men to feed while the ranges could rest, and the grass would grow under the snow so that when the warm weather came and uncovered the grass it would have such a start and good condition that there would be no question as to the outcome of the season.

Plenty of Hay.

There is plenty of hay in the country, and it is already provided by the sheepman and is here to use, so that if the snow was to come and the sheep had to feed it would work no loss, as a start in the future condition of the ranges. For this reason it is thought by all of the growers that a snow would be beneficial, and that the time is too far towards the spring for damage to be done by even a hard spell of weather at this time.

The sheep market is as good as dead at this time as far as the growers selling is concerned, for they have no incentive to sell at this time of the year. All their feed has been sold for and the wool on the sheep is growing fast. In fact, it is in better condition now than it was last year at this time, and they have nothing to do but to wait for the shearing season, now 90 days away, before they will begin to realize on their winter's investment. There are a few buyers through the country, but they are having a hard time to furnish mutton to the market of the city. They cannot afford to pay enough to the growers to overcome the estimated value of the fleeces and make a profit on their mutton. For these reasons there is little doing in the sheep business outside of the simple matter of herding and feeding until the time comes for the harvest of the spring and early summer's wool crop.

Promising Wool Outlook.

The wool outlook is brighter now than it has been for years, for there is a better range than at this time, the grass is stronger and there is more of it, so that the sheep have had more nourishment and as a consequence the fleeces are extra heavy and growing fast. If the present conditions keep up the coming clip will be the heaviest one in several years, at least that is the opinion of the men who own the sheep and handle them. Everything is brighter in outlook, grass, weather conditions, increase in price than at a year ago, and the sheepmen are correspondingly jubilant.

THE "CHINOOK BELT."

Strip of Country in Umatilla County Especially Favored.

One of the most remarkable features connected with the natural formation of Umatilla county is what is recognized by every old-timer as the "chinook belt," of the Pilot Rock district.

No matter how much snow may fall in the vicinity of Pendleton, and the surrounding hills, on the Tutuilla, Wild Horse and north of the city, there is a strip of country 15 miles south of this city that enjoys a warm current of air, which either prevents a heavy fall of snow when other portions of the country get it, or melts the snowfall away immediately, so that strip of country is bare most of the year, although snow in great quantities may be seen all around it.

There seems to be a gap through the Blue mountains which permits or attracts a chinook wind, every winter which keeps the foothills bare all times. Settlers on 15 miles south of Pendleton say that the recent snowfall which amounted to eight inches in this city and the surrounding country, amounted to but three and four inches in that chinook belt, and that lasted but a day or two, when the bare hills began to show through the snow.

Farmers and stockmen who have lived in that vicinity for years, say it is a regular occurrence, and not an occasional freak of the weather. It is an actual fact that there is a belt of country, from five to eight miles wide, about 15 miles south of Pendleton which extends east and west across the county from the foot of the Blue mountains, which seems to be visited regularly with warm winds which uncover the foothills earlier in the spring and keep them uncovered later in the fall, than any adjacent territory.

WHEAT PROSPECTS GOOD.

Snow That is Now Lying on the Ground Just What is Needed for Large Crops.

The prospects for a bumper crop of wheat in Umatilla county next year are now excellent. The growing crops were in excellent condition before this snow came to cover them over and soak slowly into the ground. Farmers from every portion of the county are elated over the prospects, saying almost unanimously that the promise for a large crop next year is better than for 10 years. While the dry weather in the

The new council has shown its hand in the gambling question. In pursuance with the policy adopted at one of the secret meetings held last week and the week before, the marshal has begun to round up some of the men who have a fondness for the card table, and as a result of his visits Frank O'Hara, William G. Bogert, Charles Morrison, W. H. George, C. Cook, Tom Johnson, and A. Stephens were arrested for gambling contrary to the ordinances of the city, and were brought before the court where their bail was fixed at $150 each. All of the men put up their money, and when their cases were called, they all pleaded guilty. Lester Swaggart was arraigned on two charges and paid $300 as bail, which he also forfeited.

As a result of the transaction the city treasury is $1,350 better off this afternoon than it was this morning. It appears that it is the policy of the present administration to fine the gamblers—whether monthly, or at longer periods is not plain, but judging from the amount of the fines, or the bail fixed, which is in effect a fine, the incidents will be at longer intervals.

District Attorney Healy, who has been threatening to reopen his campaign against the gamblers for some time, has stated that he will also, as an officer of the state, file an information against each man arrested by the city for gambling and prosecute him for the violation of the state law.

AN ANNUAL REPORT

THE COUNTY CLERK HAS HIS READY TO BE MADE

The County Debt is Being Rapidly and Systematically Reduced and it is Expected That Six Years More Only Will Be Required to Liquidate the Entire Debt—Another Warrant Call About May 1, 1904.

Deputy County Clerk B. H. Hall has prepared the annual report of the clerk's office for presentation to the county court, and from it will be seen that the county is in a good condition financially, and is in fact now a better condition than it has been for some time.

At the present time the county has a debt of $53,416.40, which is the smallest amount that the county has ever had for years. In about the year 1899 the county went behind about $100,000 in its finances, but since that time it has been slowly climbing up till now it is in a good condition and at the rate which it has been following for the last few years the debt will be wiped out inside of the next six years.

To show the rate at which the county has been paying out it is only necessary to show the balance left in the reports for some years back.

On the first of January, 1901, the debt was $135,975.87. On the first of the same month in 1902 the debt had decreased to $119,752.33. One year ago, on January 1, 1903, the debt was $103,598.54, which shows that it has been decreased in the last year by the present administration by $36,282.14.

The county treasurer has called the warrants up to July 1, 1902, and will not make another call until the next tax day in the spring. Then it is probable that he will call near the first of May, and if the taxes have been coming in well he will be able to bring the warrants up within at least 15 months of the time of the call. There are now $157,922.25 out in warrants against the county.

The tabulated report of the clerk is as follows:

Resources.
Coyote bounty	$ 2,570.64
Tax redemption of city	4,119.32
Cash in treasury	13,256.74
Tax account	4,534.78

UNION'S MONSTER HOGS.

Two "Shoats" Weighing 870 and 780 Pounds Brought to La Grande.

Hon. J. McAllister and J. W. Spenceras brought their large hogs to town yesterday and had them weighed on Brock & Thomas' scales to decide who was the champion hog raiser in Union county, the sheep of the Grande Observer.

Spencer's hog outweighed McAllister's by 90 pounds, his hog weighing 870 pounds and McAllister's 780 pounds.

McAllister said Spencer's hog was the largest one he ever saw and it kept increasing in size as the scales went down.

Mr. McAllister still claims, however, to own the largest hog in the county, as he promptly purchased the champion from Mr. Spencer, paying 4 1/2 cents per pound.

At this price Mr. McAllister paid $33.15 for the privilege of owning the largest hog in Union county.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

Alleged That Stock Trespassed and Destroyed Property.

David Perria has filed suit in the circuit court against William Caldwell, asking that the court award the plaintiff $350 damages, together with his costs and disbursements for the alleged acts of the defendant in turning 400 head of cattle in on his pasture against his will.

The plaintiff alleges that the cattle destroyed all of his feed trampled the stubble and ate up and damaged the straw. He asks for costs and disbursements besides the amount of the damages asked for, together with the amount of the attorney's fees.

William Meterson are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

VISITING J. E. SMITH.

Colonel J. D. Wood of Salt Lake in the City Today.

Colonel J. D. Wood, one of the largest sheep owners in Idaho and Utah with headquarters at Salt Lake City, is in the city today visiting with J. E. Smith, whom he has known for many years.

Mr. Smith and Colonel Wood mined together in Salmon City in the early days and both having drifted into the sheep business, are mutually interested in that industry.

Colonel Wood is en route to Portland to attend the live stock convention and leaves for that place in the morning.

ECHO NOW A CITY

FINAL ACTION TAKEN
BY THE COUNTY COURT

Delay Caused by Investigation into the Remonstrance Which Had Been Filed—Next Thing in Order Will
Be an Election—Court Now Considering County Finances.

The county court has been busy all day in looking over the bills of the county and straightening out the financial questions of the month. There are a great many little bills to investigate and it will take most of the day tomorrow perhaps, to get through them.

The petition for the incorporation of Echo was given a final consideration at the meeting yesterday and passed. It was granted practically in the first place, but after the matter had been given a little consideration the counter petition from the remonstrants was received, and the matter was then put over for a time until the remonstrance could be looked into. This was done and it was decided that it bore not enough of weight to hinder the granting of the petition so the order has been made and from this on Echo will be classed among the cities of the state.

It will now be necessary for the citizens to gather together and elect their mayor and other city officers, when they will be in line with the other bustling burgs of the county.
