DITCH COMPANY

MODIFICATION OF FORMER

INJUNCTION IS ALLOWED. Ditch Company Can Take 3,000 Inches of Water From the Tum-a-lum, Carrying it Down the Channel of SCOURING MILLS WILL the Little Walla Walla to Ita Headgate-Residents Fear That Ditch Company Seeks to Establish Water Be Its Only Aim.

Yesterday evening Judge Ellis alwed a motion for a modification of the injunction granted by him some time ago, restraining the Milton, Freewater and Hudson Bay Ditch waters of the Little Walla Walla or time. the Tum-a-lum rivers into its ditch Modified Injunction. The injunction prevented the ditch ompany from diverting any water the new clip there will be but one or Taylor, C. C. Whiteman, rom either stream, and the modia two men around the big building, he ditch company, inasmuch as it repairs. ermits them to divert 3,000 inches om the Tum-a-lum, this amount to of the Milton, Freewater & Hudson Chicago on the 18th of this morth Bay ditch, one and a half miles be. The wool wil go to the Eastern mills

The ditch company claims 6,00 inches of water for its ditch, this amount to be taken equally from the two streams. The residents along the Little Walla Walla began suit to restrain them from using any water rom that stream and got an injunction forbidding the company from tapping the river, as the total amount of water in the stream was already

The ditch company claims that here are 30,000 inches of water in about 9,000 inches that originally onters the Little Walla Walla to revert back into the Tum-a-lum, above the head of the Hudson Bay ditch.

This modified injunction grants the request of the ditch company, temporarily, as far as the Tum-a-lum is concerned, but as there is a comdication of the water rights on the entrance of two mill races from Milton, into this stream, above the head of the Hudson Bay ditch, the ax for school purposes. case seems still to be far from set-

In reality, the Hudson Bay ditch ompany only desires water for winter flooding at a time when water in expect no water in the summer season. The residents on the stream 'ear the company is seeking to estab-'ish water rights by securing undis-puted use of water for a period of ears and it is quite likely the matter will be settled out of court.
